Global Environmental Issues Frances

Harris, 2012-01-30 Global Environmental Issues second edition builds on the popularity of the first edition viewing global environmental problems as complex issues with a network of causes influenced by a range of actors with differing priorities. The book recognises that science underpins much of what happens in society and therefore it is important to be able to interpret the environmental and social consequences of scientific developments. In addition to discussing the main biophysical causes, the book illustrates how socio-economic and political factors determine why and how people use land resources and technology and how this in turn affects natural resource management. This edition includes new chapters on the politics of science, international environmental regulation and treaties, environmental issues in a globalised world and natural resource management. Global Environmental Issues second edition is essential reading for upper level undergraduates and Masters students within departments of Environmental Science and Geography. Includes case studies from around the world to provide a real life context for the issues tackled in each chapter. Considers both the results of human actions and natural environmental change in order to provide balanced in-depth debate. Includes coverage of contemporary hot topics such as biodiversity, globalization and sustainable development. Chapters authored by experts in the field. Includes new chapters on The politics of science, International environmental regulation and treaties, Environmental issues in a globalised world and Natural Resource Management. Expanded sections include negotiating multilateral environmental agreements, GM crops, biofuels and marine and freshwater resources. The Routledge Handbook on Cities of the Global South Susan Parnell, Sophie Oldfield, 2014-03-26 The renaissance in urban theory draws directly from a fresh focus on the neglected realities of cities beyond the west and embraces the global south as the epicentre of urbanism. This Handbook engages the complex ways in which cities of the global south and the global north are rapidly shifting the imperative for multiple genealogies of knowledge production as well as a diversity of empirical entry points to understand contemporary urban dynamics. The Handbook works towards a geographical realignment in urban studies bringing into conversation a wide array of cities across the global south, the ordinary, mega, global and peripheral. With interdisciplinary contributions from a range of leading international experts, it profiles an emergent and geographically diverse body of work. The contributions draw on conflicting and divergent debates to open up discussion on the meaning of the city in or of the global south, arguments that are fluid and increasingly contested geographically and conceptually. It reflects on critical urbanism, the macro and micro scale forces that shape cities including ideological, demographic and technological shifts and constantly changing global and regional economic dynamics. Working with southern reference points, the chapters present themes in urban politics, identity and environment in ways that re-frame our thinking about cities. The Handbook engages the twenty-first century city through a southern urban lens to stimulate scholarly, professional and activist engagements with the city.
