Bicknell, 1912 Staging and the Arts in Nineteenth-Century France Camilla Murgia, 2023-09-22 This book discusses the mechanisms and patterns of staging in nineteenth century France Often associated with theatre and performance staging also applies to visual arts It is thoroughly embedded in a more general cultural development comprising the dissemination of knowledge political awareness and consumerism The notion of staging applies to a process of appearing revealing and disappearing that puts forward new ways for the individual to be seen and to make the self and the other visible Staging determines and questions the process of appearing and disappearing by generating connections and interactions between multiple layers of reality i e artistic theatrical literary and visual but according to what criteria through what mechanisms and with what materials What are the repercussions of staging and even more important what does staging not show This book argues that the notion of staging goes beyond interdisciplinarity Looking at the different ways staging was used and conceived introduces new approaches to understanding visual culture in nineteenth century France Rites, Rituals & Religions Dr Debra D Andrist, 2023-04-01 Philosophers have contemplated the meaning of life the who a ritual observance can be either a system of ceremonial acts or actions or an act or series of acts regularly repeated in a set precise manner Religion generally encompasses a socio cultural system of designated behaviors and practices morals beliefs worldviews texts sanctified places prophecies ethics or organizations that relates humanity to supernatural transcendental and spiritual elements Religion is a set of beliefs especially when considered as the creation of a superhuman agency or agencies usually involving devotional and ritual

World's Fair of 1889 firstname surname,2019-04-16 Published in 1981 This book is an illustrated catalogue of Fine Art paintings from 1789 1889 Pablo Picasso and Dora Maar Dr Enrique Mallen,2021-03-12 Although Pablo Picasso spotted Dora Maar at a cafe in January 1936 it is highly likely that she had come to his attention prior As Brassa a Hungarian French photographer recalled It was at Les Deux Magots that one day in autumn 1935 he met Dora On an earlier day he had already noticed the grave drawn face of the young woman at a nearby table the attentive look in her light colored eyes sometimes disturbing in its fixity When Picasso saw her in the same cafe in the company of the surrealist poet Paul Irujo who knew her the poet introduced her to Picasso Brassa a k a Gyula Halasz Conversations with Picasso University of Chicago Press 1999

Tinged with a seductive mix of violence and dark eroticism this first meeting has attained mythical status in the story of the artist's life. It reads like an unreal fantasy. A mysterious and feline beauty which Man Ray had captured in the pictures he took of her, a companion of Georges Bataille. Dora was an accomplished photographer close to the Surrealists' revolutionary aesthetics. Picasso addressed her in French which he assumed to be her language; she replied in Spanish which she knew to be his. For the next decade the painter would translate not just his fascination with the woman who had seduced him on the spot but also his desire to escape the grip of someone who for the first time could intellectually aspire to be his equal. Dora would appear in his works as a female Minotaur, a Sphinx, a lunar goddess and a muse. Because of her intense artistic sensibility, her poetic gifts and her ability to participate in suffering, she was especially qualified to resonate Picasso's own inner torments during these troubled years.

Time, Media, and Visuality in Post-Revolutionary France Iris Moon, Richard Taws, 2021-07-01. The radical break with the past heralded by the French Revolution in 1789 has become one of the mythic narratives of our time. Yet in the drawn-out afterlife of the Revolution and through subsequent periods of Empire, Restoration and Republic, the question of what such a temporal transformation might involve found complex, often unresolved expression in visual and material culture. This diverse collection of essays draws attention to the eclectic objects and forms of visuality that emerged in France from the beginning of the French Revolution through to the end of the July Monarchy in 1848. It offers a new account of the story of French art's modernity by exploring the work of genre painters and miniaturists, sign painters and animal artists, landscapists, architects and printmakers as they worked out what it meant to be post-revolutionary.
