Mine Own People Oriental Edition Volume 8:

The Birth of Twentieth-Century Chinese Literature Yu Gao, 2017-10-09 This study makes a linguistic case for the twentieth century revolution in Chinese language and literature. It offers a history of reform and change in the Chinese language throughout the country's history and focuses on the concept of baihua, a language reform movement championed by Hu Shi and other scholars which laid the foundation for the May fourth New Literature Movement, the larger New Culture Movement, and which now defines modern Chinese. Examining the differences between classical and modern Chinese language systems alongside an investigation into the relevance and impact of translation in this language revolution, notably addressing the pivotal role of May Fourth leader Lu Xun, this book provides a rare insight into the evolution of the Chinese language and those who championed its development. The Publishers Weekly, 1900 Sale Catalogues American Art Association, Anderson Galleries (Firm), inc American art association Aderson galleries, 1920

The Spectator, 1899 The Columbia Book of Chinese Poetry Burton Watson, 1984 Important poets such as T ao Y Configurations of Comparative Poetics Zong-qi Cai, 2001-12-30 This comprehensive comparative study of Western and Chinese poetics begins with broad examinations of the two traditions over more than two and a half millennia. From these parallel surveys a series of important theoretical questions arises: How do Western and Chinese critics conceptualize the nature, origin, and function of literature? What are the fundamental differences, if any, in their ways of thinking about literature? Can we account for these differences by examining Western truth-based and Chinese process-based cosmological paradigms? What are the major distinctive concepts of literature developed within Western and Chinese poetics? How have these concepts impacted the development of the two traditions at various times? After considering a wide range of major critical texts, Configurations of Comparative Poetics presents bold and cogent answers to these questions while shedding light on the distinctive orientations of Western and Chinese poetics. The second half of the book features four comparative case studies: Plato and Confucius on poetry; Wordsworth and Liu Xie on the creative process; the twentieth-century Imagists and their earlier Chinese counterparts on the relationship of the Chinese written character to poetics; and Derrida and the Madhyamika Buddhists on language and ontology. The author not only identifies an array of critical concerns shared by Western and Chinese critics but also differentiates the conceptual models used by each and traces them to cosmological paradigms. Every Saturday, 1868

Chinese Complaint Systems Qiang Fang, 2013 Despite the rich heritage of numerous complaint systems in Chinese history, most Western as well as Chinese studies of one or more complaint systems in the PRC and earlier periods have paid little systematic attention to the origins, development, practices, impact, and nature of similar institutions in the longue dur e of Chinese history. This book fills this gap, providing the reader with a comprehensive study of complaint systems in Chinese history from early times to the present. As such, it will be of huge interest to students and scholars of Chinese history, politics, and law. The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record, 1920 USSR Information Bulletin, 1949 Information
