The Illustrated Encyclopedia of Māori Myth and Legend Margaret Orbell, 1996

Literacy, Literature and Identity Rahma Al-Mahrooqi, Paul A. Scanlon, 2012-12-05 Modern humanities scholarship presents a scene of intriguing change A leading figure like Professor Eagleton moves suddenly from theory to a fascination with culture while still wrestling with literature's meaning and function Creative non fiction becomes fashionable while life writings retain a very wide readership Language professionals meanwhile ask themselves if teaching an alien tongue can be done without teaching its associated culture and what this might mean for individual and group identity itself now an area of rising academic concern Crucially the present volume looks at how these currents and concerns coalesce It shows how literature operating through language oral and written both shapes and reveals the identities of individuals and societies With a truly global reach it draws evidence from diverse contexts and environments The struggles of women in North America female portrayal in Middle Eastern proverbs the response to identity challenge in West East and Southern Africa including the extraordinary complexity of black South African experience and the literary assertions of New Zealand s Maoris they are all here in this multi faceted contribution to modern cultural linguistic and literary scholarship A Concise

This one-stop cross-cultural selective guide to recent retellings of myths and hero tales for children and young adults will enable teachers and library media specialists to select comparative myths and tales from various mostly non-European cultures. The focus is on stories from Native America, Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Central and South America, and Oceania. The Guide contains extensively annotated entries on 189 books of retellings of myths and hero tales, both ancient and modern, from around the world published between 1985 and 1996. Represented are 1,455 stories suitable for use with young people from mid-elementary through high school. The entries, arranged alphabetically by writer, contain complete bibliographic data, age and grade levels, and evaluative annotations. Seven indexes (title, author, illustrator, culture, story type, name, and grade level) make searching easy. The story type index will enable teachers to select comparative myths and tales from different cultures on more than 50 types of myths and hero tales. Among the many myth types cited are origin of human beings and the world, comparative social customs and rituals, natural and heavenly phenomena, animal appearance and behavior, searches and quests, and tricksters. Among the hero tale types are fools and buffoons, kings and queens, warriors, monster slayers, important female figures, magicians, voyagers and adventurers, and spiritual leaders. The Guide concludes with a bibliography of retellings published earlier that have come to be considered standard works.

Adopting the Beat of Term: An Mental Symphony within Myths Legends Of Aotearoa Maori
