Dictionary of Concepts in Cultural Anthropology Robert H. Winthrop, 1991-11-18 The field of cultural anthropology describes and interprets the thought and behavior of contemporary and near-contemporary societies. Inherently pluralistic, it offers a framework in which the distinctive perspectives of each cultural world can be appreciated. Robert Winthrop's dictionary describes the major concepts that have shaped the discipline both historically and theoretically. It sets modern anthropology in its proper context within the broader intellectual tradition. Eighty entries review the key concepts: culture, race, nature, symbolism, adaptation, the primitive, etc., that have established the fundamental problems and issues guided research and served as the focus for debate in key areas of the discipline. The entries, which range from 2,000 to 6,000 words in length, are both thorough in treatment and contemporary in relevance. Some entries are primarily of historical significance, while others describe recent developments. Each entry contains an annotated bibliography and a guide to additional reading on the subject. While this is not primarily a technical lexicon, many terms have been glossed and explained. Designed to be useful to students of anthropology this dictionary will assist those in other disciplines to find their way through the anthropological labyrinth      Readings in cross-cultural methodology New Haven, [Conn.], HRAF Press Frank William Moore,      The Sage Encyclopedia of Mood and Anxiety Disorders Dara G. Comparative Methods in the Social Sciences Neil J. Smelser,2013-02-28 Even after teaching generations of social scientists Neil Smelser s classic book remains the most definitive statement of methodological issues for all comparative scholars and in political science anthropology sociology economics and psychology Such issues are timeless and therefore Smelser s lucid analysis remains timely and relevant Smelser posits a methodological continuity between the comparative studies of past masters and the more recent flow of contemporary comparative work To that end he takes a pragmatic critical look at the classic studies of Alexis de Tocqueville Emile Durkheim and Max Weber His analyses respect the historical specifics and contexts of their work but at the same time raise general issues such as cross unit comparability empirical representation of theoretical concepts and measures and historical causality The book also deals with the ongoing flows of comparative study in the social sciences which while methodologically more self conscious than past work nevertheless face a common set of issues including causation and classification The book s unique clarity makes it particularly useful for working scholars as well as students fighting their way through the methodological thickets of comparative studies
