Port Trade Of Early Elizabethan London:

The Overseas Trade of British America Thomas M. Truxes, 2021-11-30 A sweeping history of early American trade and the foundation of the American economy In a single readily digestible coherent narrative historian Thomas M Truxes presents the three hundred year history of the overseas trade of British America Born from seeds planted in Tudor England in the sixteenth century Atlantic trade allowed the initial survival economic expansion and later prosperity of British America and brought vastly different geographical regions each with a distinctive identity and economic structure into a single fabric Truxes shows how colonial American prosperity was only possible because of the labor of enslaved Africans how the colonial economy became dependent on free and open markets and how the young United States owed its survival in the struggle of the American Revolution to Atlantic trade

The Early Modern Atlantic Economy John J. McCusker, Kenneth Morgan, 2000 Sample Text

The Routledge Companion to Marine and Maritime Worlds 1400-1800 Claire Jowitt, Craig Lambert, Steve Mentz, 2020-05-21 This book has been nominated for The Mountbatten Award for Best Book in the Maritime Media Awards 2021 The Routledge Companion to Marine and Maritime Worlds 1400 1800 explores early modern maritime history culture and the current state of the research and approaches taken by experts in the field Ranging from cartography to poetry and decorative design to naval warfare the book shows how once traditional and often Euro chauvinistic depictions of oceanic mastery during the early modern period have been replaced by newer global ideas This comprehensive volume challenges underlying assumptions by balancing its assessment of the consequences and accomplishments of European navigators in the era of Columbus da Gama and Magellan with an awareness of the sophistication and maritime expertise in Asia the Arab world and the Americas By imparting riveting new stories and global perceptions of maritime history and culture the contributors provide readers with fresh insights concerning early modern entanglements between humans and the vast unpredictable ocean With maritime studies growing and the ocean s health in decline this volume is essential reading for academics and students interested in the historicization of the ocean and the ways early modern cultures both conceptualized and utilized seas

The Stationers' Company and the Printers of London, 1501-1557 Peter W. M. Blayney, 2013-11-21 This major revisionist reference work explains for the first time how the Stationers Company acquired both a charter and a nationwide monopoly of printing In the most detailed and comprehensive investigation of the London book trade in any period Peter Blayney systematically documents the story from 1501 when printing first established permanent roots inside the City boundaries until the Stationers Company was incorporated by royal charter in 1557 Having exhaustively re examined original sources and scoured numerous archives unexplored by others in the field Blayney radically revises accepted beliefs about such matters as the scale of native production versus importation privileges and patents and the regulation of printing by the Church Crown and City His persistent focus on individuals most notably the families rivals and successors of Richard Pynson John Rastell and Robert Redman keeps this study firmly grounded in the vivid lives and careers of early Tudor Londoners English Paleography and Manuscript Culture, 1500-1800 Kathryn

James, 2020-02-25 This richly illustrated book provides an essential introduction to the manuscript in early modern England From birth to death parish record to probate inventory writing framed the lives of the early modern English Offering a technical introduction to the handwriting of the period case studies tracing the significance of manuscript to British cultural identity and exercises to practice reading and transcription the book opens the study of early modern English manuscript to a new generation of students and scholars The Pursuit of Stability Ian W. Archer, 2002 A holistic approach to interpreting early modern London society Four Books of Rates (1507, 1536/45, 1558, 1604) Stuart Jenks, 2024-08-12 These Books of Rates list for the use of English customs officials the official values of hundreds of products commonly traded overseas in the sixteenth century What goods needed to be listed and what their official valuations were held to be had been the subject of wary negotiations between the crown and the Merchants Adventurers These lists thus offer us four snapshots of the shape of English foreign trade But that is not all Unbeknownst to all previous scholars the 1536 45 and 1558 Books of Rates were translated into German in 1558 60 for the use of Hanseatic diplomats haggling with the crown about customs rates These translations reflect Hanseatic commercial interests in trade with England in a word the shape of the Hanse s trade with England The subject indices structured to function as a glossary will serve as a glossary for all scholars working on the economic history of the sixteenth century The First English Explorer Kit Mayers, 2016-11-07 The first real explorer for the English was Anthony Jenkinson He sailed to Russia and set out into the unknown to discover an overland route right across Asia His detailed reports and his map were a revelation for the Tudors In 1557 Anthony Jenkinson was sent by the merchants of London to try to find an overland route right across Asia to Cathay and the riches of the Orient setting off a year before Queen Elizabeth I came to the throne His expedition to the east took place some twenty nine years earlier than the first English expedition to the west As well as surviving storms Jenkinson was faced with thieving illness and several attacks by bandits before eventually by sheer persistence reaching Bokhara which is now in Uzbekistan He had completed two thirds of the journey and had reached the Silk Road that led to Cambaluc Beijing before finding that he could go no further because the route ahead was closed by continuous wars In later expeditions he travelled to Persia where he nearly had his head cut off and he also went to Moscow where he managed some extremely tense negotiations with Tsar Ivan the Terrible on behalf of the Muscovy Company His reports back to the Company in London give us a great insight into what Russia was like at the time and Tartary and Persia This book is a lively and carefully researched study of Anthony Jenkinson Sir Ranulph Fiennes Bt OBE This important book fills an undoubted gap in the history of English travellers in the sixteenth century Professor David Loades FSA Emeritus Professor of History at the University of Wales The First English Explorer will appeal to fans of history particularly those with a strong interest in explorers and eastern travel War Bows Mike Loades, 2019-02-21 A fascinating and lively history of four bows that changed warfare the composite bow the longbow the crossbow and the Japanese bow the yumi by a world renowned expert War bows dominated battlefields across the world for centuries In their various forms they allowed trained archers to take down even well armoured targets from great distances and played a key role in some of the most famous battles in human history The composite bow was a versatile and devastatingly effective weapon on foot from chariots and on horseback for over a thousand years used by cultures as diverse as the Hittites the Romans the Mongols and the Ottoman Turks The Middle Ages saw a clash between the iconic longbow and the more technologically sophisticated crossbow most famously during the Hundred Years War while in Japan the samurai used the yumi to deadly effect unleashing bursts of arrows from their galloping steeds Historical weapons expert Mike Loades reveals the full history of these four iconic weapons that changed the nature of warfare Complete with modern ballistics testing action recreations of what it is like to fire each bow and a critical analysis of the technology and tactics associated with each bow this book is a must have for anyone interested in ancient arms Consumption and Culture in Sixteenth-century Ireland Susan Flavin, 2014 A detailed study of changing patterns of consumption showing how these related to wider political social and economic developments This book based on extensive original research argues that everyday Irish consumption underwent major changes in the 16th century The book considers the changing nature of imported goods in relation especially to two major activities of daily living dress and diet It integrates quantitative data on imports with qualitative sources including wills archaeological and pictorial evidence and contemporary literature and legislation It shows that changes in Irish consumption mirrored changes occurring in England and across Europe and that they were a function of broader developments in the Irish economy including the increasing participation of Irish merchants in European markets The book also discusses how consumption was related to wider political economic and cultural developments in Ireland showing how the acquisition and interpretation of material goods were key factors in the mediation of political and social boundaries in a semi colonised and contested society Susan Flavin completed her doctorate in early modern history at the University of Bristol The Family of Love in English Society, 1550-1630 Christopher W. Marsh, 1994 A history and analysis of a mysterious dissenting fellowship in early modern England The Naming of Names Anna Pavord, 2010-12-15 For centuries some of the most brilliant minds in Europe searched for the rules of nature s game In a world full of plagues and poisons many medicines were made from plant extracts and there was a practical need to differentiate between one plant and another Alongside this was an overwhelming desire to make sense of the natural world Scholars aided by the artists who painted the first pictures of plants set out looking writing and classifying but 2 000 years were to pass before any rules became clear Anna Pavord takes us on an exhilarating and fascinating journey through botanical history travelling from Athens in the third century BC through Constantinople and Venice Padua and Pisa to the present day
