Readings in Russian Poetics Ladislav Matejka, Krystyna Pomorska, 1978 Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture and 'reality' in Film and Media Anne Jerslev, 2002 The 2002 theme of Northern Lights is dedicated to the representation of reality in film TV and new media a question of new importance in modern film and media where a new wave of realism has dominated cinema and reality TV became a mass phenomena on both TV and the internet Eleven articles by Danish British and American film and media researchers focus on two sub themes Film and Realism deals theoretically with film realism and analyses classic films and modern Danish Dogma films Documentary Forms Reality TV and New Media treats new forms of non fiction film TV and on the internet in a both theoretical and historical perspective Approaches to Popular Film Joanne Hollows, Mark Jancovich, 1995-05-15 Introductory textbook for A level and undergraduate courses Handbook for Biblical Interpretation W. Randolph Tate, 2012-11-01 This handbook provides a comprehensive guide to methods terms and concepts used by biblical interpreters It offers students and non specialists an accessible resource for understanding the complex vocabulary that accompanies serious biblical studies Articles arranged alphabetically explain terminology associated with reading the Bible as literature clarify the various methods Bible scholars use to study biblical texts and illuminate how different interpretive approaches can contribute to our understanding Article references and topical bibliographies point readers to resources for further study This handbook now updated and revised to be even more useful for students was previously published as Interpreting the Bible A Handbook of Terms and Methods It is a suitable complement to any standard hermeneutics textbook Student Writing and Genre Fiona English, 2011-04-14 This book is about how genres affect the ways students understand and engage with their disciplines offering a fresh approach to genre by using affordances as a key aspect in exploring the work of first year undergraduates who were given the task of reworking an essay by using a different genre Working within a social semiotic frame of reference it uses the notion of genre as a clear articulated tool for discussing the relationship between knowledge and representation It provides pedagogical solutions to contentions around genres disciplines academic discourses and their relation to student learning identity and power showing that given the opportunity to work with different genres students develop new ways of understanding and engaging with their disciplines Providing a strong argument for why a wider repertoire of genres is desirable at university this study opens up new possibilities for student writing learning and assessment It will appeal to teachers subject specialists researchers and postgraduates interested in higher education studies academic literacies writing in the disciplines and applied linguistics Acts and Collected Biography Sean A. Adams, 2013-10-17 It is widely accepted by New Testament scholars that the Gospel of Luke and the Acts of the Apostles probably originated as two parts of one work by a single author In spite of this the books have been assigned to very different genres Luke is traditionally viewed as a biography of Jesus and Acts as a history of the early church Comparing in detail the structure and content of Acts with the formal features of history novel epic and biography Sean A Adams challenges this division Applying both ancient and modern genre theory he argues that the best genre parallel for the Acts of the Apostles is in fact collected biography Offering a nuanced and sophisticated understanding of genre theory along with an insightful argument regarding the composition and purpose of Acts this book will be of interest to those studying the New Testament Acts genre theory and ancient literature Modern Genre Theory David Duff, 2014-09-11 Since Aristotle genre has been one of the fundamental concepts of literary theory and much of the world s literature and criticism has been shaped by ideas about the nature function and value of literary genres Modern developments in critical theory however prompted in part by the iconoclastic practices of modern writers and the emergence of new media such as film and television have put in question traditional categories and challenged the assumptions on which earlier genre theory was based This has led not just to a reinterpretation of individual genres and the development of new classifications but also to a radically new understanding of such key topics as the mixing and evolution of genres generic hierarchies and genre systems the politics and sociology of genres and the relations between genre and gender This anthology the first of its kind in English charts these fascinating developments Through judicious selections from major twentieth century genre theorists including Yury Tynyanov Vladimir Propp Mikhail Bakhtin Hans Robert Jauss Rosalie Colie Fredric Jameson Tzvetan Todorov G rard Genette and Jacques Derrida it demonstrates the central role that notions of genre have played in Russian Formalism structuralism and post structuralism reception theory and various modes of historical
