The Last Voyage of the Andrea Doria Greg King,Penny Wilson,2020-04-07 An extensively documented account of the 1956 sinking of the Italian luxury liner amazing stories of serendipitous luck heroism cowardice and tragedy Booklist In 1956 a stunned world watched as the famous Italian ocean liner Andrea Doria sank after being struck by a Swedish vessel off the coast of Nantucket Unlike the tragedy of the Titanic this sinking played out in real time across radios and televisions the first disaster of the modern age Audiences witnessed everything that ensued after the unthinkable collision from the heroic rescue of passengers to the ship s final sinking beneath the Atlantic taking some fifty lives with her The Andrea Doria represented the romance of travel and the glamorous side of mid twentieth century life Now Greg King and Penny Wilson offer a fresh look at this legendary liner and her tragic fate They bring the fateful voyage to life in a narrative focused on her passengers Cary Grant s wife Philadelphia s flamboyant mayor the heiress to the Marshall Field fortune and many brave Italian emigrants who found themselves plunged into a desperate struggle to survive The Last Voyage of the Andrea Doria follows the effect this trauma had on their lives and brings the story up to date with the latest expeditions and never before seen photos of the wreck

Constructing Race Tracy Teslow,2014-07-21 Constructing Race helps unravel the complicated and intertwined history of race and science in America Tracy Teslow explores how physical anthropologists in the twentieth century struggled to understand the complexity of human physical and cultural variation and how their theories were disseminated to the public through art museum exhibitions books and pamphlets In their attempts to explain the history and nature of human peoples anthropologists persistently saw both race and culture as critical components This is at odds with a broadly accepted account that suggests racial science was fully rejected by scientists and the public following World War II This book offers a corrective showing that both race and culture informed how anthropologists and the public understood human variation from 1900 through the decades following the war The book offers new insights into the work of Franz Boas Ruth Benedict and Ashley Montagu as well as less well known figures including Harry Shapiro Gene Weltfish and Henry Field

Journalism's Roving Eye John Maxwell Hamilton,2011-08-15 In all of journalism nowhere are the stakes higher than in foreign news gathering For media owners it is the most difficult type of reporting to finance for editors the hardest to oversee Correspondents roaming large swaths of the planet must acquire expertise that home based reporters take for granted facility with the local language for instance or an understanding of local cultures Adding further to the challenges they must put news of the world in context for an audience with little experience and often limited interest in foreign affairs a task made all the more daunting because of the consequence to national security In Journalism s Roving Eye John Maxwell Hamilton a historian and former foreign correspondent provides a sweeping and definitive history of American foreign news reporting from its inception to the present day and chronicles the economic and technological advances that have influenced overseas coverage as well as the cavalcade of colorful personalities who shaped readers perceptions of the world across two centuries From the colonial era when newspaper printers hustled down to wharfs to collect mail and periodicals from incoming ships to the ongoing multimedia press coverage of the Iraq War Hamilton explores journalism s constant and not always successful efforts at dishing the foreign news as James Gordon Bennett put it in the mid nineteenth century to describe his approach in the New York Herald He details the highly partisan coverage of the French Revolution the early emergence of special correspondents and the challenges of organizing their efforts the profound impact of the non yellow press in the run up to the Spanish American War the increasingly sophisticated machinery of propaganda and censorship that surfaced during World War I and the golden age of foreign correspondence during the interwar period when outlets for foreign news swelled and a large number of experienced independent journalists circled the globe From the Nazis intimidation of reporters to the ways in which American popular opinion shaped coverage of Communist revolution and the Vietnam War Hamilton covers every aspect of delivering foreign news to American doorsteps Along the way Hamilton singles out a fascinating cast of characters among them Victor Lawson the overlooked proprietor of the Chicago Daily News who pioneered the concept of a foreign news service geared to American interests Henry Morton Stanley one of the first reporters to generate news on his own with his 1871 expedition to East Africa to find Livingstone and Jack Belden a forgotten brooding figure who exemplified the best in combat reporting Hamilton details the experiences of correspondents editors owners publishers and network executives as well as the political leaders who made the news and the technicians who invented ways to transmit it Their stories bring the narrative to life in arresting detail and make this an indispensable book for anyone wanting to understand the evolution of foreign news gathering Amid the steep drop in the number of correspondents stationed abroad and the recent decline of the newspaper industry many fear that foreign reporting will soon no longer exist But as Hamilton shows in this magisterial work traditional correspondence survives alongside a new type of reporting Journalism s Roving Eye offers a keen understanding of the vicissitudes in foreign news an understanding imperative to better seeing what lies ahead

CBS's Don Hollenbeck Loren Ghiglione, 2008-10-06 Loren Ghiglione recounts the fascinating life and tragic suicide of Don Hollenbeck the controversial newscaster who became a primary target of McCarthyism s smear tactics Drawing on unsealed FBI records private family correspondence and interviews with Walter Cronkite Mike Wallace Charles Collingwood Douglas Edwards and more than one hundred other journalists Ghiglione writes a balanced biography that cuts close to the bone of this complicated newsmen and chronicles the stark consequences of the anti Communist frenzy that seized America in the late 1940s and 1950s Hollenbeck began his career at the Lincoln Nebraska Journal marrying the boss s daughter before becoming an editor at William Randolph Hearst s rip roaring Omaha Bee News He participated in the emerging field of photojournalism at the Associated Press assisted in creating the innovative ad free PM newspaper in New York City reported from the European theater for NBC radio during World War II and anchored television newscasts at CBS during the era of Edward R Murrow Hollenbeck s pioneering prize winning radio program CBS Views the Press 1947 1950 was a declaration of independence from a print medium that had dominated American newsmaking for close to 250 years The program candidly criticized the prestigious New York Times the Daily News then the paper with the largest circulation in America and Hearst s flagship Journal American and popular morning tabloid Daily Mirror For this honest work Hollenbeck was attacked by conservative anti Communists especially Hearst columnist Jack O Brian and in 1954 plagued by depression alcoholism three failed marriages and two network firings and worried about a third Hollenbeck took his own life In his investigation of this amazing American character Ghiglione reveals the workings of an industry that continues to fall victim to censorship and political manipulation Separating myth from fact CBS s Don

Hollenbeck is the definitive portrait of a polarizing figure who became a symbol of America's tortured conscience The Rotarian, 1982-11 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel Prize winners and 19 Pulitzer Prize winners from Mahatma Gandhi to Kurt Vonnegut Jr have written for the magazine from low income areas and toward the upgrading of neighborhoods with greater economic promise As misguided as postwar public housing and urban renewal programs were they were born of a long standing reformist impulse aimed at improving living conditions for people of all classes and colors across the city something that can't be said to be a true priority for many policymakers today The Origins of the Dual City illuminates how we normalized and became resigned to living amid stark racial and economic divides

Cricket in America, 1710-2000 P. David Santance, 2006-03-16 Cricket was played in Virginia in 1710 and was enjoyed on Georgia plantations in 1737 Teams representing New York and Philadelphia faced each other as early as 1838 By 1865 Philadelphia was considered the best cricket playing city in the United States competing against Canadian English and Australian teams from 1890 to 1920 This 30 year span was essential to the formation of America's sports identity and by its end while the sport of baseball drew increasing attention the game of cricket moved from being the game of America's aristocrats to a safe haven for America's nonwhite immigrants who were excluded from baseball because of Jim Crow laws Here the game's unique multi ethnic religious and cultural tradition in the United States is fully explored The author explains cricket's ties to the beginnings of baseball and covers the ways in which the game continues to play an important role in America's inner cities
