The Place of Home Alison Ravetz, Professor Alison Ravetz, R. Turkington, 2013-05-24 A comprehensive and in depth history of the 20th century English home how it has been created and how it works for people It focuses on the various influences bearing on the development of domestic space since 1914 and covers both design and housing policy Current debates from participation to co operative housing are examined and several themes not previously brought together are linked e g urban development house design technology at home women and home social meaning of home Home and Identity in

Nineteenth-Century Literary London Lisa C. Robertson, 2020-06-18 Explores radical designs for the home in the nineteenth century metropolis and the texts that shaped them Uncovers a series of innovative housing designs that emerged in response to London's rapid growth and expansion throughout the nineteenth century Brings together the writing of prominent authors such as Charles Dickens and George Gissing with understudied novels and essays to examine the lively literary engagement with new models of urban housing Focuses on the ways that these new homes provided material and creative space for thinking through the relationship between home and identity Identifies ways in which we might learn from the creative responses to the nineteenth century housing crisis This book brings together a range of new models for modern living that emerged in response to social and economic changes in nineteenth century London and the literature that gave expression to their novelty It examines visual and literary representations to explain how these innovations in housing forged opportunities for refashioning definitions of home and identity Robertson offers readers a new blueprint for understanding the ways in which novels imaginatively and materially produce the city's built environment Housing and Dwelling

Barbara Miller Lane, 2006-11 A collection of thought provoking essays on the changing face of domestic architecture over two centuries highlighting the wide range of source materials and theoretical perspectives available to scholars of architectural history Rethinking right-wing women Clarisse Berthezène, Julie Gottlieb, 2017-12-12 Rethinking Right Wing Women explores the institutional structures for and the representations mobilisation and the political careers of women in the British Conservative Party since the late 19th century From the Primrose League est 1883 to Women2Win est 2005 the party has exploited women's political commitment and their social power from the grass roots to the heights of the establishment Yet although it is the party that extended the equal franchise had the first woman MP to sit Parliament and produced the first two women Prime Ministers the UK Conservative Party has developed political roles for women that jar with feminist and progressive agendas Conservative women have tended to be more concerned about the fulfilment of women's duties than the realisation of women's rights This book tackles the ambivalences between women's politicisation and women's emancipation in the history of Britain's most electorally successful and hegemonic political party Town and Country Planning in the UK

Barry Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2003-09-02 Town and Country Planning in the UK has become the Bible of British planning In this new edition detailed consideration is given to the nature of planning and its historical evolution central and local government the EU and other agencies the framework of plans and other instruments development control land policy and planning gain environmental and countryside planning sustainable development waste and pollution heritage and transport planning urban policies and regeneration This twelfth edition has been completely revised and expanded to cover the whole of the UK The new edition explains more fully the planning policies and actions of the European Union and takes into account the implications of local government reorganization the plan led system and the growing interest in promoting sustainable development

British Boarding Houses in Interwar Women's Literature Terri Mullholland, 2016-10-04 Embraced for the dramatic opportunities afforded by a house full of strangers the British boarding house emerged as a setting for novels published during the interwar period by a diverse range of women writers from Stella Gibbons to Virginia Woolf To use the single room in the boarding house or bedsit Terri Mullholland argues is to foreground a particular experience While the single room represents the freedoms of independent living available to women in the early twentieth century it also marks the precariousness of unmarried women's lives By placing their characters in this transient space women writers could explore women's changing social roles and complex experiences amateur prostitution lesbian relationships extra marital affairs and abortion outside traditional domestic narrative concerns Mullholland presents new readings of works by canonical and non canonical writers including Stella Gibbons Winifred Holtby Storm Jameson Rosamond Lehmann Dorothy Richardson Jean Rhys and Virginia Woolf A hybrid of the modernist and realist domestic fiction written and read by women the literature of the single room merges modernism's interest in interior psychological states with the realism of precisely documented exterior spaces offering a new mode of engagement with the two forms of interiority

Town and Country Planning in the UK J. B. Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2002 This thirteenth edition has been completely revised to take into account all the changes that have occurred in British planning including the policies introduced by the Labour government devolution innovations and the European Union

Housing Policy Analysis Stuart J. Lowe, 2017-03-14 By virtue of a quiet revolution over nearly a hundred years Britain has evolved into a home owning society The impact of this on British society has been barely understood but it has helped to shape the Blair workfare state and to draw Britain firmly towards the English speaking world while distancing the country from other European nations Taking a policy analysis approach and drawing from the burgeoning comparative literature this textbook explores what has happened to British housing since 1900 Providing more than an account of British housing the book reinterprets the housing system in a way that is sensitive to the historical and cultural contexts of British policy and society Examining the nature of housing and how it helps to shape society Lowe sets British housing in its global context Written in an accessible style Housing Policy Analysis leads the reader through the basic concepts to more challenging themes It will be important reading for students of housing studies social policy public policy and applied social studies Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning Thomas L. Harper, Michael Hibbard, Heloisa Costa, Anthony Gar-On Yeh, 2010-12-01 Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning Volume 4 is a selection of some of the best scholarship in urban and regional planning from around the world The internationally recognized authors of these award winning papers take up a range of salient issues from the theory and practice of planning The topics they address include planning and governance in Zimbabwe rebuilding after Hurricane Katrina safety issues in urban spaces and an analysis of French transportation policies The breadth of the topics covered in this book will appeal to all those with an interest in urban and regional planning providing a springboard for further debate and research The papers focus particularly on how planning institutions can meet contemporary environmental demographic economic and socio spatial challenges The Dialogues books are published in association with the Global Planning Education Association Network GPEAN and its member planning schools associations These associations represent 360 planning schools in nearly fifty countries around the globe They have selected these papers based on regional competitions No more giants Jessica Kelly, 2023-01-24 Architecture is more than buildings and architects It also involves photographers writers advertisers and broadcasters as well as the people who finance and live in the buildings Using the career of the critic J M Richards as a lens this book takes a new perspective on modern architecture Richards served as editor of The Architectural Review from 1937 to 1971 during which time he consistently argued that modernism was integrally linked to vernacular architecture not through style but through the principle of being an anonymous expression of a time and public spirit Exploring the continuities in Richards s ideas throughout his career disrupts the existing canon of architectural history which has focused on abrupt changes linked to individual pioneers encouraging us to think again about who is studied in architectural history and how they are researched Objects of Poverty Joseph Harley, Vicky Holmes, 2025-07-24 Objects of Poverty is the first volume dedicated to analysing the material culture of poverty in British history from 1700 to the present The book examines the history of poverty through the objects owned by the poor and those crafted repurposed or simply encountered by them offering critical new insights into the experience of being impoverished This collection brings together leading and emerging scholars who draw on a wide array of objects of poverty from those that survive today ranging from dolls to whistles to textile samples to those that have long since gone and now only exist in visual and written sources The contributors trace the importance of materiality in eighteenth century and modern life covering objects connected to sustenance home the makeshift childhood animals money workhouses and injury and death In its 23 chapters along with some 77 illustrations the book provides a detailed exploration of the history of poverty in Britain Each of the chapters are based on original research and make a new contribution to the literature This book will be fascinating reading for history enthusiasts to students to established academics across multiple disciplines

A History of European Housing in Australia Patrick Troy, 2000-06-22 This collection of essays first published in 2000 was the first systematic attempt to explain the social administrative technical and cultural history of European housing in Australia Written by a collaborative team of scholars from a wide range of disciplines it explains how Australian housing has evolved from the ideas brought by the first settlers and what makes Australian housing distinctive in social terms This book covers a broad range of topics including the ways in which houses reflect social values and aspirations the relationship between houses and gardens the home as a site of domestic production and consumption and an exploration of how housing provides the basis for developing a sense of community The book will be invaluable for students of urban affairs and those engaged in housing and the design professions as well as policy makers and analysts in the public and private sectors

The European City and Green Space Peter Clark, 2016-12-05 Recent years have seen sustained public debate and controversy over the greening of European cities associated with the environmental movement pressures of urban redevelopment and the promotional strategies of cities competing in a global market But the European debate over urban green space has a long history dating back to Victorian concerns for the green lungs of the city to combat the health and social problems caused by rapid population and industrial growth This book explores the multiplicity of green space developments in the modern city ranging over parks and commons garden suburbs and the cities in the park allotment gardens green belts and national urban parks It is concerned not only with the different types of green space but the many influences shaping their evolution from international planning ideas to the rise of modern day sport and leisure and the effects of the transport revolution No less vital in this story is the interaction of the many actors involved in the often fractious political process of creating green spaces architects and planners politicians developers and other businessmen NGOs and local residents This volume is particularly concerned with contexts how international planning ideas are transmitted and adapted in different European cities how the construction of green space is affected by local power structures and relationships and how ordinary people perceive and use green spaces quite often at variance with official designs The European City and Green Space looks at these and other issues through the prism of four metropolises London Stockholm Helsinki and St Petersburg All represent different types of North European city yet each has experienced distinctive economic political and cultural trajectories whilst also facing powerful challenges and problems of similar kinds with regard to green space This volume examines how each has responded to them and what patterns emerge      Reading the Garden Katie Holmes, Susan K. Martin, Kylie Mirmohamadi, 2007-05-28 Whether a small plot in the backyard of an inner urban home or a capital city's sprawling botanic garden Australians have long desired a patch of dirt to plough or enjoy Reading the garden explores our deep affection for gardens and gardening and illuminates their numerous meanings and uses from European settlement to the late twentieth century Cover      Queering the Interior

Andrew Gorman-Murray, Matt Cook, 2020-06-11 Queering the Interior problematizes the familiar space of home It deploys a queer lens to view domestic interiors and conventions and uncovers some of the complexities of homemaking for queer people Each of the book's six sections focuses on a different room or space inside the home The journey starts with entryways and continues through kitchens living spaces bedrooms bathrooms and finally closets and studies In each case up to three specialists bring their disciplinary expertise and queer perspectives to bear The result is a fascinating collection of essays by scholars from literary studies geography sociology anthropology history and art history The contributors use historical and sociological case studies spatial art and literary analyses interviews and experimental visual approaches to deliver fresh detailed and grounded perspectives on the home and its queer dimensions A highly creative approach to the analysis of domestic spaces Queering the Interior makes an important contribution to the fields of gender studies social and cultural history cultural studies design architecture anthropology sociology and cultural geography      Interwar London

after Dark in British Popular Culture Mara Arts, 2022-03-04 This book explores the representation of London's nightlife in popular films and newspapers of the interwar period Through a series of case studies it analyses how British popular media in the 1920s and 1930s displayed the capital after dark It argues that newspapers and films were part of a common culture which capitalized on the transgressive possibilities of the night At the same time both media ensured that those in authority such as the police were always shown to ultimately be in control of the night The first chapter of the book provides an overview of the British film and newspaper industries in the interwar period Subsequent chapters each explore a specific aspect of London's nightlife In turn these chapters consider how films and newspapers of the interwar period depicted women navigating the street at night the Metropolitan Police's involvement in nightlife and the capital's newly built and expanded suburbs and public transport network Finally the book considers how newspapers and films depicted themselves and one another

Play and Wellbeing Cindy Clark, 2017-10-02 In an era of increasingly patient centered healthcare understanding how health and illness play out in social context is vital This volume opens a unique window on the role of play in health and wellbeing in widely varied contexts from the work of Patch Adams as a hospital clown to an Australian facility for dementia treatment to a New Zealand preschool after an earthquake to a housing complex where Irish children play near home Across these and other featured studies play is shown to be shaman like in its transformative dynamics marshaling symbolic resources to re-align how patients construe and experience illness Even when illness is not an issue play promotes wellbeing by its power to reimagine invigorate enliven and renew through sensory engagement physical activity and symbolism Play levels social barriers and increases flexible response facilitating both shared social support and creative reassessment This book challenges assumptions that play is inefficient and unproductive with highly relevant evidence that playful processes actually work hard to dislodge unproductive approaches and thereby aid resilience Solid research evidence in this book charts the course and opens the agenda for taking play seriously for the sake of health This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Play

Coal in Modern Britain Charles-François

Mathis,2025-08-21 This is the first book to examine the social and cultural significance of coal in British society in the 19th and 20th centuries An English language translation of Charles François Mathis's award winning study Coal in Modern Britain gets to the heart of Britain's evolving relationship with this controversial energy source How did the general public use and manage coal on a daily basis Did they readily accept it did they reject it and how What were the material and cultural features of a society so reliant on coal Historians have long considered the political technical and economic structures of energy systems but here the vital social and cultural contexts are crucially laid bare The book demonstrates how coal shaped the living environment and the ways of thinking of British people from the early 19th century through to the coal minded society of the 1940s that had become entirely focussed on this fuel as an energy source Mathis emphasises the perspectives of ordinary consumers and looks at the energy cultures that emerged in everyday life in Britain during the period He looks at how coal impacted the land cities and homes of modern Britain along with the developing habits and routines surrounding coal use within the domestic setting Coal in Modern Britain also reveals how coal was taught to children both at school and at home and how it was vehemently defended against its rivals of oil electricity and gas during this peak time of fuel pre eminence

Law and Society in England 1750-1950 William Cornish,Stephen Banks,Charles Mitchell,Paul

Mitchell,Rebecca Probert,2019-10-31 Law and Society in England 1750 1950 is an indispensable text for those wishing to study English legal history and to understand the foundations of the modern British state In this new updated edition the authors explore the complex relationship between legal and social change They consider the ways in which those in power themselves imagined and initiated reform and the ways in which they were obliged to respond to demands for change from outside the legal and political classes What emerges is a lively and critical account of the evolution of modern rights and expectations and an engaging study of the formation of contemporary social administrative and legal institutions and ideas and the road that was travelled to create them The book is divided into eight chapters Institutions and Ideas Land Commerce and Industry Labour Relations The Family Poverty and Education Accidents and Crime This extensively referenced analysis of modern social and legal history will be invaluable to students and teachers of English law political science and social history
