"Art in the North of England, 1979-2008" Gabriel N. Gee, 2017-07-05 Based on rare archival material and numerous interviews with practitioners Art in the North of England 1979-2008 analyses the relation between political and economic changes stemming from the 1980s and artistic developments in the principal cities of the North of England in the late 20th century Looking in particular at the art scenes of Liverpool Manchester Leeds Sheffield and Newcastle Gabriel Gee unveils a set of powerful aesthetic reactions to industrial change and urban reconstruction during this period on the part of artists including John Davies Pete Clarke the Amber collective Richard Wilson Karen Watson Nick Crowe Ian Rawlinson John Kippin and the contribution of organisations such as Projects UK Locus East Street Arts the Henry Moore Sculpture Trust and the Bluecoat Gallery in Liverpool While the geographical focus of this study is highly specific a key concern throughout is the relationship between regional national and international artistic practices and identities Of interest to all scholars and students concerned with the developments of British art in the second half of the 20th century the study is also of direct pertinence to observers of global narratives which are here described and analysed through the concept of trans industriality

Frank Rutter,1927 The Connoisseur ,1913 Falling Rocket Paul Thomas Murphy,2023-12-05 A New York Times Book Review Editors Choice The untold story of the artistic battle between James Abbot MacNeill Whistler and John Ruskin over Whistler s controversial ground breaking Nocturne in Black and Gold The Falling Rocket In November 1878 America s greatest painter sued England s greatest critic for a bad review The painter won but ruined himself in the process The painter James Abbot MacNeill Whistler whose combination of incredible talent unflagging energy and relentless self promotion had by that time brought him to the very edge of artistic preeminence The critic John Ruskin Slade Professor of Art at Oxford University whose four decades worth of prolific and highly respected literary output on aesthetics had made him England s unchallenged and seemingly unchallengeable arbiter of art Though Whistler and Ruskin both lived in London and moved in the same artistic world they had until June 1877 managed to remain entirely clear of one another This was unusual because Whistler had a mercurial temperament a belligerent personality and seemed to thrive on opposition he once challenged a man to a duel because the man accused the painter of sleeping with his wife Whistler had in fact slept with the man s wife That November John Ruskin walked into the Grosvenor Gallery s new exhibition of art and gazed with horror upon Whistler s Nocturne in Black and Gold The Falling Rocket The painting was Whistler s interpretation of a fireworks display at a local pleasure garden But to Ruskin it was nothing more than a chaotic incomprehensible mess of bright spots upon dark masses not art but its antithesis a disturbing and disgusting assault upon everything he had ever written or taught on the subject He quickly channeled that anger into a seething review The internationally reported widely discussed and hugely entertaining trial that followed was a titanic battle between the opposing ideas and ideals of two larger than life personalities For these two protagonists Whistler v Ruskin was the battle of a lifetime or more accurately a battle of their two lifetimes Paul Thomas Murphy s Falling Rocket also recounts James Whistler s turbulent but triumphant development from artistic oblivion in the 1880s to artistic deification in the 1890s and also Ruskin s isolated befogged silent final years after his public humiliation The story of Whistler v Ruskin has a dramatic arc of its own but this riveting new book also vividly evokes an artistic world in energetic motion culturally and socially in the last decades of the nineteenth century The British Journal of Photography William Crookes,T. A. Malone,George Shadbolt,J. Traill Taylor,William Blanchard Bolton,Thomas Bedding,1917 The Dictionary of British Women Artists Sara Gray,2009-06-25 The most comprehensive volume of its kind Gray s Dictionary of British Women Artists offers extensively researched biographies of some of the most significant female contributors to British art This volume will make a valuable contribution to the study of art history It will also provide readers with significant insight into a long neglected aspect of history the lives and achievements of women artists Each entry provides key biographical information as well as where possible commentary on the artist s studies lifestyle travels and family Entries also detail significant works exhibitions and membership of societies Gray s introduction provides a useful context to the biographies
