Organizing Women:

Organizing Women Cécile Guillaume, 2021-12-16 This book explores the representation of women and their interests in the world of work across four trade unions in France and the UK Drawing on case studies of the careers of 100 activists and a longitudinal study of the trade unions struggle for equal pay in the UK it unveils the social organizational and political conditions that contribute to the reproduction of gender inequalities or on the contrary allow the promotion of equality Guillaume's nuanced evaluation is a call to redefine the role of trade unions in the delivering of gender equality contributing to broader debates on the effectiveness of equality policies and the enforcement of equality legislation

Organizing Women Dawn Chatty, Annika Rabo, 2020-08-20 With the creation of the modern nation state in the Middle East and North Africa women have been and continue to be manipulated to represent a cultural ideal of perfect womanhood This is often greatly at odds with the realities of women's lives and aspirations However individual women through careful manipulation of gender relations often succeed in casting aside the culturally accepted bonds which diminish their lives Even so women in groups are deemed unacceptable unless they conform to state mandates In many countries in the Middle East women are only legally permitted to form groups which are charitable organizations concerned with the welfare of the disabled or the handicapped Clearly women in groups are perceived as a threat by the state This challenging book examines the nature of the relationship between both women and the state and men and the state It presents a balanced mix of theoretical and empirical research which analyzes both the formal and informal ways in which women have organized themselves and been organized in Arab society

Organizing Women Workers in the Informal Economy Naila Kabeer, Ratna Sudarshan, Kirsty Milward, 2013-03-14 Women as a group have often been divided by a number of intersecting inequalities class race ethnicity caste As individuals often isolated in reproductive or other home based work their weapons of resistance have tended to be restricted to the traditional weapons of the weak hidden subversions and individualised struggles Organizing Women Workers in the Informal Economy explores the emergence of an alternative repertoire among women working in the growing informal sectors of the global South the weapons of organization and mobilization This crucial book offers vibrant accounts of how women working as farm workers sex workers domestic workers waste pickers fisheries workers and migrant factory workers have organized for collective action What gives these precarious workers the impetus and courage to take up these steps What resources do they draw on in order to transcend their structurally disadvantaged position within the economy And what continues to hamper their efforts to gain social recognition for themselves as women as workers and as citizens With first hand accounts from authors closely involved in emerging organizations this collection documents how women workers have come together to carve out new identities for themselves define what matters to them and develop collective strategies of resistance and struggle
