

Make CONNECTIONS

How do readers make connections?

Good readers make connections by using what they already know to connect a text to their life experiences, another text, or the world.

Text to Self:

This reminds me of when I...

Connecting the story to your life & experiences

Text to Text:

This reminds me of a book I read...

Connecting the story to another book

Text to World:

I heard about this on the news when...

Connecting the story to the real world

Connections: Doorways, 8 (2 v.) Virginia A. Arnold, Carl Bernard Smith, 1987 Connections: Doorways, 1987

Voices Virginia A. Arnold, Carl Bernard Smith, 1987 Connections, 1987 The Connection Of Reference Sources And The Students' Achievement In Reading Agustinah, S.Pd., 2021-10-09 This monograph can be used to face learners has trouble The learners think reading book is not important Especially for learners has low interest in reading book And for school has low performance in handling learners low interest in reading This monograph is a written form that can be used in This monograph can be used by all levels of education and is also structured to be accurate information to add knowledge and scientific insights about the relationship between reference sources and learners reading achievement So that the hope is that this monograph will become one of the media in strengthening the values that schools treat to increase reading interest in schools This monograph is still not perfect so we hope that there will be constructive input for its improvement

Connections : Macmillan Reading Program, 1989 MTSS & Reading: The Middle School Connection Karen

Kemp, 2018-02-02 Multi Tier Systems of Support MTSS is a proven research based problem solving process to help struggling learners succeed Having been effectively implemented in many elementary schools in recent years MTSS is gaining popularity as a systematic way to address the needs of underachieving students who are struggling with reading at the middle school level This reference guide is designed to provide educators with critical information about MTSS as a framework for reading instruction in middle school and give teachers practical techniques to implement within the general education classroom The Administration and Supervision of Reading Programs Shelley B. Wepner, Joan T. Feeley, Dorothy S. Strickland, 2002 Now in its Third Edition this popular textbook offers valuable information about administering effective reading programs from the pre elementary through the college level All chapters have been revised to include the most current information trends and research and a new chapters has been added on college university reading programs The Home-School Connection Bonnie J. Pryor, 1996 This paper written by a school administrator to parents discusses parents role in creating a positive educational environment from providing a structured home life to volunteering in their child s classroom The paper begins by asserting that a primary cause of behavior problems in the classroom is parent child relationships in which the child rather than the parent is dominant thereby creating students who believe they should be the center of attention Society s focus on instant gratification and working parents guilt are also mentioned as contributors to behavior problems The paper recommends sure firm and consistent discipline inside the classroom and at home as a way to raise children who are well adjusted members of society and who display respect and concern for others The paper then offers suggestions for supporting children s academic success such as talking to children about their goals and the necessary steps to achieve them teaching children empathy for other people promoting assertiveness rather than aggressiveness and being a good role model Finally the paper discusses parent participation at school recommending ways parents can approach teachers about volunteering and tasks parents can do for schools The paper concludes by noting that teacher parent contact not only promotes good will between the two but in most cases promotes a positive attitude in the child EV

Tyranny of the Textbook , Acts of Reading
Hiroshi Nara,Mari Noda,2002-09-30 Students who have completed a year of German read Brecht in their second year those of Spanish read Cervantes Teachers of first and second year Japanese can often find nothing comparable Why aren t your students reading literature they are asked Why not Soseki Or Murakami What are instructors of Japanese doing wrong Nothing according to the authors of this volume Rather they argue such questions exemplify the gross misunderstandings and unreasonable expectations of teaching reading in Japanese In Acts of Reading the authors set out to explore what reading is for Japanese as a language and how instructors should teach it to students of Japanese They seek answers to two questions What are the aspects of reading in Japan as manifested in Japanese society What L2 second language reading problems are specific to Japanese In answering the first and related questions the authors conclude that reading is a socially motivated purposeful act that is savored and becomes a part of people's lives Reading instruction in Japanese therefore should include teaching students how to work with text as the Japanese do in Japanese society The second question relates more directly to traditional concerns in L2 reading The authors begin with a general theory of reading They then offer a welcome glimpse into the rich and complex perspectives sometimes conflicting other times symbiotic on what reading is and how it is performed in L1 and L2 and most importantly on the web of interconnections between the phenomenology of reading and the demands it places on teaching approaches to reading in Japanese With essays by Charles J Quinn Jr Fumiko Harada and Chris Brckett Foreword by J Marshall Unger
