The image shows a deep perspective of a large, vaulted hall. The ceiling is a complex of interlocking geometric and floral patterns in shades of brown and gold. A large, multi-tiered chandelier hangs from the center of the ceiling. The walls are also decorated with intricate panels and arches. In the distance, an arched doorway leads to another part of the building. Two people are standing in the lower right foreground, looking towards the interior. The overall atmosphere is one of historical grandeur and architectural beauty.

The shorter, more factual articles, none shorter than 50 words, are combined with larger, multi-section articles tracing the development of the art forms in various geographical locations.

Contemporary Pakistani Fiction in English Cara N. Cilano, 2013-04-12 Looking at a wide selection of Pakistani novels in English, this book explores how literary texts imaginatively probe the past, convey the present and project a future in terms that facilitate a sense of collective belonging. The novels discussed cover a range of historical movements and developments including pre-20th century Islamic history, the 1947 partition, the 1971 Pakistani war, the Zia years and post-9/11 Pakistan, as well as pervasive themes including ethnonationalist tensions, the zamindari system and conspiracy thinking. The book offers a range of representations of how and whether collective belonging takes shape and illustrates how the Pakistani novel in English is often overshadowed by the proliferation of the Indian novel in English. It complements Pakistani multi-lingual literary imaginaries by presenting alternatives to standard versions of history and by highlighting the issues English language literary production brings to the fore in a broader Pakistani context. It goes on to look at the literary devices and themes used to portray idea, nation and state as a foundation for collective belonging. The book illustrates the distinct contributions the Pakistani novel in English makes to the larger fields of postcolonial and South Asian literary and cultural studies.

Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World (2 Vol. Set) Susan Sinclair, C. H. Bleaney, Pablo García Suárez, 2012 Following the tradition and style of the acclaimed Index Islamicus, the editors have created this new Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World. The editors have surveyed and annotated a wide range of books and articles from collected volumes and journals published in all European languages except Turkish between 1906 and 2011. This comprehensive bibliography is an indispensable tool for everyone involved in the study of material culture in Muslim societies.

The Big Bookshelf Sunil Sethi, 2011-01-27 Famous writers are often reticent about how and why they write, how their ideas and themes develop or how their characters and plots emerge. They can be equally reserved about their personal histories. But in the hands of seasoned journalist and skilful interviewer Sunil Sethi, presenter of Just Books NDTV's long running weekend literary show, they open up in unexpected and fascinating ways. In this selection of thirty of his best interviews from Just Books, they speak freely and frankly about their craft, their life stories and the nature of their creative impulse. Featured here are literary giants including Nobel laureates and Booker Prize winners, internationally acclaimed historians, biographers and philosophers, authors of best-selling thrillers, novels and travel books, and brilliant young trendsetters. Their conversations with Sethi are in turn reflective and incisive, witty and poignant, but always candid and intimate as they provide rare insights into their inner lives and engagement with the world they inhabit. Each voice in this diverse collection is original, distinctive and revealing as they cover the wide terrain.
