Ruins of the Southwest Jeff Nicholas, 2003 Glorious full color postcard sets that capture the landscapes and scenes to be shared with friends and family 5 x 7 15 postcards each CRM Bulletin United States. National Park Service. Cultural Resources Management Division, 1994 Mapping Wonderlands Dori Griffin, 2013-05-02 Though tourism now plays a recognized role in historical research and regional studies the study of popular touristic images remains sidelined by chronological histories and objective statistics Further Arizona remains underexplored as an early twentieth century tourism destination when compared with nearby California and New Mexico With the notable exception of the Grand Canyon little has been written about tourism in the early days of Arizona s statehood Mapping Wonderlands fills part of this gap in existing regional studies by looking at early popular pictorial maps of Arizona These cartographic representations of the state utilize formal mapmaking conventions to create a place based state history They introduce illustrations unique naming conventions and written narratives to create carefully visualized landscapes that emphasize the touristic aspects of Arizona Analyzing the visual culture of tourism in illuminating detail this book documents how Arizona came to be identified as an appealing tourism destination Providing a historically situated analysis Dori Griffin draws on samples from a comprehensive collection of materials generated to promote tourism during Arizona s first half century of statehood She investigates the relationship between natural and constructed landscapes visual culture and narratives of place Featuring sixty six examples of these aesthetically appealing maps the book details how such maps offered tourists and other users a cohesive and storied image of the state Using historical documentation and rhetorical analysis this book combines visual design and historical narrative to reveal how early twentieth century mapmakers and map users collaborated to imagine Arizona as a tourist s paradise

Nasha Bil Hoga, He Who Walks Alone Mike Wyant, 2013-02-22 An eleven year old Navajo boy is taken by force from his Arizona reservation home and bussed to Fort Sill Indian School near Lawton and Fort Sill Oklahoma in 1949 The U S law requires the Navajo children to attend school in a federally operated boarding school The boy is treated roughly at his capture and on the bus trip He vows to escape from the school and walk run back the eight hundred miles back to his home realizing he has no money and does not trust the white man He is forced to rely on his survival skills He makes several friends at the school However in the spring he leaves at night and starts his journey home The challenges he faces at the school and also his journey and how he overcomes those challenges are detailed When he finally reaches his home area he hears crying from several people and creeps through the sagebrush to see what is happening The same government agents who seized him are trying to wrestle an eight year old girl from her mother and grandmother and put her on the bus But while that happens the boy slips unnoticed on to the bus and invites all the children to follow him and he will hide and protect them until the agents have gone and stopped looking for them Twenty one of the children come with him and he hikes for two days covering his trails until he reaches an old unknown cliff dwelling that he and his family had stayed at many times It is well hidden For close to a year the children survive in the cliff dwelling learning Indian skills from the boy and school skills from a twelve year old girl Meanwhile a large political battle takes place for many months and finally the law is changed so the Navajo children can stay on the reservation to learn the white mans ways and education When all the papers have been signed by the Congress and the president the childrens group is able to return home A large dinner is planned by the tribal council for their return At this dinner the boy Jeff White Cloud has his name formally changed by the tribal leaders to Nasha Bi Hoga He Who Walks Alone CRM ,1995 Southwest Cultural Resources Center Professional Papers ,1983

Ruin and Resilience Daniel Spoth,Scott Romine,2023-04-05 In Ruin and Resilience Daniel Spoth confronts why the environmental stories told about the U S South curve inevitably toward distressing plotlines Examining more than a dozen works of postbellum literature and cinema Spoth s analysis winds from John Muir s walking journey across the war torn South through the troubling of southern environmentalism s modernity by Faulkner and Hurston past the accounts of its acceleration in Welty and O Connor and finally into the present uncovering how the tragic econarrative is transformed by contemporary food studies climate fiction and speculative tales inspired by the region Phrased as a reaction to the rising temperatures and swelling sea levels in the South Ruin and Resilience conceptualizes an environmental ecocritical ethos for the southern United States that takes account of its fundamentally vulnerable status and navigates the space between its reactionary politics and its ecological failures
