The Serendipity of Hope Simon Lee,Ian S. Markham,2023-07-07 Institutions are very precious If any idea is going to persist into the future then it needs an institution to keep it going Each of us comes to understand often only gradually over the decades how some influences from our earlier life have affected us Some will have been inspiring Some will have given us direct models of how to behave or how not to behave Indeed it is often the case that the deeper an influence turns out to have been in the long run the less likely it is that we noticed it at the time it was happening For this reason it has become necessary to find the time to reflect on and express gratitude for the institutions that helped form who we are and the work that we do This collection of essays explores the impact of one institution on twenty five participants twenty five years after we worked together The Institution was Liverpool Hope University College and is now Liverpool Hope University By telling and reflecting on our stories we aim to encourage others to think about their own experiences and ultimately our earnest hope is that a greater awareness of this aspect of university life will help to transform our collective understanding of the nature of universities in particular and of communities institutions or societies in general But there was something special about belonging to a community called Hope

Rewriting Indie Cinema J. J. Murphy,2019-04-16 Most films rely on a script developed in pre production Yet beginning in the 1950s and continuing through the recent mumblecore movement key independent filmmakers have broken with the traditional screenplay Instead they have turned to new approaches to scripting that allow for more complex characterization and shift the emphasis from the page to performance In Rewriting Indie Cinema J J Murphy explores these alternative forms of scripting and how they have shaped American film from the 1950s to the present He traces a strain of indie cinema that used improvisation and psychodrama a therapeutic form of improvised acting based on a performer's own life experiences Murphy begins in the 1950s and 1960s with John Cassavetes Shirley Clarke Barbara Loden Andy Warhol Norman Mailer William Greaves and other independent directors who sought to create a new type of narrative cinema In the twenty first century filmmakers such as Gus Van Sant the Safdie brothers Joe Swanberg and Sean Baker developed similar strategies sometimes benefitting from the freedom of digital technology In reading key films and analyzing their techniques Rewriting Indie Cinema demonstrates how divergence from the script has blurred the divide between fiction and nonfiction Showing the ways in which filmmakers have striven to capture the subtleties of everyday behavior Murphy provides a new history of American indie filmmaking and how it challenges Hollywood industrial practices
