of translating genres such as women's writing, science fiction, and Internet literature. The argument presented is that the translation of peripheral literature is indispensable in shaping global literature. Beyond its literary implications, the book identifies the political significance inherent in such reverse translation endeavors. It suggests that the translation of Chinese literature holds notable political interest for the Chinese government, which aims to reshape China's image and bolster the nation's soft power through literary translation. This work will be an essential read to students and scholars of translation studies, comparative literature, and Chinese studies.

Readings in contemporary Chinese literature, 1953 Routledge Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature Ming Dong Gu, 2018-09-03 The Routledge Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature presents a comprehensive overview of Chinese literature from the 1910s to the present day. Featuring detailed studies of selected masterpieces, it adopts a thematic comparative approach. By developing an innovative conceptual framework predicated on a new theory of periodization, it thus situates Chinese literature in the context of world literature and the forces of globalization. Each section consists of a series of contributions examining the major literary genres, including fiction, poetry, essay, drama, and film. Offering an exciting account of the century-long process of literary modernization in China, the handbook's themes include Modernization of people and writing, Realism, romanticism, and modernist aesthetics, Chinese literature on the stage and screen, Patriotism, war and revolution, Feminism, liberalism, and socialism, Literature of reform, reflection, and experimentation, Literature of Taiwan, Hong Kong, and new media. This handbook provides an integration of biographical narrative with textual analysis, maintaining a subtle balance between comprehensive overview and in-depth examination. As such, it is an essential reference guide for all students and scholars of Chinese literature.
