Rural Muslims In Transition:

Rural Muslims in Transition Sarfarazuddin Ahmad,1991 Sociological study of villages inhabited by Muslims with reference to Pinjrawan Gaya District Bihar Britain's rural Muslims Sarah Hackett,2020-06-06 Immigration has long been associated with the urban landscape from accounts of inner city racial tension and discrimination during the 1960s and 1970s and studies of minority communities of the 1980s and 1990s to the increased focus on cities amongst contemporary scholars of migration and diaspora Though cities have long provided the geographical frameworks within which a significant share of post war migration has taken place Sarah Hackett argues that that there has long existed a rural dimension to Muslim integration in Britain This book offers the first comprehensive study of Muslim migrant integration in rural Britain across the post 1960s period examining the previously unexplored relationship between Muslim integration and rurality by using the county of Wiltshire in the South West of England as a case study Drawing upon a range of archival material and oral histories it challenges the long held assumption that local authorities in more rural areas have been inactive and even disinterested in devising and implementing migration integration and diversity policies and sheds light on smaller and more dispersed Muslim communities that have traditionally been written out of Britain s immigration history Islam in Transition Jessica Jacobson,2006-08-21 Islam in Transition focuses on the ways in which Islamic religion still engenders powerful loyalties within what is now a predominantly secular society and how in their continual adherence to their religion many young British Pakistanis find a welcome sense of stability and permanence By presenting material collected in field work study and by using extensive quotations from interviews the author argues that in a world where concepts of identity are always being challenged traditional sources of authority and allegiance still survive Muslim Women in Transition H. Y. Siddiqui,1987 With reference to western Uttar Pradesh Rural Muslim Women Sekh Rahim Mondal,2005 Admittedly women s perspectives are not much reflected in the discourse and agenda development planning and interventions Due to lack of research there is tremendous scarcity of information about social condition of women among various Indian communities This book is solely devoted to examine the social situation of Muslim Women of India in general and the state of West Bengal in particular The situation of Muslim women of West Bengal specially of Northern region of this State has been described in details The present study seeks to explore Role and status of Muslim women as well as their problems and prospects Quality of Socio economic life of the Muslim women and the extent of changes that have occurred among them and Problems the Muslim women face towards their empowerment under contemporary changing world order The book also highlights some of the policy implications of major findings of the study With its original data and fresh theoretical perspective the book will serve the interest of social scientists policy makers and women activists Transitional Selves Marcus Bussey,Meera Chakravorty,Camila Mozzini-Alister,2023-05-30 This book engages with the ethics and practices of identity formation in a world experiencing identity stress It engages with crucial questions such as What models are shaping our view of ourselves and the society in which we live What images ground our perception of what is true and real How have the images been historically produced What are the effects of such models on definitions of self Should we break free from these images if we get to know what they are Is it possible to change our models in order to create freer identities Through a range of distinctive lenses the essays in the volume deals with the ideas of the liminal self the digital self identities in flux and offers up anthropologies of self selves that situates current identity processes within their cultures and explores strategies and dilemmas from this perspective This key volume will be of interest to scholars and researchers of literary studies critical theory social theory social anthropology philosophy and political philosophy

Geographies of Muslim Identities Peter Hopkins,2016-04-15 In recent years geographies of identities including those of ethnicity religion race and gender have formed an increasing focus of contemporary human geography The events of September 11th 2001 particularly illustrated the ways in which identities can be transformed across time and space by both global and local events of a social cultural political and economic nature Such transformations have also demonstrated the temporal and spatial construction of hate and fear and of increasing incidences of Islamophobia through the construction of Muslims as the Other As the social scientific study of religion continues to be marginalized within mainstream scholarship there remains an important gap in the literature This timely book addresses this gap by collecting a range of cutting edge contributions from the social cultural political historical and economic sub disciplines of geography together with writings from gender studies cultural studies and leisure studies where research has revealed a strong spatial dimension to the construction representation contestation and reworking of Muslim identities The contributors illustrate the ways in which such identities are constructed represented negotiated and contested in everyday life in a wide variety of international contexts focusing upon issues connected with diaspora gender and belonging

Indonesian Muslim Intellectuals of the 20th Century Howard M. Federspiel,2006-03-09 This study examines the Indonesian Muslim intellectuals of the twentieth century and their approaches in dealing with the problems that faced Indonesian Muslims at that time Like their intellectual ancestors in Islamic history these recent Indonesian intellectuals carefully examined the society in which they lived On one level they studied the original and historical teachings of Islam and attempted to fit that message to the Southeast Asian region On another level they reacted to the great waves of culture that arrived from Europe North America and Asia throughout the twentieth century They did all of this at a time when the Indonesian nation was forming itself beginning with the nationalist movements of the early part of the century when the Dutch controlled the archipelago and continuing into the last half of the century when Indonesia was an independent nation The International Halal SME Report Directory 2011/12 H Media,2011 Islam, Media and
