Reading Labels On Jam Tins:

John Flynn Ivan Rudolph, 2012 John Flynn is one of Australia's greatest folk heroes. His achievements are stuff of legend: no other Australian has had more monuments dedicated to him than John Flynn. Flynn established a network of cottage hospitals, flying doctors, patrol nurses, welfare centres and radio transmitters to create a Mantle of Safety that would allow the Outback to be habitable for men, women and children.

Vite Italiane Susanna Iuliano, 2010 MULTICULTURAL STUDIES AUSTRALIAN Vite Italiane documents the migration flow of Italian immigrants from the late 1800s to the present day. This work integrates the history of the largest non-English speaking migrant group in Western Australia into the mainstream historical record and in so doing shows how the Italian speaking community has become an integral part of Western Australia's and indeed the nation's social, economic and cultural fabric.

Gold Iain McCalman, Alexander Cook, Andrew Reeves, 2001-03-12 Throughout history gold has been the stuff of legends, fortunes, conflict and change. The discovery of gold in Australia 150 years ago precipitated enormous developments in the newly settled land. The population and economy boomed in spontaneous cities. The effects on both the environment and indigenous Aboriginal peoples have been profound and lasting. In this book a team of prominent historians and curators have collaborated to produce an innovative cultural history of gold and its impact on the development of Australian society.

Invisible Country Bill Bunbury, 2015 When Europeans first settled in Australia the land withheld many of its secrets from these new arrivals. There were broad rivers, wide plains and tall forests, all of which to European eyes suggested promising sites for settlement. However to many of the new settlers, the First Australians, the Aboriginal people were a puzzle. They moved freely through the country they knew intimately. What few settlers realized then was that the Aboriginal people and the land they lived in were indistinguishable. Invisible Country describes the environmental changes that have occurred in southwestern Australia since European settlement through four case studies of the development of local rivers, forests and coastal plains. These stories compiled through extensive conversations with farmers, ecologists, traditional owners and others who rely on the land are book-ended by an examination of the historical perspective in which these changes have occurred. It is a reminder that the land owns the people, not the other way around, and this is the beginning of a conversation about understanding and caring for the land that all Australians are fortunate to live in. Librarians' ebook available. Subject: Australian Studies, Environmental Studies, History.

Sailing on a Cusp and a Prayer Margaret Zeegers, 2024-03-03 This is a book where Jennifer Worth's Call the Midwife meets Frank McCourt's Angela's Ashes in Australia, with a nod to AB Facey's A Fortunate Life as it presents the early years of one migrant family's experience after arriving by ship in Australia in the 1950s. Babies, marriages, childhoods and relationships in general figure prominently, not only for those arriving with their large families but also for the Australians who had a similar fertility. All of these have provided material for rollicking good yarns about the real people of the fictional parish of St Kitts in a fictional country town in Victoria, Australia, going about their daily lives.

Campbell,2022-11-15 These are the memoirs of Ian Campbell An adventurous and humourous account of a man from rural Western Australia and his working career in the international oil business from exploration in the harsh wildernesses of the Australian outback Saharan Africa jungles of Sumatra and Philippines to the high stakes corporate shenanigans in the heart of London Often cantankerous and very Australian Ian walks the reader through his life from his earliest memories in 1932 up until his early retirement in 1989 He recounts his childhood with his many brothers and sisters in the West Australian wheatbelt growing up in the hard times of the 1930 s depression school life in rural Australia and University in the big smoke of Perth Australia Graduating with a degree in Geology Ian narrates how he sets off on an intriguing international career in the oil industry exploring living working and bringing up a family in many far flung and remote places around the world Bookbuyers' Reference Book ,1993 Gallipoli Diary 1915 Alec Riley,2021-11-11 We had a look around through periscopes at the remains of recent fighting The dead were on top and we the living were below the general ground level The usual order of life and death were reversed So wrote Alec Riley in his account of an ordinary soldier in an extraordinary conflict the Gallipoli campaign of 1915 A signaller with the 42nd East

Lancashire Division Riley was well placed to serve as an eyewitness to the sharp end of the campaign being with the infantry but not of it His task and that of the small unit he served with and whose story he tells was to maintain communications between the forward trenches and senior commanders in the rear a conduit for at times unrealistic orders one way and all too real situation reports the other During his time on the peninsula Riley kept meticulous notes which form the basis of this account He also took his camera to war the resulting photos some of which were used in the British official history of the campaign flesh out his detailed story of life in and behind the lines After four months on the peninsula suffering from jaundice septic sores and dysentery Riley was evacuated sick destined first for Mudros and then Blighty He made sure to save his diary and camera Although Gallipoli had done for Riley Riley was not done with Gallipoli Even while on the peninsula he and his comrades had looked beyond the war We tried to imagine what the place would be like when the armies had gone Achi Baba would be green again the trenches would fall in and flatten communication trenches through which thousands of men had passed would be long and shallow depressions and frogs and tortoises the only inhabitants of gully and nullah Remarkably Alec Riley returned to find out revisiting the peninsula at least twice In 1930 he spent ten days wandering across the now overgrown fields of battle on a lone pilgrimage revisiting places he knew intimately 15 years before This pilgrimage and a subsequent second visit was intended to form the basis of a book again illustrated with his trusty camera Sadly the original manuscript has been lost But the editors have identified two extracts that appeared in print which they present alongside a faithful transcript of Riley s diary and notes Also included is an unpublished introduction by General Sir Ian Hamilton commander of the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force of which Riley had been a small part and with whom Riley had a decade long correspondence The editors of the diary Michael Crane and Bernard de Broglie have added copious footnotes and detailed biographical notes on the officers and men who come to life in Riley s writings as well as an order of battle and summary of arms for the 42nd Division at Gallipoli Fourteen maps illustrate the actions large and small that Riley describes alongside 47 black and white photographs most showing the battlefield in 1915 and 1930 Gallipoli Diary 1915 will appeal to readers of WW1 and military history but especially to those with an interest in the Gallipoli campaign It will be bookended by two further diaries that record Alec Riley s mobilisation and training in Egypt and his time in the Royal Victoria Hospital Netley Collectively they offer a unique window into the experiences of a pre war Territorial soldier before during and after Gallipoli The Lone Hand ,1918 Caught in Time Bill Bunbury,2006 The stories in this anthology reflect both the notions we have of time itself and of stories caught in time before they are lost but also the sense of stories caught in the long procession of history Each of the ten stories deals with a different aspect The Last Half Hour of the Day Michael A. LaCombe,2008 The companion to In Whatever Houses We May Visit this collection of short stories and essays features works that shed light on the many topics physicians encounter daily Koori Studies Resource Index ,1994
