Montreal After Dark Matthieu Caron, 2025-05-13 Sex and jazz liquor and gambling Montreal in the early twentieth century was a city that offered an exceptional nighttime scene in North America By mid century that scene came under scrutiny and Montreal s influential mayor Jean Drapeau would be elected for the first time on a reformist platform that promised to end corruption Over more than three decades Drapeau would endeavour to transform Montreal into a world class global city by regulating its nightlife Montreal After Dark chronicles the spaces where nighttime regulations were enforced and contested City authorities understood the night as enabling disorder and they reorganized policing and crafted bylaws to gain control over it Police and politicians mutually reinforced each other s drive to morally cleanse the urban landscape especially for international events like Expo 67 and the 1976 Olympics But in an era of social unrest Drapeau s administration also found itself responding to the protective services discontent The political culture of the city was quickly transformed following terrifying nights without their services Matthieu Caron shows how in an effort to incorporate the night into the expansionary tendencies of consumer capitalism municipal authorities took sides in a debate over who had the right to public space at night what constituted acceptable behaviour or expression whose sexual activity sustained the social order and whose threatened to destroy it In terms that are strikingly familiar today Montreal After Dark elucidates how the desires of politicians would come to reorganize how consumption and leisure labour and dissent noise sex and art were lived in Montreal after the sun went down

How Do We Look? Fatimah Tobing Rony, 2021-10-18 In How Do We Look Fatimah Tobing Rony draws on transnational images of Indonesian women as a way to theorize what she calls visual biopolitics the ways visual representation determines which lives are made to matter more than others Rony outlines the mechanisms of visual biopolitics by examining Paul Gauguin's 1893 portrait of Annah la Javanaise a trafficked thirteen year old girl found wandering the streets of Paris as well as US ethnographic and documentary films In each instance the figure of the Indonesian woman is inextricably tied to discourses of primitivism savagery colonialism exoticism and genocide Rony also focuses on acts of resistance to visual biopolitics in film writing and photography These works such as Rachmi Diyah Larasati's The Dance that Makes You Vanish Vincent Monnikendam's Mother Dao 1995 and the collaborative films of Nia Dinata challenge the naturalized methods of seeing that justify exploitation dehumanization and early death of people of color By theorizing the mechanisms of visual biopolitics Rony elucidates both its violence and its vulnerability

Alleviative Objects David Frohnapfel, 2020-12-07 The global field of contemporary art is shaped by inter racial conflicts Alleviative Objects approaches Caribbean art through intersectional entanglements and combines decolonial epistemologies with critical whiteness studies and affect theory in order to rethink Euro and U S centric perspectives on art race and class David Frohnapfel shows how progressive racism in the discourse on Haitian art recenters Whiteness by performing benign innocent and heroic identifications with the artist group Atis Rezistans While the study turns critically towards Whiteness it also turns away from it and towards the compelling contributions of Haitian curators and artists to the decentralization of contemporary art

A Cultural History of Dress and Fashion in the Age of Empire Denise Amy Baxter, 2018-11-01 During the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the production of dress shifted dramatically from being predominantly hand crafted in small quantities to machine manufactured in bulk The increasing democratization of appearances made new fashions more widely available but at the same time made the need to differentiate social rank seem more pressing In this age of empire the coding of class gender and race was frequently negotiated through dress in complex ways from fashionable dress which restricted or exaggerated the female body to liberating reform dress from self defining black dandies to the oppressions and resistances of slave dress Richly illustrated with over 100 images and drawing on a plethora of visual textual and object sources A Cultural History of Dress and Fashion in the Age of Empire presents essays on textiles production and distribution the body belief gender and sexuality status ethnicity and visual and literary representations to illustrate the diversity and cultural significance of dress and fashion in the period

Brain and Race Claudio Pogliano, 2020-06-02 Since the second half of the eighteenth century generations of scientists persisted in studying the relationships between the volume weight or shape of the human brain and the degree of intelligence In Pogliano's book the thread of time drives the narrative up to the mid twentieth century It investigates the duration and changes of a game that was intrinsically political although having to do with bones and nervous matter Races made its main object during a long period when Western culture believed the human species to be naturally partitioned into a number of discrete types with their innate and hereditary traits Never leading to irrefutable achievements the polycentric as well as visual enterprise herein described is full of growing tensions doubts and disillusionment

Pablo Picasso and Dora Maar Dr Enrique Mallen, 2021-03-12 Although Pablo Picasso spotted Dora Maar at a cafe in January 1936 it is highly likely that she had come to his attention prior As Brassa a Hungarian French photographer recalled It was at Les Deux Magots that one day in autumn 1935 he met Dora On an earlier day he had already noticed the grave drawn face of the young woman at a nearby table the attentive look in her light colored eyes sometimes disturbing in its fixity When Picasso saw her in the same cafe in the company of the surrealist poet Paul Irujo who knew her the poet introduced her to Picasso Brassa a k a Gyula Halasz Conversations with Picasso University of Chicago Press 1999 Tinged with a seductive mix of violence and dark eroticism this first meeting has attained mythical status in the story of the artist's life It reads like an unreal fantasy A mysterious and feline beauty which Man Ray had captured in the pictures he took of her a companion of Georges Bataille Dora was an accomplished photographer close to the Surrealists revolutionary aesthetics Picasso addressed her in French which he assumed to be her language she replied in Spanish which she knew to be his For the next decade the painter would translate not just his fascination with the woman who had seduced him on the spot but also his desire to escape the grip of someone who for the first time could intellectually aspire to be his equal Dora would appear in his works as a female Minotaur a Sphinx a lunar goddess and a muse Because of her intense artistic sensibility her poetic gifts and her ability to participate in suffering she was especially qualified to resonate Picasso's own inner torments during these troubled years

The Canadian Encyclopedia James H. Marsh, 1999 This edition of The Canadian Encyclopedia is the largest most comprehensive book ever published in Canada for the general reader It is COMPLETE every aspect of Canada from its rock formations to its rock bands is represented here It is UNABRIDGED all of the information in the four red volumes of the famous 1988 edition is contained here in this single volume It has been EXPANDED since 1988 teams of researchers have been diligently fleshing out old entries and recording new ones as a result the text from 1988 has grown by 50% to over 4 000 000 words It has been UPDATED the researchers and contributors worked hard to make the information as current as possible Other words apply to this extraordinary work of scholarship AUTHORITATIVE RELIABLE and READABLE Every entry is compiled by an expert Equally important every entry is written for a Canadian reader from the Canadian point of view The finished work many years in the making and the equivalent of forty average sized books is an extraordinary storehouse of information about our country This book deserves pride of place on the bookshelf in every Canadian Home It is no accident that the cover of this book is based on the Canadian flag For the proud truth is that this volume represents a great national achievement From its formal inception in 1979 this encyclopedia has always represented a vote of faith in Canada in Canada as a separate place whose natural worlds and whose peoples and their achievements deserve to be recorded and celebrated At the start of a new century and a new millennium in an increasingly borderless corporate world that seems ever more hostile to national distinctions and aspirations this Canadian Encyclopedia is offered in a spirit of defiance and of faith in our future The statistics behind this volume are staggering The opening sixty pages list the 250 Consultants the roughly 4 000 Contributors all experts in the field they describe and the scores of researchers editors typesetters proofreaders and others who contributed their skills to this massive project The 2 640 pages incorporate over 10 000 articles and over 4 000 000 words making it the largest some might say the greatest Canadian book ever published There are of course many special features These include a map of Canada a special page comparing the key statistics of the 23 major Canadian cities maps of our cities a variety of tables and photographs and finely detailed illustrations of our wildlife not to mention the colourful informative endpapers But above all the book is encyclopedic which the Canadian Oxford Dictionary describes as embracing all branches of learning This means that with rare exceptions there is satisfaction for the reader who seeks information on any Canadian subject From the first entry A mari usque ad mare from sea to sea which is Canada's motto and a good description of this volume's range to the Zouaves who mustered in Quebec to fight for the beleaguered Papacy there is the required summary of information clearly and accurately presented For the browser the constant variety of entries and the lure of regular cross references will provide hours of fascination The word encyclopedia derives from Greek expressions alluding to a grand circle of knowledge Our knowledge has expanded immeasurably since the time that one mind could encompass all that was known Yet now Canada's finest scientists academics and specialists have distilled their knowledge of our country between the covers of one volume The result is a book for every Canadian who values learning and values Canada European Biographical Directory ,1991
