Encounters of Mind Douglas L. Berger, 2015-02-23 Discusses the journey of Buddhist ideas on awareness and personhood from India to China Encounters of Mind explores a crucial step in the philosophical journey of Buddhism from India to China and what influence this step once taken had on Chinese thought in a broader scope The relationship of concepts of mind or awareness to the constitution of personhood in Chinese traditions of reflection was to change profoundly after the Cognition School of Buddhism made its way to China during the sixth century India s Buddhist philosophers had formulated the idea that in order for human beings to achieve perfect enlightenment they had to produce a state of awareness through practice that they described as luminous However once introduced to the Chinese tradition the concept of the luminous mind was to become a condition already found within human nature for the possibility of achieving human ideals This notion of the luminous mind was to have far reaching significance both for Chinese Buddhism and for medieval Confucianism Douglas L Berger follows the transforming path of conceptions of the luminosity of consciousness and the perfectibility of personhood in order to bring into clearer relief the history of Indian and Chinese philosophical dialogue as well as in the hope that such dialogue will be reignited

Dakini's Warm Breath Judith Simmer-Brown, 2002-12-10 A fresh interpretation of the dakini a Tibetan Buddhist symbol of the feminine that will appeal to practitioners interested in goddess worship female spirituality and Tantric Buddhism The primary emblem of the feminine in Tibetan Buddhism is the dakini or sky dancer a semi wrathful spirit woman who manifests in visions dreams and meditation experiences Western scholars and interpreters of the dakini influenced by Jungian psychology and feminist goddess theology have shaped a contemporary critique of Tibetan Buddhism in which the dakini is seen as a psychological shadow a feminine savior or an objectified product of patriarchal fantasy According to Judith Simmer Brown who writes from the point of view of an experienced practitioner of Tibetan Buddhism such interpretations are inadequate In the spiritual journey of the meditator Simmer Brown demonstrates the dakini symbolizes levels of personal realization the sacredness of the body both female and male the profound meeting point of body and mind in meditation the visionary realm of ritual practice and the empty spacious qualities of mind itself When the meditator encounters the dakini living spiritual experience is activated in a nonconceptual manner by her direct gaze her radiant body and her compassionate revelation of reality Grounded in the author's personal encounter with the dakini this unique study will appeal to both male and female spiritual seekers interested in goddess worship women's spirituality and the tantric tradition
