Realist Theory of Art History Ian Verstegen,2013-01-03 As the theoretical alignments within academia shift this book introduces a surprising variety of realism to abolish the old positivist theory dichotomy that has haunted Art History Demanding frankly the referential detachment of the objects under study the book proposes a stratified multi causal account of art history that addresses postmodern concerns while saving it from its errors of self refutation Building from the very basic distinction between intransitive being and transitive knowing objects can be affirmed as real while our knowledge of them is held to be fallible Several focused chapters address basic problems while introducing philosophical reflection into art history These include basic ontological distinctions between society and culture general and special history the discontinuity of cultural objects the importance of definition for special history scales facets and fiat objects as forms of historical structure the nature of evidence and proof historical truth and controversies Stressing Critical Realism as the stratified multi causal approach needed for productive research today in the academy this book creates the subject of the ontology of art history and sets aside a theoretical space for metaphysical reflection thus clarifying the usually muddy distinction between theory methodology and historiography in art history      Means and Ends Joseph Rotblat,1976      The Everyday World As

Problematic Dorothy E. Smith,2012-01-15 In this collection of essays sociologist Dorothy E Smith develops a method for analyzing how women and men view contemporary society from specific gendered points of view She shows how social relations and the theories that describe them must express the concrete historical and geographical details of everyday lives A vital sociology from the standpoint of women the volume is applicable to a variety of subjects and will be especially useful in courses in sociological theory and methods      Key Writers on Art: The Twentieth Century Chris Murray,2005-06-27 A unique and authoritative guide to modern responses to art Featuring forty eight essays and written by a panel of expert contributors it introduces readers to the key approaches and analytical tools of contemporary art study and debate

Understanding the Visual Tony Schirato,Jen Webb,2004-10-13 In a world preoccupied with the visual it has become essential to understand the dynamics of images and interpret them This volume shows the reader how to analyse the structure conventions contexts and uses of the visual in Western cultures      Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1979      The Judgment of Sense David Summers,1990-02-23 With the rise of naturalism in the art of the late Middle Ages and the Renaissance there developed an extensive and diverse literature about art which helped to explain justify and shape its new aims In this book David Summers provides an investigation of the philosophical and psychological notions invoked in this new theory and criticism From a thorough examination of the sources he shows how the medieval language of mental discourse derived from an understanding of classical thought

Translations of the Sublime Caroline A. van Eck, Caroline Van Eck, Stijn Bussels, Maarten Delbeke, Jürgen Pieters, 2012-09-28 The present volume is a first attempt to chart the early modern translations of Peri hupsous both in the literal sense of the history of its dissemination by means of editions versions and translations in Latin and vernacular languages but also in the figurative sense of its uses and transformations in the visual arts from 1500 to 1800

The Books that Shaped Art History: From Gombrich and Greenberg to Alpers and Krauss Richard Shone, John-Paul Stonard, 2013-04-05 An exemplary survey that reassesses the impact of the most important books to have shaped art history through the twentieth century Written by some of today s leading art historians and curators this new collection provides an invaluable road map of the field by comparing and reexamining canonical works of art history From mile M le s magisterial study of thirteenth century French art first published in 1898 to Hans Belting s provocative Likeness and Presence A History of the Image before the Era of Art the book provides a concise and insightful overview of the history of art told through its most enduring literature Each of the essays looks at the impact of a single major book of art history mapping the intellectual development of the writer under review setting out the premises and argument of the book considering its position within the broader field of art history and analyzing its significance in the context of both its initial reception and its afterlife An introduction by John Paul Stonard explores how art history has been forged by outstanding contributions to scholarship and by the dialogues and ruptures between them

The Place of Narrative Marilyn Aronberg Lavin, 1990-12-15 Looking at more than two hundred Italian medieval and Renaissance mural cycles Lavin examines with the aid of computer technology the rearranged chronologies of familiar religious stories found therein Like many masterpieces Lavin s book builds upon a simple idea it is possible to do a computer analysis of visual narratives This is the first computer based study of the visual arts of which I am aware that illustrates how those technologies can utterly transform the study of old master art An extremely important book one likely to become the most influential recent study of art of this period The Place of Narrative is also a beautiful artifact David Carrier Leonardo Covering over a millennium and dealing with the whole of Italy Lavin makes pioneering use of new methodology employing a computer database and novel terminology to describe the disposition of scenes of church and chapel walls We should recognize this as a book of high seriousness which reaches out into new areas and which will fruitfully stimulate much thought on a neglected subject of very considerable significance Julian Gardner Burlington Magazine

The Psychology of Perspective and Renaissance Art Michael Kubovy, 1986 Michael Kubovy an experimental psychologist recounts the lively history of the invention of perspective in the fifteenth century and shows how as soon as the invention spread it was used to achieve subtle and fascinating aesthetic effects A clear presentation of the fundamental concepts of perspective and the reasons for its effectiveness drawing on the latest laboratory research on how people perceive leads into the development of a new theory to explain why Renaissance artists such as Leonardo and Mantegna used perspective in unorthodox ways which have puzzled art scholars This theory illuminates the author's broader consideration of the evolution of art the book proposes a resolution of the debate between those who believe that the invention/discovery of perspective is a stage in the steady progress of art and those who believe that perspective is merely a conventional and arbitrary system for the representation of space

Reconciling Art and Technology Subrata Dasgupta, 2024-05-14 This book examines two venerable cultures art and technology and uses the young interdisciplinary of cognitive history combined with case studies of both ancient and modern artifacts to explore and unveil some of the bridges by which this reconciliation of two seemingly distant and oppositional cultures can be effected Art and technology are commonly regarded as oppositional While both are concerned with made things artifacts and both have their origins in pre-literate antiquity the primary purposes they are intended for are quite distinct the artifacts of technology serve utilitarian purposes while those of art serve affective needs This opposition between art and technology notably argued by such scholars as Lewis Mumford and George Kubler is challenged in this book For when we consider art and technology as creative phenomena then many significant interesting and often subtle commonalities emerge whereby a reconciliation a unity of these two great cultures seems possible This book utilizes case studies of both ancient and modern artifacts ranging from the Nataraja sculpture of ancient India a great astronomical clock of ancient China and Japanese Samurai swordmaking through Gothic cathedrals and Renaissance paintings of Europe to English Elizabethan machinery to the French Impressionists to modernist concrete structures and paintings in both East and West This book will be of interest to students and professional scholars interested in the histories of art and technology cultural history and creativity studies

Reflections on American Foreign Policy Since 1945 Christopher Coker, 1989 Coker's theme is how Americans have relied on myth and imagery to create for themselves a past an identity and a political culture from which their foreign policy springs Events occur which challenge these myths and threaten to undermine the nation's self-confidence in world affairs

The Poetics of Perspective James Elkins, 2018-10-18 Perspective has been a divided subject orphaned among various disciplines from philosophy to gardening In the first book to bring together recent thinking on perspective from such fields as art history literary theory aesthetics psychology and the history of mathematics James Elkins leads us to a new understanding of how we talk about pictures Elkins provides an abundantly illustrated history of the theory and practice of perspective Looking at key texts from the Renaissance to the present he traces a fundamental historical change that took place in the way in which perspective was conceptualized first a technique for constructing pictures it slowly became a metaphor for subjectivity That gradual transformation he observes has led to the rifts that today separate those who understand perspective as a historical or formal property of pictures from those who see it as a linguistic cognitive or epistemological metaphor Elkins considers how the principal concepts of perspective have been rewritten in work by Erwin Panofsky Hubert Damisch Martin Jay Paul Ricoeur Jacques Lacan Maurice Merleau Ponty and E H Gombrich The Poetics of Perspective illustrates that perspective is an unusual kind of subject it exists as a coherent idea but no one discipline offers an adequate exposition of it Rather than presenting perspective as a resonant metaphor for subjectivity a painter's tool without meaning a disused historical practice or a model for vision and representation Elkins proposes a comprehensive revaluation The perspective he describes is at once a series of specific pictorial decisions and a powerful figure for our knowledge of the world

Theatre to Cinema Ben Brewster, Lea Jacobs, 1997 On the relationship between early cinema and 19th century theatre

Art and its Objects Richard Wollheim, 2015-10-08 Richard Wollheim's classic reflection on art considers central questions regarding expression representation style the significance of the artist's intention and the essentially historical nature of art Presented in a fresh series livery for the twenty first century with a specially commissioned preface written by Richard Eldridge illuminating its continuing importance and relevance to philosophical enquiry Art and its Objects continues to be a perceptive and engaging introduction to the questions and philosophical issues raised by works of art and the part they play in our culture and society Wollheim's insights into theories of art criticism perception and the nature of aesthetic value make this one of the most influential works on aesthetics of the twentieth century
