Tommaso Ruggeri, Masaru Sugiyama, 2015-10-15 This book is dedicated to the recent developments in RET with the aim to explore polyatomic gas dense gas and mixture of gases in non equilibrium In particular we present the theory of dense gases with 14 fields which reduces to the Navier Stokes Fourier classical theory in the parabolic limit Molecular RET with an arbitrary number of field variables for polyatomic gases is also discussed and the theory is proved to be perfectly compatible with the kinetic theory in which the distribution function depends on an extra variable that takes into account a molecule's internal degrees of freedom Recent results on mixtures of gases with multi temperature are presented together with a natural definition of the average temperature The qualitative analysis and in particular the existence of the global smooth solution and the convergence to equilibrium are also studied by taking into account the fact that the differential systems are symmetric hyperbolic Applications to shock and sound waves are analyzed together with light scattering and heat conduction and the results are compared with experimental data Rational extended thermodynamics RET is a thermodynamic theory that is applicable to non equilibrium phenomena It is described by differential hyperbolic systems of balance laws with local constitutive equations As RET has been strictly related to the kinetic theory through the closure method of moment hierarchy associated to the Boltzmann equation the applicability range of the theory has been restricted within rarefied monatomic gases The book represents a valuable resource for applied mathematicians physicists and engineers offering powerful models for potential applications like satellites reentering the atmosphere semiconductors and nano scale phenomena New York University Catalogue New York University, University of the City of New York, 1917 Oxford Rowing, 1900
