Measuring The Deterrent Effect Of Enforcem:

Measuring the Deterrent Effect of Antitrust Enforcement Robert W. Vandersluis,1999 Conference on Tax Administration Research Strategies, November 1983 ,1984 Financial Services and General Government Appropriations for Fiscal Year 2010 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Financial Services and General Government,2009 Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 2001 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on VA-HUD-Independent Agencies,2001 Antitrust Law Journal ,1986 Integrated Safety Management Process Geni Bahar,National Cooperative Highway Research Program,2003 Rising awareness of and increased attention to sexual harassment has resulted in momentum to implement sexual harassment prevention efforts in higher education institutions Work on preventing sexual harassment is an area that has recently garnered a lot of attention especially around education and programs that go beyond the standard anti sexual harassment trainings often used to comply with legal requirements On April 20 21 2021 the National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine hosted the workshop Developing Evaluation Metrics for Sexual Harassment Prevention Efforts The workshop explored approaches and strategies for evaluating and measuring the effectiveness of sexual harassment interventions being implemented at higher education institutions and research and training sites in order to assist institutions in transforming promising ideas into evidence based best practices Workshop participants also addressed methods metrics and measures that could be used to evaluate sexual harassment prevention efforts that lead to change in the organizational climate and culture and or a change in behavior among community members This publication summarizes the presentations and discussion of the workshop Ex Post Economic Evaluation of Competition Policy Fabienne Ilzkovitz,2020-05-18 Competition authorities are increasingly interested in understanding the impact of their activities on markets and consumers The goal is to improve competition policy rules and decision making practices and to get robust evidence on the benefits of competition and competition policy for society as a whole Discussions with competition authorities practitioners and academics have shown the need to take stock of the experience gained in this field by the European Commission and to present it in an easily accessible way The studies collected in this volume prepared by senior Commission officials and competition policy experts range from the ex post evaluation of specific policy interventions to the assessment of the broader impact of competition policy The issues and topics examined include the following objectives and scope of evaluations by the European Commission description of counterfactual evaluation techniques used conditions for a successful ex post evaluation of a competition policy intervention a wide selection of individual cases covering a variety of economic sectors applications in merger control antitrust and State aid direct benefits of competition policy interventions for consumers deterrent effects of such interventions on market participants and macroeconomic outcomes in terms of job creation productivity and GDP growth

This matchless book assembles within a single volume all that is needed for competition policy analysts and practitioners to undertake ex post economic evaluations. While its collection of state of the art ex post evaluation studies has a clear value for competition authorities, it is sure to be welcomed as well by competition law practitioners in the private sector who will greatly appreciate the effort made to cast a critical eye on decisions taken in the past. Moreover, it allows for addressing some of the new challenges facing competition policymakers. Fabienne Ilzkovitz is Principal Advisor responsible for the economic evaluation of competition policy within the Directorate General for Competition of the European Commission and since 2014 she has coordinated various ex post evaluation projects in the Directorate General. She is also Associate Professor of Economics in the Solvay Brussels School of Economics and Management at the Université Libre de Bruxelles, Belgium. Adriaan Dierx is Senior Expert on ex post economic evaluation within the Directorate General for Competition of the European Commission. He has managed a number of studies aimed at assessing the economic impact of the European Commission's competition policy interventions.

The Cambridge Handbook of Competition Law Sanctions Tihamer Tóth, 2022-06-23

This handbook brings together an international roster of competition law scholars and practitioners to address the issue of sanctions in competition law from all angles. Covering nineteen jurisdictions around the world, the book analyzes the theoretical foundations and practice of sanctioning competition law infringements and most importantly cartels. Contributors include a range of experts drawing on criminal law, company law, labor law, human rights, and law and economics to determine what sanctions are available as a matter of positive law against corporations and individuals, including fines and other criminal, administrative, and civil law sanctions, whether law enforcers are using these sanctions effectively, and if new sanctions, including individual sanctions, should be introduced.

Summary, 1984 The Office of Fair Trading Great Britain. National Audit Office, 2009. The Office of Fair Trading (OFT) has improved its operations following recommendations on maintaining competition in markets made by the National Audit Office and Committee of Public Accounts in 2005 and 2006. It now needs to concentrate its efforts on strengthening the skills and experience of its staff at key management grades and be clearer on how long it expects its investigations will take. The OFT is now directing its work to areas that have the most impact, though this refocus on higher priority cases has led to a perception that the OFT is less interested in smaller markets, with a risk that its deterrent effect will be reduced in these markets. The OFT has taken steps to address this perception, launching investigations into more local markets such as in construction and bus transport. The time taken to process high profile cases has been reduced by introducing better project management and more flexible ways of working, including using bigger teams and temporary legal staff. The OFT has also brought criminal charges in two cartel cases for the first time under the Enterprise Act, one of which to date has resulted in criminal convictions. The OFT recognises that some of its cases are still taking too long. The OFT operates in a competitive labour market and still continues to face challenges in attracting and retaining talented staff. The OFT has provided project management and leadership training to its staff but it needs to sustain and increase this work in order to continue to recruit and retain staff at key management grades

Northeast Multispecies Fishery, Fisheries Management Plan (FMP) ,1986      NCJRS Catalog ,      The Craft of Bureaucratic Neutrality Gregory A. Huber,2007-05-07 Are political understandings of bureaucracy incompatible with Weberian features of administrative neutrality In examining the question of whether interest groups and elected officials are able to influence how government agencies implement the law this book identifies the political origins of bureaucratic neutrality In bridging the traditional gap between questions of internal management public administration and external politics political science Huber argues that strategic neutrality allows bureaucratic leaders to both manage their subordinates and sustain political support By analyzing the OSH Act of 1970 Huber demonstrates the political origins and benefits of administrative neutrality and contrasts it with apolitical and unconstrained administrative implementation Historical analysis interviews with field level bureaucrats and their supervisors and quantitative analysis provide a rich understanding of the twin difficulties agency leaders face as political actors and personnel managers      Fish and Wildlife Miscellaneous United States. Congress. House. Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. Subcommittee on Fisheries and Wildlife Conservation and the Environment,1978      Soil Survey ,1984      National Environmental Enforcement Journal ,1997      The International Handbook of Competition Manfred Neumann,Jürgen Weigand,2013-01-01 This comprehensive Handbook demonstrates that academic thinking new and old has a role to play in shaping modern competition policy Gunnar Niels Oxera This indispensable Handbook examines the interface of competition policy competition law and industrial economics The book aims to further our understanding of how economic reasoning and legal expertise complement each other in defining the fundamental issues and principles in competition policy In specially commissioned chapters the book provides a scholarly review of economic theory empirical evidence and standards of legal evaluation with respect to monopolization of markets exploitation of market power and mergers among other issues The International Handbook of Competition Second Edition will be accessible to a wide audience including students of economics and law public administrators lawyers consultants and business executives      Prevention and Compensation of Marine Pollution Damage Michael Faure,Michael G. Faure,2006-01-01 Marine oil pollution is one of the most damaging environmental liabilities of our time and is taken very seriously by governments Although international conventions take the lead in the legal regime underpinning prevention and compensation of marine oil pollution damage national legal systems differ considerably in how they interpret and apply their monitoring and enforcement responsibilities This is the first book to present a comparative analysis of the law with respect to marine oil pollution with expert contributions emphasising particular solutions in Europe the US and China The authors draw on the full range of legal sources from theory and legislation to procedure and actual case studies Written by both academics and practitioners senior academics with a wide experience in the field and practitioners who have extensively dealt with marine pollution issues the work is not confined to a mere legal analysis but offers a more inclusive law and economics perspective solidly built on a substantial analysis in English of the law in the European US Chinese and international contexts Individual contributors focus on countries with which they have particular expertise or experience This book will be of interest to corporate counsel international lawyers academics and policy makers as well as to students of international environmental and maritime law In addition the book is especially valuable to non Chinese lawyers for its clear insight into the complex Chinese environmental legal system

Criminalising Cartels Caron Beaton-Wells,Ariel Ezrachi,2011-02-10 This book is inspired by the international movement towards the criminalisation of cartel conduct over the last decade Led by US enforcers criminalisation has been supported by a growing number of regulators and governments It derives its support from the simple yet forceful proposition that criminal sanctions particularly jail time are the most effective deterrent to such activity However criminalisation is much more complex than that basic proposition suggests There is complexity both in terms of the various forces that are driving and shaping the movement economic political and social and in the effects on the various actors involved in it government enforcement agencies the business community judiciary legal profession and general public Featuring contributions from authors who have been at the forefront of the debate around the world this substantial 19 chapter volume captures the richness of the criminalisation phenomenon and considers its implications for building an effective criminal cartel regime particularly outside of the US It adopts a range of approaches including general theoretical perspectives from criminal theory economics political science regulation and criminology and case studies of the experience with the design and enforcement of existing or contemplated criminal cartel regimes in various jurisdictions including in Australia Canada EU Germany Ireland and the UK The book also explores the international dimensions of criminalisation its specific practical consequences such as increased potential for extradition as well as its more general implications for trends of harmonisation or convergence in competition law and enforcement
