Nurse Overseas:

U.S. Navy Medicine, 1978 Anthropology and Nursing Pat Holden, Jenny Littlewood, 2015-07-03 Nursing has been described as the most natural female occupation of all embodying the so called feminine ideals of tenderness and caring Yet these ideals are juxtaposed with images of nurses as sex objects or as ruthlessly efficient haridans How have these very different images been constructed And how do they relate to the reality of nursing the close contact with blood urine and faeces and the involvement with the rites of birth illness and death This book first published in 1991 explores the alternative ways different societies have developed to reconcile these contradictions Using contemporary historical and cross cultural case material the contributors trace the historical development of the role and investigate the expected qualities of nurses within different cultural settings such as India Uganda and Japan They look closely at the nurse as a social construct and demonstrate how the stereotypes relate to a particular society's notions of gender Designed primarily for anthropologists and sociologists interested in health illness and systems of health care this book challenges some of the myths of traditional nursing studies and provides an original perspective on doctor nurse patient relationships Journals and Proceedings of the House of Assembly of the Province of Nova Scotia Nova Scotia. House of Assembly, 1916 The International Migration of Health Workers John Connell, 2008-02-11 Drawing together work on the migration of health workers in a range of global contexts this title provides a detailed overview of the growing phenomenon of the international migration of skilled health workers nurses doctors and a range of more specialized workers New Scots Tom M. Devine, 2018-06-21 First ever book length study of Scotland's immigrant communities since 1945 This is the first wide ranging cross disciplinary overview of immigration to Scotland in recent history and its impact on both the newcomers and the host society It examines key themes relating to postwar migration by showcasing the experiences of many of Scotland's most striking immigrant communities of people arriving from England Poland India Pakistan China the Caribbean and the African continent New Scots also features analysis of asylum seekers and refugees along with Jewish and Roma migrants and includes a chapter on migrant voting patterns during the Independence Referendum of 2014 Framed in chronological thematic and international contexts New Scots offers its readers a penetrating understanding of immigration one of the most crucial issues confronting the United Kingdom today Contributors Eona Bell has held post doctoral positions at the SOAS Food Studies Centre and SOAS China Institute and is working on a book about Hong Kong Chinese families in Scotland Stefano Bonino is the author of Muslims in Scotland The Making of Community in a Post 9 11 World published by Edinburgh University Press in 2016 Christopher J Carman is the Stevenson Professor of Citizenship at the University of Glasgow Enda Delaney is Professor of Modern History at the University of Edinburgh T M Devine is Sir William Fraser Professor of Scottish History and Palaeography Emeritus at the University of Edinburgh Nicholas J Evans is Lecturer in Diaspora History at the University of Hull Ailsa Henderson is Professor of Political Science at the University of Edinburgh Ima Jackson is Lecturer in the School of
