Eternity Now Wojciech Tworek, 2019-07-15 The Habad movement formed in eighteenth century Belarus has developed into one of the most influential streams of Hasidic Judaism Drawing on both mystical sermons and legal writings of its founder Rabbi Shneur Zalman of Liady 1745 1812 Eternity Now provides the first account of the historiosophical dimensions of early Habad doctrine Challenging the commonly held view that Shneur Zalman was primarily concerned with supratemporal transcendence Wojciech Tworek reveals the importance of time and history in his teachings Tworek argues that the worldly dimensions of Shneur Zalman s thought were largely responsible for the rapid growth of

Habad at the turn of the nineteenth century and fostered its transformation from an elitist circle into a mass movement Tworek s readings of Hebrew and Yiddish sources demonstrate the implications of these ideas not only for male scholars but also for non scholars Jewish women and even non Jews Philosophical and kabbalistic thought joined together to form a model of religious experience attractive to a broad audience laying an ideological foundation for the missionary messianism that was to become a hallmark of Habad in the twentieth century appropriate behavior for major life events Sautter considers the religious values that are in music and dance performed by tanyaderas and examines them in conjunction with written and visual records and evidence from dance and music traditions Explaining the symbolic gestures and motions encoded in dances Sautter shows how rituals display deeply held values that are best expressed through the body The book argues that the activities of women in other religions might also be examined for their embodiment and display of important values bringing forgotten groups of women back into the historical record as important community leaders examining a range of issues such as methods of analysing and interpreting Persian Turkish and Arabic literature literary and other attributes of the Bible and the Qur'an diglossic languages the Turkish modernisation project Turkish Kurdish tensions Andalusian music Azerbaijani politics and the Israeli Palestinian conflict By underlining the substantial commonalities that exist between such seemingly different fields of research the book highlights the idea increasingly on the wane in departments of Middle Eastern Studies across many universities that a shared area of study viz the Middle East naturally and inherently entails a shared cultural historical and sociological milieu It suggests that academics who engage in different branches of research related to this area should rather than focussing singly on their own field avail substantially and meaningfully of one another's scholarship learn from each other's methodologies and collectively build upon a body of knowledge that should never be seen as dissociated
