Luo Kenya Uganda:

The Luo People in South Sudan Kon K. Madut, 2020-08-13 This work draws from several interpretations and perceptions of Luo ethnic groups regarding their kinships lineages and the geocultural claims pertaining to their identity and sociocultural interactions among social groups and communities It builds on the current literature and oral history to methodologically reaffirm kinships and establish ethnic lineages Most contemporary Luo narratives come from Kenya and Uganda in addition to those written by Western anthropologists and missionaries None of these narratives have changed the content of the oral stories told by Luo groups and subgroups in Africa especially those related to their lineages ethnic affiliations and their path of immigration from South Sudan to Tanzania but have instead confirmed the history stories and mythology of the greater Luo groups in Africa This book will serve to evoke intellectual curiosity among African social scientists prompting them to conduct more research to further understanding of Luo ethnic groups ways of life and social interactions as well as their contributions to the sociopolitical and economic development in the countries and regions they inhabit

Neighbours and Nationals in an African City Ward David Parkin, 2024-03-29 This study analyses the way in which tribal ties are maintained in the development of a tribally mixed middle class community in Kampala Uganda Political independence in the early nineteen sixties in much of Africa created expectations of increased development education and living standards There was hope that ethnic tensions arising from false colonial boundaries might be transcended by newly emerging socio economic status groups However the new national boundaries suddenly made aliens of peoples who had migrated and settled in towns distant from their home countries The interplay of nationality ethnicity and socio economic status or class was given a new theatre Hope was dramatically tempered by nationalist and ethnic conflicts which cut across ethnically mixed small status groups of neighbours and friends In Kampala Uganda this rapidly unfolding drama resulted in the expulsion of two Kenyan ethnic groups and polarised peoples from northern and southern Uganda The essentialisation of ethnic and national identity imposed by colonialism was thus taken on in this new situation by the people themselves with the result that they became cultural starting points of social and political judgement This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1969 This study analyses the way in which tribal ties are maintained in the development of a tribally mixed middle class community in Kampala Uganda Political independence in the early nineteen sixties in much of Africa created expectations of increased dev

Town and Country in Central and Eastern Africa David Parkin, 2018-08-16 Originally published in 1975 the studies in this volume examine the range of factors which mediate the development of social processes in both town and country as well as migration there is the ebb and flow of beliefs ideologies and educational and occupational opportunities It considers the fundamental economic and political bases of migrations in the form of colonialism or multi national controls of various kinds international commodity markets of supply and demand and the distinct development policies adopted by independent governments The editor s introduction discusses old and new models of migration the origins of rural inequalities in development the degree of continuity of language and belief systems between town and country and the persistence of rural links in urban settlements

The Meroitic Language and Writing System Claude Rilly, Alex de Voogt, 2012-08-27 This book provides an introduction to the Meroitic language and writing system which was used between circa 300 BC and 400 AD in the kingdom of Meroe located in what is now Sudan and Egyptian Nubia This book details advances in the understanding of Meroitic a language that until recently was considered untranslatable In addition to providing a full history of the script and an analysis of the phonology grammar and linguistic affiliation of the language it features linguistic analyses for those working on Nilo Saharan comparative linguistics paleographic tables useful to archeologists for dating purposes and an overview of texts that can be translated or understood by way of analogy for those working on Nubian religion history and archaeology Faith in Schools Amy Stambach, 2009-12-07 American Evangelicals have long considered Africa a welcoming place for joining faith with social action but their work overseas is often ambivalently received Even among East African Christians who share missionaries religious beliefs understandings vary over the promises and pitfalls of American Evangelical involvement in public life and schools In this first hand account Amy Stambach examines missionary involvement in East Africa from the perspectives of both Americans and East Africans While Evangelicals frame their work in terms of spreading Christianity critics see it as destroying traditional culture Challenging assumptions on both sides this work reveals a complex and ever evolving exchange between Christian college campuses in the U S where missionaries train and schools in Kenya Uganda and Tanzania Providing real insight into the lives of school children in East Africa this book charts a new course for understanding the goals on both sides and the global connections forged in the name of faith A History of African Societies to 1870 Elizabeth Isichei, 1997-04-13 This comprehensive and detailed exploration of the African past from prehistory to approximately 1870 is intended to provide a fully up to date complement to the Cambridge History of Africa Reflecting several emphases in recent scholarship it focusses on the changing modes of production on gender relations and on ecology laying particular stress on viewing history from below A distinctive theme is to be found in its analyses of cognitive history The work falls into three sections The first comprises a historiographic analysis and covers the period from the dawn of prehistory to the end of the Early Iron Age The second and third sections are for the most part organised on regional lines the second section ends in the sixteenth century the third carries the story on to 1870 A second volume now in preparation will cover the period from 1870 to 1995 This book attempts a more rounded view of African history than most of the other textbooks on the subject addressed to a largely undergraduate level student Earlier histories have tended to ignore some of the current foci in the scholarly literature on Africa generally not reflected in the textbooks these include discussions of topical issues like ecology and gender Isichei s book is also more radical Resilience in South Sudanese Women Godriver Wanga-Odhiambo, 2013-12-18 Resilience in South Sudanese Women describes the historical injustices in Southern Sudan that led to the outbreak of civil wars These injustices included socio economic and political marginalization that denied the women basic needs It gives firsthand life experiences of the Sudanese women during the protracted civil wars in their country It narrates the horrors of the gruesome journeys that they took as they fled war zone burying their kids on unmarked graves and moving on It shows how they dealt with homelessness in host countries through various coping strategies and their eventual resettlement in USA where again they experienced cultural collisions However their determination innovation and resilience always helped them to overcome the struggles Ritual Andrew Strathern, 2017-05-15 This volume consists of a number of carefully selected readings that represent a wide range of discussions and theorizing about ritual The selection encompasses definitional questions issues of interpretation meaning and function and a roster of ethnographic and analytical topics covering classic themes such as ancestor worship and sacrifice initiation gender healing social change and shamanic practices as well as recent critical and reconstructive theorizing on embodiment performance and performativity In their Introduction to the volume the Editors provide an overall survey and critical consideration of topics incorporating insights from their own long term field research and reflections on the readings included The Introduction and readings together provide a unique research tool for those interested in pursuing the study of ritual processes in depth with the benefit of both historical and contemporary approaches Siaya David William Cohen,E.
