Maritime Boundary Delimitation Thomas Cottier,2015-04-30 Equity emerged as a powerful symbol of aspired redistribution in international relations Operationally it has had limited impact in the Westphalian system of nation states except for maritime boundary delimitations This book deals with the role of equity in international law and offers a detailed case study on maritime boundary delimitation in the context of the enclosure movement in the law of the sea It assesses treaty law and the impact of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea It depicts the process of trial and error in the extensive case law of the International Court of Justice and arbitral tribunals and expounds the underlying principles and factors informing the methodology both in adjudication and negotiations Unlike other books the main focus is on equity and its implications for legal methodology in particular offering further guidance in the field of international economic law

Imposed Rationality and Besieged Imagination Gustavo Pereira,2019-10-24 Social pathologies are social processes that hinder how individuals exercise their autonomy and freedom In this book Gustavo Pereira offers an account of such phenomena by defining them as a cognitive failure that affects the practical imagination thus negatively interfering with our practical life This failure of the imagination is the consequence of the imposition of a type of practical rationality on a practical context alien to it caused by a non conscious transformation of the individuals set of beliefs and values The research undertaken provides an innovative explanation in terms of microfoundations based on the mechanism of availability heuristic by which the diminished exercise of the imagination turns the intuitively available or prevailing rationality into the one that regulates behaviour in inappropriate contexts Additionally this incorrect regulation results in a progressive distortion of the shared sense of the affected practical contexts which becomes institutionalized Consumerism bureaucratism moralism

juridification some forms of corruption and the particular Latin American case of malinchism can be interpreted as social pathologies insofar as they imply such distortion This way of conceptualizing social pathologies integrates the traditional sociological macro explanation manifested through the negative consequences of the processes of social rationalization with a micro explanation articulated around the findings of cognitive psychology such as availability heuristic Understanding social pathologies as a cognitive failure allows us to identify the introduction of normative friction as the main way to counteract their effects One of the potential effects of normative friction as a specific form of cognitive dissonance is the intense exercise of the imagination thus operating as a condition of possibility for the exercise of autonomy and reflection Democratic ethical life understood as a shared democratic culture as well as social institutions and narratives are the privileged social spaces and means to trigger reflective processes that can counteract social pathologies through a reflective reappropriation of the meaning of the shared practical context An extraordinary contribution by a Critical Theorist to the return of the concept of imagination today It takes up the challenge once taken by Kant to think about imagination as the pivotal activity not only of knowledge and experience but above all for action The author claims that imagination makes criticism possible pathologies and it allows us to envision alternative views into the path for social transformation Without imagination nothing is possible Mar a P a Lara Universidad Aut noma Metropolitana Iztapalapa Mexico Rules without Rights Tim Bartley, 2018-02-08 Activists have exposed startling forms of labor exploitation and environmental degradation in global industries leading many large retailers and brands to adopt standards for fairness and sustainability This book is about the idea that transnational corporations can push these standards through their global supply chains and in effect pull factories forests and farms out of their local contexts and up to global best practices For many scholars and practitioners this kind of private regulation and global standard setting can provide an alternative to regulation by territorially bound gridlocked or incapacitated nation states potentially improving environments and working conditions around the world and protecting the rights of exploited workers impoverished farmers and marginalized communities But can private voluntary standards actually create meaningful forms of regulation Are forests and factories around the world actually being made into sustainable ecosystems and decent workplaces Can global norms remake local orders This book provides striking new answers by comparing the private regulation of land and labor in democratic and authoritarian settings Case studies of sustainable forestry and fair labour standards in Indonesia and China show not only how transnational standards are implemented on the ground but also how they are constrained and reconfigured by domestic governance Combining rich multi method analyses a powerful comparative approach and a new theory of private regulation Rules without Rights reveals the contours and contradictions of transnational governance Transformations in Governance is a major new academic book series from Oxford University Press It is designed to accommodate the impressive growth of research in comparative politics international relations public policy federalism environmental and urban studies concerned with the dispersion of authority from central states up to supranational institutions down to subnational governments and side ways to public private networks It brings together work that significantly advances our understanding of the organization causes and consequences of multilevel and complex governance The series is selective containing annually a small number of books of exceptionally high quality by leading and emerging scholars The series targets mainly single authored or co authored work but it is pluralistic in terms of disciplinary specialization research design method and geographical scope Case studies as well as comparative studies historical as well as contemporary studies and studies with a national regional or international focus are all central to its aims Authors use qualitative quantitative formal modeling or mixed methods A trade mark of the books is that they combine scholarly rigour with readable prose and an attractive production style The series is edited by Liesbet Hooghe and Gary Marks of the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill and Walter Mattli of the University of Oxford

Machine Learning in Healthcare Informatics Sumeet Dua,U. Rajendra Acharya,Prerna Dua,2013-12-09 The book is a unique effort to represent a variety of techniques designed to represent enhance and empower multi disciplinary and multi institutional machine learning research in healthcare informatics The book provides a unique compendium of current and emerging machine learning paradigms for healthcare informatics and reflects the diversity complexity and the depth and breath of this multi disciplinary area The integrated panoramic view of data and machine learning techniques can provide an opportunity for novel clinical insights and discoveries
