Cultural Studies of Rights John Nguyet Erni, 2014-06-11 At a time of global uncertainties and erosion of liberties how will cultural studies clear a space for a parallel intellectual and political engagement with human rights practice How will human rights thinking be liberated from its doctrinal approach to ethics and legal justice This book forges an alliance between cultural studies and human rights scholarships to help us better understand the changing and complex political context that continuously shapes contemporary violence To date interdisciplinary dialogue or institutional collaboration remains rare across the two domains resulting in critical interpretive work appearing too vacuous at times and institutional legal work often trapped in doctrinalism By opening a door for a new and engaging scholarship this book will re ignite debates and passions within communication and critical cultural studies in the search for global justice This book was originally published as a special issue of Communication and Critical Cultural Studies Faulkner and Film Peter Lurie, Ann J. Abadie, 2014-09-18

Considering that he worked a stint as a screenwriter it will come as little surprise that Faulkner has often been called the most cinematic of novelists Faulkner's novels were produced in the same high period as the films of classic Hollywood a reason itself for considering his work alongside this dominant form Beyond their era though Faulkner's novels or the ways in which they ask readers to see as well as feel his world have much in common with film That Faulkner was aware of film and that his novels own thinking betrays his profound sense of the medium and its effects broadens the contexts in which he can be considered In a range of approaches the contributors consider Faulkner's career as a scenarist and collaborator in Hollywood the ways his screenplay work and the adaptations of his fiction informed his literary writing and how Faulkner's craft anticipates intersects with or reflects upon changes in cultural history across the lifespan of cinema Drawing on film history critical theory archival studies of Faulkner's screenplays and scholarship about his work in Hollywood the nine essays show a keen awareness of literary modernism and its relation to film Religion and the Marketplace in the United States Jan Stievermann, Philip Goff, Detlef Junker, 2015-02-12 Alexis de Tocqueville once described the national character of Americans as one question insistently asked How much money will it bring in G K Chesterton a century later described America as a nation with a soul of a church At first glance the two observations might appear to be diametrically opposed but this volume shows the ways in which American religion and American business overlap and interact with one another defining the US in terms of religion and religion in terms of economics Bringing together original contributions by leading experts and rising scholars from both America and Europe the volume pushes this field of study forward by examining the ways religions and markets in relationship can provide powerful insights and open unseen aspects into both In essays ranging from colonial American mercantilism to modern megachurches from literary markets to popular festivals the authors explore how religious behavior is shaped by commerce and how commercial practices are informed by religion By focusing on what historians often use off handedly as a metaphor or analogy the volume offers new insights into three varieties of relationships religion and the marketplace religion in the marketplace and religion as the marketplace Using these categories the contributors test the assumptions scholars have come to hold and offer deeper insights into religion and the marketplace in America Republic of Readers? Simon Stow, 2012-02-01 2007 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title What is the proper role for literature in political thought and analysis Can reading novels make us better citizens of a liberal democratic society What is the status of argument and reason in an academy dominated by readings and redescriptions Simon Stow identifies a potentially detrimental literary turn in the contemporary academy arguing that the study of literature and the study of politics have become somewhat indistinguishable enterprises Drawing on the work of Judith Butler Terry Eagleton Martha Nussbaum and Richard Rorty he examines the problematic claims circular reasoning and misplaced assumptions that underpin this disciplinary merging and seeks to defend political philosophy and social science against the rival claims of literature and literary criticism as sources of political insight and construction
