Dickinson and Audience Martin Orzeck, Robert Weisbuch, 1996 An obsessively private writer Emily Dickinson almost never submitted poems for publication which she deemed the Auction Of the Mind Yet over a century of criticism has established what readers of various sensibilities describe as a shockingly intimate relation between text and audience making the question of whom the poems address a crucial element in interpreting them This volume of essays is the first book exclusively focused on Dickinson's relation to audience from the relatively few persons who received many of the poems to that vast unseen yet somehow specific other that any literary work addresses Dickinson's writings were influenced by her ambivalent attitude toward the conventions of the nineteenth century literary marketplace and her desire to shape more intimate relations with chosen contemporaries Still her poems and letters engage modern readers and speak to the social and gendered politics of our own day The essays in Dickinson and Audience treat both the importance of Dickinson's personal friendships and the ways in which contemporary poetics continue to sustain the vitality of her writings With contributions from Willis J Buckingham Karen Dandurand Betsy Erkkila Virginia Jackson Charlotte Nekola Martin Orzeck David Porter Robert Regan Richard B Sewall R McClure Smith Stephanie A Tingley and Robert Weisbuch the collection boasts a wide variety of critical approaches to the poet and her works from traditional biographical and historical analyses to deconstructionist feminist and reader response interpretations It will interest not only scholars in these areas but also anyone who wants to gain insight into Dickinson's creative genius

Stories and Portraits of the Self Helena Carvalhão Buescu, João Ferreira Duarte, 2007 In contemporary societies privatization has long ceased to be just an economic concept rather it must increasingly be made to refer to the ongoing shrinking of the public space under the impact of the representation of individual lives and images which cuts across all discourses genres and media to become one of the primary means of production of culture This volume is intended to cover such an historical social and intellectual ground where self representation comes to the fore Targeting mostly an academic readership but certainly also of interest to the general educated public it collects a wide range of essays dealing with diverse modes of life writing and portraying from a variety of perspectives and focusing on different historical periods and media It thus offers itself as a major contribution to a better understanding of the world we live in its past legacy and present configuration

The Materiality of Narrative Dynamics

Stefan Iversen, Evan Van Tassell, 2025-06-02

The dynamic nature of storytelling has long been one of the major concerns of narrative research but relatively little scholarship has engaged with the relationship between storytelling dynamics and the underlying material forms of cultural texts This volume seeks to remedy this by asking questions such as How might the affordances of new media guide audience reception in subtle ways How might the dynamism of legacy media be better recognized when examined through a multimedial lens How do the physical processes of production define the horizons of both authorial activity and audience response The insight that drives these investigations is two fold first that functions and effects of narratives are deeply intertwined with material forces of production distribution and reception and second that an analysis of any specific narrative must include attention to these material matters and how they affect the unfolding of stories over time The chapters in this collection explore interplays between material forces and narrative dynamics across a range of genres and intellectual arenas In doing so they both fill gaps in current methodological frameworks and call attention to the many gaps that are yet to be filled

Camera Clues Joe Nickell, 2010-09-12 In Camera Clues Joe Nickell shares his methods of identifying and dating old photos and demonstrates how to distinguish originals from copies and fakes Particularly intriguing are his discussions of camera tricks darkroom manipulations retouching techniques and uses of computer technology to deceive the eye Camera Clues concludes with a look at allegedly paranormal photography from nineteenth century spirit photographs to UFO snapshots

Experimental Selves Christopher Braider, 2018-10-11 Drawing on the generous semantic range the term enjoyed in early modern usage Experimental Selves argues that person as early moderns understood this concept was an experimental phenomenon at once a given of experience and the self conscious arena of that experience Person so conceived was discovered to be a four dimensional creature a composite of mind or inner personality of the body and outward appearance of social relationship and of time Through a series of case studies keyed to a wide variety of social and cultural contexts including theatre the early novel the art of portraiture pictorial experiments in vision and perception theory of knowledge and the new experimental science of the late seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the book examines the manifold shapes person assumed as an expression of the social natural and aesthetic experiments or experiences to which it found itself subjected as a function of the mere contingent fact of just having them
