Diener, Joshua Hagen, 2022-09-02 This book critically challenges the usual territorial understanding of borders by examining the often messy internal transborder ambiguous and in between spaces that co exist with traditional borders By considering those less visible aspects of borders the book develops an inclusive understanding of how contemporary borders are structured and how they influence human identity mobility and belonging The introduction and conclusion provide theoretical and contextual framing while chapters explore topics of global labor and refugees unrecognized states ethnic networks cyberspace transboundary resource conflicts and indigenous and religious spaces that rarely register on conventional maps or commonplace understandings of territory In the end the volume demonstrates that despite being invisible on most maps these borders have a very real material and tangible presence and consequences for those people who live within alongside and across them Russia's Carnival Christoph Neidhart, 2003 This colorfully drawn and acutely observed book explores Russia by engaging all our senses Today's Russia smells different from the Soviet Union The country looks and sounds different its touch is different and its food tastes different Thus Christoph Neidhart argues Russia is truly a changed country from the Soviet Union it was little more than a decade ago Russian society is rapidly urbanizing and modernizing as can be perceived by all senses including the awareness of space and the conception of time After almost a century space can be privately owned and freely traded time too has become commodified New role models and new ways to express social status are emerging Russia has become a monetized economy as the old Soviet practice of provision by networking has grown obsolete Russia thus readies itself gradually to grow into a Western style middle class society with a free market and democratic polity The author assesses these rapid changes using the evocative metaphor of the carnival to understand the chaotic inversion of the Communist structure of society He explores the transition's traps and shortcomings such as the privatization of politics and the looting of the state's assets and compares this process to the modernization Western society underwent a century earlier Environmental Change and Security Project Report, 1996 Russia Christopher J. Searching for Cioran

Ilinca Zarifopol-Johnston,2009-01-07 Ilinca Zarifopol Johnston s critical biography of the Romanian born French philosopher E M Cioran focuses on his crucial formative years as a mystical revolutionary attracted to right wing nationalist politics in interwar Romania his writings of this period and his self imposed exile to France in 1937 This move led to his transformation into one of the most famous French moralists of the 20th century As an enthusiast of the anti rationalist philosophies widely popular in Europe during the first decades of the 20th century Cioran became an advocate of the fascistic Iron Guard In her quest to understand how Cioran and other brilliant young intellectuals could have been attracted to such passionate national revival movements Zarifopol Johnston herself a Romanian emigr sought out the aging philosopher in Paris in the early 1990s and retraced his steps from his home village of Rasinari and youthful years in Sibiu through his student years in Bucharest and Berlin to his early residence in France Her portrait of Cioran is complemented by an engaging autobiographical account of her rediscovery of her own Romanian past

Japan's Border Issues

Akihiro Iwashita,2015-10-30 Japan was sometimes described as a country of peace during the Cold War period in contrast to the continental border conflicts taking place at the time such as the China Soviet rivalry. However, as the maritime frontier was rediscovered and defined by the regional powers and legal refinements of the 1970s, the process of states seeking a secure maritime zone has accelerated and maritime rivalries have become as intense as inland rivalries. This book examines the territorial disputes souring relations between Japan and its three neighbours: Russia, South Korea, and China. It combines an empirical study with theoretical advancements in comparative research to understand the Cold War and post Cold War border issues related to Japan, particularly the Northern Territories, South Kurils dispute with Russia, Takeshima/Dokdo with Korea, and Senkaku/Diaoyu with China and Taiwan. Based on the history of negotiations with the Soviet Union and Russia over the course of fifty years, the study offers a series of practical suggestions to enable these disputes to be separated from arguments over their history and resolved on the basis of the principle of mutual advantage for those affected by them. This book provides not only the key to resolving these three disputes affecting East Asia but the framework in which to seek the resolution of other territorial issues worldwide. Explaining the history and possible outcomes of Japan's territorial disputes with Russia, South Korea, and China whilst providing concrete steps for resolving entrenched territorial disputes, this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of International Relations, Japanese Politics, and International Law.
