Teach Yourself Palaeography Claire

Jarvis,2022-09-29 This is the very first teach yourself book on palaeography covering all the skills that the genealogist needs to read any document that might be found at any date in English archives Using a series of graded exercises in transcription Teach Yourself Palaeography works backwards in time in easy stages from the modern handwriting of the nineteenth century to the court hands of the medieval period focusing on records that are of particular interest to family and local historians The book provides a unique self contained reference guide to palaeography and to all the different letter forms symbols and abbreviations that have ever been used in English records

Second Stages in Researching Welsh Ancestry

John Rowlands,Sheila Rowlands,1999 Anyone who has had any success in researching their Welsh ancestry will know that a grasp of specialized Welsh genealogical methods and sources is only one of several factors that contributed to that success They will know for example how important it is in Welsh research to have some understanding of the social cultural religious and economic background of the communities in which those ancestors lived This book attempts to broaden that understanding especially for the period prior to 1800 when most researchers begin to experience difficulties In addition it aims to make readers more aware of some little known sources and the special uses that may be applied to the information found in these sources

Image to Interpretation Melissa Terras,2006-10-19 The ink and stylus tablets discovered at the Roman fort of Vindolanda are a unique resource for scholars of ancient history However the stylus tablets in particular are extremely difficult to read This book details the development of what appears to be the first system constructed to aid experts in the process of reading an ancient document exploring the extent to which techniques from Artificial Intelligence can be used to develop a system that could aid historians in reading the stylus texts Image to Interpretation includes a model of how experts read ancient texts a corpora of letter forms from the Vindolanda text corpus and a detailed description of the architecture of the system It will be of interest to papyrologists researchers in Roman history and palaeography computer and engineering scientists working in the field of Artificial Intelligence and image processing and those interested in the use of computing in the humanities
