Measuring Country Performance On Health Selected Indicators For 115 Countries:

Measuring Country Performance on Health Jia Wang,1999 Health outcomes constitute one natural starting point for assessment of the consequences of policies affecting health systems Yet country characteristics also influence health outcomes Performance on health outcomes is critical for human welfare and until now country decisionmakers and policy analysts have had no systematic way to judge performance This report provides them with that capacity This report contains the results for 15 countries at five year intervals from 1960 to 1990 on six health indicators under five mortality rates total fertility rates adult mortality rates for males and females and life expectancy at birth for males and females In this report the authors take aspects of health system performance and describe how countries compare with each other and how their own performance has improved or failed to improve over time The goal of the study is to prepare a reference document that provides measures that can be used to assess the consequences of policy Part of the Health Nutrition and Population Series HNP

What Can We Learn about Country Performance from Conditional Comparisons Across Countries? Martin Ravallion,2000 Existing methods for assessing latent country or institutional performance can yield deceptive results

On

Measuring Aggregate "social Efficiency" Martin Ravallion,2003 HIV/AIDS in Latin American Countries Anabela Garcia-Abreu,Isabel Noguer,Karen Cowgill,2003-01-01 Annotation The report evaluates current national surveillance capacity and assesses national responses of the health sector to the epidemic on a country by country basis Importantly the report identifies key areas in which specific interventions are urgently needed and the challenges ahead

Inequity in

Indian Health Care Brijesh C. Purohit,2017-09-14 This book addresses major aspects of inequity such as access financing financial risk protection gender service delivery and utilization in the healthcare sector in India Further it discusses various measures for defining inequity in each of these aspects and employs different indices for each dimension of inequity which include financing utilization region health outcomes caste and class and gender The book covers both theoretical and empirical issues examining fifteen major Indian States as well as selected case studies at the district level Combining quantitative and qualitative analyses the book provides an overall view of the outcomes attributable to both economic development and policy changes per se While providing essential data and insights for policymakers and researchers alike the book also outlines further feasible policy changes that could potentially mitigate the current inequities in Indian healthcare As such it offers a valuable resource for upper graduate level students in health economics as well as for researchers and policymakers

Financing Universal Access To Healthcare: A Comparative Review Of Landmark Legislative Health Reforms In The Oecd Alexander S Preker,2018-03-20 The recent expansion of health insurance coverage in the USA under the Affordable Health Care Act and current threats to reverse the benefits of this reform have once again focused the world's attention on the difficult challenges faced by other countries trying to provide better access to healthcare to their population at an affordable cost This textbook provides a comparative review of financing universal access to healthcare in the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development OECD countries The first two chapters of the book provide a framework for financing universal access to healthcare The remaining eight chapters present case studies of eight OECD countries that have successfully introduced reforms to finance universal access to healthcare for their population through landmark legislative reforms A concluding chapter focuses on the lessons learned from the OECD and recommendations from policymakers and others who are planning similar reforms The book is designed as a learning tool for students and as a user guide for policymakers Health Economics in Development Philip Musgrove,2004 This publication contains a collection of papers which span 21 years of the author s thought and experiences regarding the subject on health economics working at the Pan American Health Organization the World Health Organization and the World Bank The papers consider a range of topics including the connection between public health and economics the issue of equity in health effectiveness and efficiency particularly in relation to communicable diseases and malnutrition health financing how the burden of ill health is measured the roles of the state and the market in health The empirical material refers to a variety of specific health problems or interventions including smoking polio malaria immunisation and various forms of malnutrition

Human Development Report 2001 , Disease Control Priorities, Third Edition (Volume 9) Dean T. Jamison,Hellen Gelband,Susan Horton,Prabhat Jha,Charles N. Mock,Rachel Nugent,2017-12-06 As the culminating volume in the DCP3 series volume 9 will provide an overview of DCP3 findings and methods a summary of messages and substantive lessons to be taken from DCP3 and a further discussion of cross cutting and synthesizing topics across the first eight volumes The introductory chapters 1 3 in this volume take as their starting point the elements of the Essential Packages presented in the overview chapters of each volume First the chapter on intersectoral policy priorities for health includes fiscal and intersectoral policies and assembles a subset of the population policies and applies strict criteria for a low income setting in order to propose a highest priority essential package Second the chapter on packages of care and delivery platforms for universal health coverage UHC includes health sector interventions primarily clinical and public health services and uses the same approach to propose a highest priority package of interventions and policies that meet similar criteria provides cost estimates and describes a pathway to UHC Rediscovering Gandhi Vinnie Jauhari,Parul Wasan,2014-01-01 The book is based on successful interventions implemented in India with powerful lessons for policy makers NGO s and corporate firms A range of theses have been covered in the book such as empowerment of women sustainable livelihoods sustainable health for all corporate social responsibility and communities The book draws insights from Gandhian philosophy which suggests that only human beings can create a society that is egalitarian decentralised peace loving and progressive There is a need to balance economic growth with social regeneration by involving the poor in the larger interests of the society and to rearticulate technology to suit the aptitude and skills of the people Only those cases have been included in this volume which have been successfully demonstrated in India and can be replicated elsewhere with appropriate contextual changes

Innovations in Health Service Delivery Alexander S. Preker,April Harding,2003 As the largest expenditure category of the health systems in both industrialised and developing countries hospital care provision has been the focus of reforms over recent decades This publication reviews recent trends in hospital policy reforms and options around the world and includes case studies which offer insights into lessons learned Issues considered include differences in income levels cultural settings and market environments organisational changes such as increased management autonomy and privatisation the need for parallel reforms and effective evaluation mechanisms

Social Sector in India Padmaja Mishra,Himanshu Sekhar Rout,2015-10-13 As education and health are two major areas of concern in the context of social sector development and human development achievements this book explores their situation in India The liberalisation of the Indian economy had a major impact on the growth rate of its Gross Domestic Product GDP with the economic growth of the country jumping from the so called Hindu growth rate of 3.5% to 8.9% per annum The literacy rate increased to 74.04% in 2011 from 12% in 1947 while the universalization of elementary education has been achieved to a great extent and dropout rates have decreased However despite considerable progress exclusions and wide disparities still exist Combining access with affordability and ensuring quality with good governance and adequate finance are still of great concern On the health front significant achievements have also been made with a number of diseases eradicated or on the verge of elimination There has been a substantial drop in the Total Fertility Rate TFR and Infant Mortality Rate IMR and life expectancy has increased from 36.7 years in 1951 to 67.14 in 2011 The crude birth rate has been reduced from 40.8 in 1951 to 20.6 in 2012 and the crude death rate from 25.1 to 7.43 in the same period These achievements are impressive but at the same time our failures appear even more glaring As such this volume brings together contributions from eminent Indian scholars on a range of social issues including linkages between growth poverty and the social sector the efficiency of social sector spending in India disparity in health statuses IPR protection in health innovations pollution and health the universalisation of elementary education problems faced at the higher levels of education and issues of child labour

Better Health Systems for India's Poor David H. Peters,2002-01-01 This report focuses on health sector reform and outlines some broad measures for reform in this sector It evaluates policy options and presents the theory and evidence to support these policy choices This report also offers specific proposals to improve health policy and strengthen implementation across India It is a product of extensive consultation and research undertaken by more than a dozen institutions

Reducing Maternal Mortality Marjorie A. Koblinsky,2003 To assist countries in their efforts to improve maternal health and reduce maternal mortality the World Bank is publishing two volumes Investing in Maternal Health Learning from Malaysia and Sri Lanka and Reducing Maternal Mortality Learning from Bolivia China Egypt Honduras Indonesia Jamaica and Zimbabwe These two books offer success stories and lessons learned in improving health and reducing maternal mortality in a range of developing countries The first book is based on the experiences of Malaysia and Sri Lanka during the past five to six decades The second book discusses the more recent experiences of Bolivia China Yunnan Egypt Honduras Indonesia Jamaica and Zimbabwe These nine countries have made important strides in improving maternal health and these two books outline what worked and what did not BOOK JACKET Integration of Public Health with Adaptation to Climate Change: Lessons Learned and New Directions Kristie L Ebi,Joel B Smith,Ian Burton,2005-07-14 Overall the negative health impacts of global climate change are anticipated to significantly outweigh positive impacts Furthermore global climate change will continue for decades even after the effective implementation of mitigation measures By exploring cases in public health and prior lessons learned this valuable title identifies the key Human Frontiers, Environments and Disease Tony McMichael,2001-06-28 This compelling account charts the relentless trajectory of humankind and its changing survival and disease patterns across place and time from when our ancient ancestors roamed the African Savannah to today s populous industrialised globalising world This expansion of human frontiers geographic climatic cultural and technological has encountered frequent setbacks from disease famine and dwindling resources The social and environmental transformations wrought by agrarianism industrialisation fertility control social modernisation urbanisation and mass consumption have profoundly affected patterns of health and disease Today as life expectancies rise the planet s ecosystems are being damaged by the combined weight of population size and intensive economic activity Global warming stratospheric ozone depletion and loss of biodiversity pose large scale hazards to human health and survival Recognising this can we achieve a transition to sustainability This and other profound questions underlie this chronicle of expansive human activity social change environmental impact and their health consequences Rehabilitation R & D Progress Reports ,1999
