Running The Risk:

Directions in Corpus Linguistics Jan Svartvik, 2011-06-01 TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language. The series publishes state of the art work on core areas of linguistics across theoretical frameworks as well as studies that provide new insights by approaching language from an interdisciplinary perspective. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS considers itself a forum for cutting edge research based on solid empirical data on language in its various manifestations including sign languages. It regards linguistic variation in its synchronic and diachronic dimensions as well as in its social contexts as important sources of insight for a better understanding of the design of linguistic systems and the ecology and evolution of language. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS publishes monographs and outstanding dissertations as well as edited volumes which provide the opportunity to address controversial topics from different empirical and theoretical viewpoints. High quality standards are ensured through anonymous reviewing. To discuss your book idea or submit a proposal please contact Birgit Sievert.

Run. Risk. Reward. Ryan Sandes, Steve Smith, 2024-09-01 As a follow up to his hugely popular 2016 autobiography Trailblazer Ryan Sandes new book explores the gripping and often life threatening adventures this extraordinary ultra trail runner has experienced around the globe since then. Not only have these projects tested the very edge of human endurance but on several occasions Ryan literally had to run for his life. Along with a 1 500 kilometre Himalayan adventure read about his attempt at completing the first 700 kilometre solo run up Namibia's legendary Skeleton Coast only to stumble upon some very angry Namibian soldiers conducting controversial seal clubbing. And with his running partner Ryno Griesel becoming the first people to run the entire circumference of Lesotho in one go during which they find themselves fighting off an attack from local herdsmen armed with rocks and knobkerries. In between these adventures Ryan battles to balance a challenging career with a dedicated commitment to his young family. Run Risk Reward is packed with adventure humour and some fascinating insights into the psyche of an ultra endurance athlete. These people are not like you and me.

Competition Vs. Stability: Oligopolistic Banking System with Run Risk Mr. Damien Capelle, 2021-04-23 This paper develops a model where large financial intermediaries subject to systemic runs internalize the effect of their leverage on aggregate risk returns and asset prices. Near the steady state they restrict leverage to avoid the risk of a run which gives rise to an accelerator effect. For large adverse shocks the system enters a zone with high leverage and possibly runs. The length of time the system remains in this zone depends on the degree of concentration through a franchise value price drop and recapitalization channels. The speed of entry of new banks after a collapse has a stabilizing effect.

Banks' Joint Exposure to Market and Run Risk

Alexander Copestake, Mr. Divya Kirti, Yang Liu, 2023-09-22 Recent failures of US banks highlight that large liability withdrawals can damage capital positions i.e. that liquidity risk and solvency risk interact A simple risk assessment for banks in a wide group of countries finds sizable exposure to this interaction This varies significantly across banks primarily reflecting differences in cash buffers capitalization securities holdings and exposure to market risk and is highly concentrated Vulnerability is generally greater for banks in AEs due to lower cash buffers securities holdings and capitalization Within AEs unlike in EMs larger banks are most exposed due to greater wholesale funding and thinner capital buffers Estimated aggregate losses are substantial in some countries reflecting a range of recent shocks

Making Risk Management Work Ruth Murray-Webster, Penny Pullan, 2022-10-10 Making risk management work means engaging people to identify own and manage risk Many organisations have spent considerable time and money setting up risk frameworks processes and supporting tools but these have failed to deliver value Instead they should focus on the people Bringing together the expertise of Ruth Murray Webster in the human aspects of risk management and Penny Pullan's deep expertise in facilitation creative collaboration and virtual leadership this book provides tried and tested approaches to make each process step work well within the context of your own organisation and serves as a guide as to how to work effectively with groups By translating a highly technical and complex subject into an easy to follow guide this book goes beyond tick box approaches and provides top tips on how to engage others in developing risk management solutions and how to avoid many of the common pitfalls This new edition includes two brand new chapters one taking a deeper dive into the common decision biases among groups in organisations and one looking at remote and hybrid ways of communication and facilitation If you are involved in trying to make risk management work whatever the context this book will provide you with support and practical advice in an approachable way supported by real life examples and memorable illustrations

Cross-country Consumption Risk Sharing, a Long-run Perspective Mr.Zhaogang Qiao, 2010-03-01 This paper estimates an empirical nonstationary panel regression model that tests long run consumption risk sharing across a sample of OECD and emerging market EM countries This is in contrast to the existing literature on consumption risk sharing which is mainly about risks at business cycle frequency Since our methodology focuses on identifying cointegrating relationships while allowing for arbitrary short run dynamics we can obtain a consistent estimate of long run risk sharing while disregarding any short run nuisance factors Our results show that long run risk sharing in OECD countries increased more than that in EM countries during the past two decades
