Nuns Diary:

The Life of Nuns Henrike Lähnemann, Eva Schlotheuber, 2024-06-21 In the Middle Ages half of those who chose the religious life were women yet historians have overlooked entire generations of educated feisty capable and enterprising nuns condemning them to the dusty silence of the archives What though were their motives for entering a convent and what was their daily routine behind its walls like How did they think live and worship both as individuals and as a community How did they maintain contact with the families and communities they had left behind Henrike L hneemann and Eva Schlotheuber offer readers a vivid insight into the largely unknown lives and work of religious women in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Using previously inaccessible personal diaries and letters as well as tapestries painting architecture and music the authors show that the nuns were in fact an active even influential part of medieval society They functioned as role models and engaged in spirited dialogue with other convents with the citizens of their home towns and with the local nobility Full of self confidence they organised their demanding daily lives ran their complex convent economies as successful businesses offered girls a comprehensive theological musical and practical education produced magnificent manuscripts ministered to the convent sick and dying with homemade medicines and to family and friends with advice Initially and fiercely they resisted the Reformation only for some of the convents to survive as Protestant women s foundations to this day Now for the first time in centuries this account by Henrike L hneemann and Eva Schlotheuber allows the voices of these remarkable women to be heard outside the cloister and to invite us into their world Refugee Nuns, the French Revolution, and British Literature and Culture Tonya J. Moutray, 2016-03-22 In eighteenth century literature negative representations of Catholic nuns and convents were pervasive Yet during the politico religious crises initiated by the French Revolution a striking literary shift took place as British writers championed the cause of nuns lauded their socially relevant work and addressed the attraction of the convent for British women Interactions with Catholic religious including priests and nuns Tonya J Moutray argues motivated writers including Hester Thrale Piozzi Helen Maria Williams and Charlotte Smith to reevaluate the historical and contemporary utility of religious refugees Beyond an analysis of literary texts Moutray s study also examines nuns personal and collective narratives as well as news coverage of their arrival to England enabling a nuanced investigation of a range of issues including nuns displacement and imprisonment in France their rhetorical and practical strategies to resist authorities representations of refugee migration to and resettlement in England relationships with benefactors and locals and the legal status of English nuns and convents in England including their work in recruitment and education Moutray shows how writers and the media negotiated the multivalent figure of the nun during the 1790s shaping British perceptions of nuns and convents during a time critical to their survival Models of Charitable Care: Catholic Nuns and Children in their Care in Amsterdam, 1852-2002 Annelies van Heijst, 2008-06-30 Models of Charitable Care analyses the practice of Catholic nuns in Amsterdam in the 19th and 20th century Attention is paid to the ambiguous ascetic spiritual discourse that underpinned their work it encouraged charity as solidarity with strangers but caused intense emotional distance too Historiography is mainly manufactured by religious and lay academics who shared the congregational perspective and presented fairly positive evaluations Criticism from within however is voiced by care leavers who grew up in homes ran by religious Some are grateful others bitter The sisters were living models who combined an anti worldly outlook with a practical concern for vulnerable creatures Relating various theoretical interpretations a typology of three models is developed with agency as the differentiating criterion

Medicine River Mary Annette Pember, 2025-04-22 A sweeping and trenchant exploration of the history of Native American boarding schools in the United States and the legacy of abuse wrought by them in an attempt to destroy Native culture and life From the mid nineteenth century to the late 1930s tens of thousands of Native children were pulled from their tribal communities to attend boarding schools whose stated aim was to save the Indian by way of assimilation In reality these boarding schools sponsored by the U S government but often run by various religious orders with little to no regulation were a calculated attempt to dismantle tribes by pulling apart Native families Children were beaten for speaking their Native languages denied food clothing and comfort and forced to work menial jobs in terrible conditions all while utterly deprived of love and affection Amongst those thousands of children was Ojibwe journalist Mary Pember s mother who was sent to a boarding school in northern Wisconsin at age five The trauma of her experience cast a pall over Pember s own childhood and her relationship with her mother Highlighting both her mother s experience and the experiences of countless other students at such schools their families and their children Medicine River paints a stark but hopeful portrait of communities still reckoning with the trauma of acculturation religion and abuse caused by the state Through searing interviews and careful reporting Pember traces the evolution and continued rebirth of Native cultures and nations in relation to the country that has been intent on eradicating them
