Effective Public Involvement Using Limited Resources Anne Caroline Morris, Louise Fragala, National Cooperative Highway Research Program, 2010 This synthesis was prepared to report on the state of the practice and to identify effective public involvement using limited resources Basic information is offered here for transportation agencies to further their efforts in this area This synthesis provides information about staff and agency experiences in the application of effective and cost effective strategies and implementation techniques used to engage the public in the development of transportation plans and projects as well as strategies found to be ineffective It captures respondents definitions of successful effective and cost effective public involvement and reveals a rudimentary state of the practice in the areas of costs and measures of effectiveness Although there appeared to be no clear cut definitions of responsibilities or implementation strategies similarities and differences were identified in four areas organizational structure staffing cost quantification and process Detailed appendices provide abstracts of the literature reviewed and document survey questionnaire interview responses

Public Policymaking in Hong Kong Eliza W. Y. Lee, 2013 Why and how has civic engagement emerged in the policy process of Hong Kong as an Asian semi democratic state This book attempts to answer this question through examining six cases that straddle diverse policy domains It identifies three explanatory factors namely the profile of a policy domain the structure of societal interest and the strength of the civil society sector as important in shaping the state s strategy in managing society hence its propensity to engage These factors affect the outcome through dynamic interaction between the state and societal actors The findings outlined in the book show that the development of civic engagement in Hong Kong consists of both society led and state led cases Society led development brought about a high degree of openness and inclusiveness whereas state led civic engagement practices tended to be tactics utilized by the state for appeasing or depoliticizing civil society Compared with other Asian regimes the use of transgressive contention as a way to compel the state to engage society is a feature that stands out in the liberal autocratic regime in Hong Kong Organizing Eating
