The Widow Rugby's Husband Johnson Jones Hooper, 1851 Lisgar Collegiate Institute Joan Finnigan, Lisgar Alumni Association, 1993 Essays, Historical and Theological James Bowling Mozley, 1878 Baseball Beyond Our Borders George Gmelch, Daniel A. Nathan, 2017 Baseball Beyond Our Borders celebrates the globalization of the game while highlighting the different histories and cultures of the nations in which the sport is played. This collection of essays tells the story of America's national pastime as it has spread across the world and undergone instructive, entertaining and sometimes quirky changes in the process. Covering nineteen countries and a U.S. territory, the contributors show how each country imported baseball, how baseball took hold and developed, how it is organized, played and followed, and what local and regional traits tell us about the sport's place in each culture. But what lies in store as baseball's passport fills up with far-flung stamps? Will the international migration of players homogenize baseball? What role will the World Baseball Classic play? These are just a few of the questions the authors pose. 1825-1854 Charles Wells Moulton, 1905 The Library of Literary Criticism of English and American Authors: 1825-1854 Charles Wells Moulton, 1902 The Oxford Magazine, 1899

Football Graeme Dobson, TRACING FOOTBALL'S FAMILY TREE Week in, week out, hundreds of thousands of people enthusiastically risk life, limb and dignity just to play some kind of football, blissfully unaware that they're playing a game that's at least as old as the Pyramids and Stonehenge. Graeme Dobson takes the reader on a romp through 5,000 years of extraordinary history as he traces the family tree of all the modern football codes. He identifies a startling array of ancestors from English school boys all the way back through Vikings, Greeks and a host of other players to an ancient Chinese warlord. Along the way, he introduces huge professional football leagues complete with female players and fan clubs that existed 1,000 years ago. Like in any family tree, there are bizarre black sheep and myths to investigate, like were the first games played with the heads of executed criminals. Was soccer invented by the English? Did rugby originate when Web Ellis picked the ball up and ran with it during a soccer match? Which came first, Australian or Gaelic football? And could a mob of Kiwis really be responsible for rugby league in Australia? The answers are both intriguing and unexpected. Sports in Africa, Past and Present Todd Cleveland, Tarminder Kaur, Gerard Akindes, 2020-10-20. These groundbreaking essays demonstrate how Africans past and present have utilized sports to forge complex identities and shape Africa's dynamic place in the world. Since the late nineteenth century, modern sports in Africa have both reflected and shaped cultural, social, political, economic, generational and gender relations on the continent. Although colonial powers originally introduced European sports as a means of civilizing indigenous populations and upholding then-current notions of racial hierarchies and muscular Christianity, Africans quickly appropriated these sporting practices to fulfill their own varied interests. This collection encompasses a wide range of topics, including women footballers in Nigeria, Kenya's world-class long-distance runners, pitches and stadiums in communities large and small, fandom and pay to watch, kiosks, the sporting diaspora, sports pedagogy, sports as resistance, and as a means to forge identity sports heritage the impact of politics on sports and sporting biography Paradise Reforged James Belich, 2002-05-22 This book is the eagerly awaited companion to Professor James Belich's acclaimed Making Peoples published in New Zealand Britain and the United States in 1996 Making Peoples was hailed as a turning point in the writing of New Zealand history Paradise Reforged picks up where Making Peoples left off taking the story of the New Zealanders from the 1880s to the end of the twentieth century It begins with the search for Better Britain and ends by analysing the modern Maori resurgence the new Pakeha consciousness and the implications of a reinterpreted past for New Zealand's future Along the way the book deals with subjects ranging from sport and sex to childhood and popular culture Critics hailed Making Peoples as brilliant and the most ambitious book yet written on this country's past Paradise Reforged its successor adopts a similarly incisive original sweep across the New Zealand historical landscape in confronting the myths of the past
