Reclaiming Democratic Education Christopher D. Thomas,2022 Since the spring of 2018 hundreds of thousands of students teachers and their allies have protested at or against their schools These students and teachers have been protesting on a wide range of issues from gun control and climate change to the underfunding of education and institutional responses to the COVID 19 pandemic In Reclaiming Democratic Education Chris Thomas examines how these activities exist at the intersection of two conflicting traditions The book looks at a history of student and teacher activism that aligns with the democratic purposes of public education This history is now colliding with current policies that privilege the economic aims of education and restrict civic agency By situating contemporary activism within these conflicting traditions Thomas demonstrates how these activities constitute a rejection of the currently dominant policy paradigm in U S education Thomas concludes with a discussion of how activism provides a foundation from which concerned teachers school leaders and policymakers can develop a new model for American education one that reclaims an education for citizenship Book Features Traces the interconnected histories of student and teacher activism from the Revolutionary Period through the Common School Movement and the decade of protests in the 1960s to today Demonstrates how education policy positions teachers as the passive recipients of policy who are often expected to sacrifice their own wellbeing for that of their students Provides a roadmap of policy shifts that would disrupt the currently dominant paradigm in American education and realize an Education for Citizenship paradigm Changing Notions of Citizenship Education in Contemporary

Nation-states ,2007-01-01 This book offers an examination into the meanings of citizenship in the contemporary world and trends that are forcing a rethinking of the concept in today s nation states These changing meanings in turn give rise to new understandings of and approaches to citizenship education The underlying values of participation deliberation and loyalty or patriotism that define different notions of citizenship are under strain in a world increasingly defined by global processes by the rise of transnational or supranational institutions and by interconnections that bring different cultures and value systems into closer contact with each other What does this new citizen look like What does this new citizen need to know or need to be able to do To whom and to what is this new citizen loyal One way to think about this new citizen is as a cosmopolitan a citizen of the world more than of any particular nation state another way to think about it is in terms of different kinds or levels of affiliation existing simultaneously to nation and to regional alliance such as the European Union for example These conditions of citizenship and of citizenship education are rapidly changing and diverse and in some instances they come into conflict This collection of essays an outstanding international group of scholars examines the tensions between national transnational and postnational conceptions of citizenship brought back always to the grounded question of citizenship education and how to go about it The authors illuminate the complexity and subtlety of these issues and offer helpful guidance for rethinking the meanings and values that inform our educational endeavours Transforming Nursing

Doing Educational Research, 2015-01-01 In the second edition of Doing Educational Research we explore a variety of critical issues and methodologies. Authors include some of the most influential voices selected from across the spectrum of career disciplines. The scholars provide detailed insights into dimensions of the research process that engage both students and experienced researchers with key concepts and recent innovations in the art of doing research. The contributors adopt a stance that is practical as it introduces beginning scholars to social inquiry and innovative as it transforms the boundaries of conversations about educational research. Doing Educational Research appears at a critical moment in which educational researchers are pushed to align with a pervasive scientism that embraces tenets of crypto-positivism. The book addresses logics of inquiry underpinning cutting edge approaches to educational research that extend far beyond limited visions that are presented through the lenses of positivism. The chapters explore a variety of methodologies including action research, bricolage, ethnography, hermeneutics, historiography, media based research, psychoanalysis, and conversation analysis in a matrix of social theory, authentic inquiry, critical pedagogy, and differences in epistemology, ontology, and axiology. A diverse array of complex topics are presented in accessible forms and will compel both scholars and students.
