Rural Household Studies In Asia:

Rural Household Studies in Asia, 1980 Rural Household Studies in Asia Hans P. Binswanger, 1980 Conference report on rural area household studies in Asia outlines methodological and social and cultural anthropology perspectives of home economics such as nutrition diets of infants time budget work at home leisure child labour demographic aspects and family behaviour marriage and fertility etc Bibliography diagrams graphs and statistical tables Conference held in Singapore 1976 aug Labour in Southeast Asia Becky Elmhirst, Ratna Saptari, 2004-05-07 In seeking to provoke debate the book reveals the variety of experiences evident in countries and regions marked by capitalist and post socialist regulatory frameworks and contrasting labour regimes histories and cultures The contributions show the importance of critically examining both the complex nature of global local links and the particular ways economic processes are around the themes of labour regimes labour processes labour mobility and labour communities the essays show how economic development is not only shaped by market forces but is also interlocked in systems of meaning Women and Households in Indonesia Juliette Koning, Marleen Nolten, Janet Rodenburg, Ratna Saptari, 2013-11-19 Critically examines the usefulness of the household concept within the historically and culturally diverse context of Indonesia exploring in detail the position of women within and beyond domestic arrangements So far classical household and kinship studies have not studied how women deal with two major forces which shape and define their world local kinship traditions and the universalising ideology of the Indonesian regime which both provide prescriptions and prohibitions concerning family marriage and womanhood Women are caught between these conflicting notions and practices How they challenge or accommodate such forces is the main issue in this book Smallholders, Householders Robert McC. Netting, 1993 Contrasting the prevailing theories of the evolution of agriculture the author argues that the practice of smallholding is more efficient and less environmentally degrading than that of industrial agriculture which depends heavily on fossil fuel chemical fertilizers pesticides and herbicides He presents a convincing case for his argument with examples taken from Africa Asia Europe and the Americas and demonstrates that there are fundamental commonalities among smallholder cultures Smallholders Householders is a detailed and innovative analysis of the agricultural efficiency and conservation of resources practiced around the world by smallholders The End of the Peasantry in Southeast Asia R.E. Elson, 2016-01-13 This book analyses the changing context and conditions of production and livelihood amongst Southeast Asia's peasants since the beginning of the nineteenth century It argues that with demographic growth and the nineteenth century development of great global markets based on small scale production the size and economic significance of peasantries throughout the region was magnified However such changes brought with them new forces stronger states more regular legal systems a revolution in communications intensive commercialisation which themselves worked to undermine the foundations of peasant society and eventually to transform peasants into farmers workers and citizens International Journal of Afro-Asian Studies, 2011-02-11 The Malay World of Southeast Asia Patricia Lim Pui Huen, 1986 Over 5 000 entries arranged in four parts Part I comprises reference and general works to provide a guide to information on Southeast Asia Part II provides the setting of space and time Part III features the people and Part IV the many facets of culture and society language ideas beliefs values institutions creative expression and social and cultural change Within each section the arrangement is geographical beginning with Southeast Asia as a whole followed by the various countries in alphabetical order

Essays on Literature and Society in Southeast Asia Tham (Seong Chee), 1981 Environments of the Poor in Southeast Asia, East Asia and the Pacific Aris Ananta, 2014-11-11 This book provides examples of possible triple win solutions for simultaneously reducing poverty raising the quality of the environment and adapting to climate change The book provides empirical evidence and observations from sixteen case studies in Southeast and East Asia and from the Pacific It argues that a spatial approach focussing on the environments in which the poor and vulnerable live would trigger changes for development policies and implementation that better balance environmental and social concerns In line with the post 2015 Millennium Development Goals MDG and Sustainable Development Goals SDG agenda emphasizing integrated development approaches for the slum poor the upland poor the dryland poor the coastal poor and the flood affected wetland poor would also bring the environment and poverty agenda closer The book emerged from a cooperation of the Asian Development Bank ADB with the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies ISEAS in partnership with experts from research institutes and think tanks in the Asian region

A Home Divided, 1993-12 A challenge to economic theories that view the household as a harmonious unit with a single decision maker this book shows that in the Third World the household is an arena of conflict marked by inequality and negotiation over income and expenditures Dwyer and Bruce's introduction is followed by eleven field studies four in Asia four in Africa and the Middle East and three in the Caribbean and Central America These twelve essays by economists sociologists anthropologists and demographers provide a cogent analysis of household structure dynamics and women's bargaining context This book will be of interest not only to specialists in gender studies but also to ethnologists and other social scientists

Rice Research in Asia Robert Eugene Evenson, Robert W. Herdt, Mahabub Hossain, 1996 In order to achieve economic efficiency research organizations have established rigorous quantitative methods for priority setting One such organization the Rockefeller Foundation has drawn on this report to help determine the research goals it should emphasize in its funding A review of the problem of priority setting is presented followed by a discussion of approaches that have been used previously Several chapters demonstrate how a number of areas of plant science research have contributed to gains in rice productivity and also assess the current challenges of genetic improvement and pest control The economic framework for priority setting and previous methods are reviewed followed by a series of country case studies which provide more practical applications

Capital and Knowledge in Asia Heidi Dahles, Otto

van den Muijzenberg,2003-09-02 Global economic integration widening communication networks and government policies supportive of private enterprise are changing opportunities for accumulating wealth status and power In varying degrees throughout Asia this process is accompanied by the development of service enterprises such as banking insurance legal firms and IT firms which provide access to the resources required for a profitable connection to the wider world This book focuses on the key role played by producer services in shaping new business areas and new patterns for social mobility and their interdependence with the State as either a facilitator of or an obstacle to the emergence and flourishing of the new professions

Case Studies on Poverty Programmes in Asia Swapna Mukhopadhyay,1985 Work Behavior of the World's Poor Mohammed Sharif,2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2003 The working poor of the world are observed to engage in long hours in hard jobs and to work more if wages are further reduced Mainstream economics brushes off this tendency to increase labour supply as wages fall as perverse because it does not fit the conventional wisdom and tries to explain it as a result of subsistence mentality limited aspiration or target income behaviour of the poor This however ignores the observed fact that the poor work long hard hours but most of the time fail to meet their minimum needs of subsistence and live impoverished lives in absolute poverty deficient of both food and physical rest This book postulates that the observed behaviour is the result of economic distress the working poor suffer and analyses it as a rational behaviour using the conventional utility maximization framework and derives both theoretical and empirical results consistent with the observation This book aims to correct a serious misconception persisting in the literature relating to the working poor labour supply behaviour that is almost universally observed It also goes onto develop using the supply function a methodology to determine the standard of subsistence income and physical rest for the worker

Economic Reforms and Fertility Behaviour Weiguo Zhang,2013-12-19 Based on an intensive fieldwork in a southern Hebei village in northern China 1992 3 the author takes an institutional approach and focuses on the way deliberate Chinese state policies driven by new economic and social agendas since the late 1970s have impacted on marriage family relations and consequently on the way fertility trends have been adversely affected the study is also very much concerned with the human dimension and the way in which such social and economic changes are perceived and applied in a rural community The research presented in this study goes a long way to unravelling the puzzle concerning the reasons for a very rapid decline in Chinese fertility rates contrasting sharply with a very different fertility transition within western cultures

Women in Rice Farming International Rice Research Institute,1985 Income Growth and Gender Bias in Childhood Mortality in Developing Countries Mika Ueyama,2007

The Economics of Microfinance Beatriz Armendáriz,Jonathan Morduch,2007 An assessment of the microfinance revolution from an economics perspective that draws on lessons from academia and international practice to challenge conventional assumptions
