Placeways A Theory Of The Human Environment:

Placeways Eugene Victor Walter, 1988 Offers a theory of interpreting the meaning and experience of place looks at how space can be expressive or ominous and discusses a variety of places Placeways; a theory of the human environment

E.V. Walter, 1988 Willa Cather Laura Winters, 1993 Cather's artistic voice speaks for and through the landscapes she loved in life As several critics have noted Cather's mind works by opposition furiously spinning doubles of character experience temperament and place Locating the scenes she imagines in particular places she forces her readers to merge character and place in a way no other American writer has ever done Willa Cather's fiction is also suffused with the notion of exile Her characters often banished from a native or authentic landscape are restless pilgrims who long for home a comforting space a rest from the arduous journey In order to manage the condition of exile Cather's characters must transform secular spaces into sacred places In these sacred places existence suddenly makes sense order is created from chaos as the history of the earth and the history of the individual merge and are reconciled Indeed these sacred places with an aura of resolution and rightness in their very air bring peace The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to Human Geography John A. Agnew, James S. Duncan, 2011-03-01 This volume provides an up to date authoritative synthesis of the discipline of human geography Unparalleled in scope the companion offers an indispensable overview to the field representing both historical and contemporary perspectives Edited and written by the world's leading authorities in the discipline Divided into three major sections Foundations the history of human geography from Ancient Greece to the late nineteenth century The Classics the roots of modern human geography Contemporary Approaches current issues and themes in human geography Each contemporary issue is examined by two contributors offering distinctive perspectives on the same theme The Routledge Handbook of People and Place in the 21st-Century City Kate Bishop, Nancy

Marshall, 2019-08-13 Increasing urbanization and increasing urban density put enormous pressure on the relationships between people and place in cities Built environment professionals must pay attention to the impact of people place relationships in small to large scale urban initiatives A small playground in a neighborhood pocket park is an example of a small scale urban development a national environmental policy that influences energy sources is an example of a large scale initiative All scales of decision making have implications for the people place relationships present in cities This book presents new research in contemporary interdisciplinary urban challenges and opportunities and aims to keep the people place relationship debate in focus in the policies and practices of built environment professionals and city managers Most urban planning and design decisions even those on a small scale will remain in the urban built form for many decades conditioning people's experience of their city It is important that these decisions are made using the best available knowledge This book contains an interdisciplinary discussion of contemporary urban movements and issues influencing the relationship between people and place in urban environments around the world which have major implications for both the processes and products of urban planning design and management The main purpose of the book is to consolidate contemporary thinking among experts from a range of disciplines including anthropology environmental psychology cultural geography urban design and planning architecture and landscape architecture and the arts on how to conceptualize and promote healthy people and place relationships in the 21st century city Within each of the chapters the authors focus on their specific areas of expertise which enable readers to understand key issues for urban environments urban populations and the links between them

The Morphology of Tourism Philip Feifan Xie,Kai Gu,2018-11-20 Morphological research studies the physical form of landscapes including how landscape structures function and operate the adaptability of forms and how functions and forms change over time Applying the methods and models of morphology to tourism this innovative book explores some of the complex relationships between tourism and morphological changes in urban and rural destinations across the globe Tourism related impacts on the physical environment and sociocultural values surrounding a given destination reflect the need for both theoretical and empirical approaches to strengthen our understanding of the ways in which tourism functions This study examines key sectors and locations such as coastal tourism urban tourism and waterfront redevelopment which are increasingly important in terms of their influence on sociocultural and morphological transformation It advocates that awareness of the critical link between temporospatial impacts and morphological progresses is necessary to accommodate changes within a pattern of evolutionary growth International in scope employing case studies from Asia Australasia the US and Europe this book makes a new contribution to the literature and will be of interest to students and researchers of tourism planning urban design geography environmental studies and landscape architecture

Pilgrimage beyond the Officially Sacred Michael A. Di Giovine,Jaeyeon Choe,2020-06-09 Pilgrimage beyond the Officially Sacred Understanding the Geographies of Religion and Spirituality in Sacred Travel examines the many ways in which pilgrimage engages with sacredness delving beyond the officially recognized and often religiously conceived pilgrimage sites As scholarship examining the lived experiences of pilgrims and tourists has demonstrated pilgrimage need not be religious in nature nor be officially sanctioned rather they can be hyper meaningful voyages set apart from the everyday profane life in a word they are sacred Separating the social category of religion from the sacred this volume brings together a multidisciplinary group of scholars employing perspectives from anthropology geography sociology religious studies theology and interdisciplinary tourism studies to theorize sacredness its variability and the ways in which it is officially recognized or condemned by power brokers Rich in case studies from sacred centers throughout the world the contributions pay close attention to the ways in which pilgrims central authorities site managers locals and other stakeholders on the ground appropriate negotiate shape contest or circumvent the powerful forces of the sacred Delving beyond the officially sacred this collective examination of pilgrimages both well established and new religious and secular authorized and not presents a compelling look at the interplay of secular powers and the transcendent forces of the sacred at these hyper meaningful sites Providing a blueprint for how work in the anthropology and geography of religion and the fields of pilgrimage and religious tourism may move forward Pilgrimage beyond the Officially Sacred will be of great interest to an interdisciplinary field of scholars The chapters were originally published as a special issue in Tourism Geographies

Hyperreality and Global Culture Nicholas Perry, 2012-10-12 This book explores a world where the boundaries between reality and representation have become blurred a world where LA Law is used to train lawyers Drawing on examples from around the globe Nick Perry presents a fascinating and entertaining analysis of both familiar objects and situations as well as the more unusual and absurd Meals served in British pubs motor cycle gangs in downtown Tokyo Australian movies are just some examples used by the author in his engaging exploration of modern sense of the unreal Hyperrealities also engages with well known theorists of contemporary culture from Baudrillard and Umberto Eco to Jameson and Sartre

Participatory Composition Sarah J. Arroyo, 2013-07-25 Like Share Comment Subscribe Embed Upload Check in The commands of the modern online world relentlessly prompt participation and encourage collaboration connecting people in ways not possible even five years ago This connectedness no doubt influences college writing courses in both form and content creating possibilities for investigating new forms of writing and student participation In this innovative volume Sarah J Arroyo argues for a participatory composition inspired by the culture of online video sharing and framed by theorist Gregory Ulmer s concept of electracy Electracy according to Ulmer is to digital media what literacy is to alphabetic writing Although electracy can be compared to digital literacy it is not something shut on and off with the power buttons on computers or mobile devices Rather electracy encompasses the cultural institutional pedagogical and ideological implications inherent in the transition from a culture of print literacy to a culture saturated with electronic media regardless of the presence of actual machines Arroyo explores the apparatus of electracy in many of its manifestations while focusing on the participatory practices found in online video culture particularly on YouTube Chapters are devoted to questions of subjectivity definition authorship and pedagogy Utilizing theory and incorporating practical examples from YouTube classrooms and other social sites Arroyo presents accessible and practical approaches for writing instruction Additionally she outlines the concept of participatory composition by highlighting how it manifests in online video culture offers student examples of engagement with the concept and advocates participatory approaches throughout the book Arroyo presents accessible and practical possibilities for teaching and learning that will benefit scholars of rhetoric and composition media studies and anyone interested in the cultural and instructional implications of the digital age

The Urban Design Reader Michael Larice, Elizabeth Macdonald, 2013-05-07 The second edition of The Urban Design Reader draws together the very best of classic and contemporary writings to illuminate and expand the theory and practice of urban design Nearly 50 generous selections include seminal contributions from Howard Le Corbusier Lynch and Jacobs to more recent writings by Waldheim Koolhaas and Sorkin Following the widespread success of the first edition of The Urban Design Reader this updated edition continues to provide the most important historical material of the urban design field but also introduces new topics and selections that address the myriad challenges facing designers today The six part structure of the second edition guides the reader through the history theory and practice of urban design The reader is initially introduced to those classic writings that provide the historical precedents for city making into the twentieth century Part Two introduces the voices and ideas that were instrumental in establishing the foundations of the urban design field from the late 1950s up to the mid 1990s These authors present a critical reading of the design professions and offer an alternative urban design agenda focused on vital and lively places The authors in Part Three provide a range of urban design rationales and strategies for reinforcing local physical identity and the creation of memorable places These selections are largely describing the outcomes of mid century urban design and voicing concerns over the placeless quality of contemporary urbanism The fourth part of the Reader explores key issues in urban design and development Ideas about sprawl density community health public space and everyday life are the primary focus here Several new selections in this part of the book also highlight important international development trends in the Middle East and China Part Five presents environmental challenges faced by the built environment professions today including recent material on landscape urbanism sustainability and urban resiliency The final part examines professional practice and current debates in the field where urban designers work what they do their roles their fields of knowledge and their educational development The section concludes with several position pieces and debates on the future of urban design practice This book provides an essential resource for students and practitioners of urban design drawing together important but widely dispersed writings Part and section introductions are provided to assist readers in understanding the context of the material summary messages impacts of the writing and how they fit into the larger picture of the urban design field

Rooted in the Land William Vitek, Wes Jackson, 1996-01-01 This book is dedicated to the notion that human lives are enriched by participation in a social community that is integrated into the natural landscape of a particular place The writers explore the loss of community the philosophical foundations of communities Amish communities and the current renewal of community life

Ecotherapy Linda Buzzell, Craig Chalquist, 2010-07-01 In the 14 years since Sierra Club Books published Theodore Roszak Mary E Gomes and Allen D Kanner s groundbreaking anthology Ecopsychology Restoring the Earth Healing the Mind the editors of this new volume have often been asked Where can I find out more about the psyche world connection

How can I do hands on work in this area Ecotherapy was compiled to answer these and other urgent questions Ecotherapy or applied ecopsychology encompasses a broad range of nature based methods of psychological healing grounded in the crucial fact that people are inseparable from the rest of nature and nurtured by healthy interaction with the Earth Leaders in the field including Robert Greenway and Mary Watkins contribute essays that take into account the latest scientific understandings and the deepest indigenous wisdom Other key thinkers from Bill McKibben to Richard Louv to Joanna Macy explore the links among ecotherapy spiritual development and restoring community As mental health professionals find themselves challenged to provide hard evidence that their practices actually work and as costs for traditional modes of psychotherapy rise rapidly out of sight this book offers practitioners and interested lay readers alike a spectrum of safe effective alternative approaches backed by a growing body of research The Intelligence of Place Jeff Malpas, 2015-10-22

Place has become a widespread concept in contemporary work in the humanities creative arts and social sciences Yet in spite of its centrality place remains a concept more often deployed than interrogated and there are relatively few works that focus directly on the concept of place as such The Intelligence of Place fills this gap providing an exploration of place from various perspectives encompassing anthropology architecture geography media philosophy and the arts and as it stands in relation to a range of other concepts Drawing together many of the key thinkers currently writing on the topic The Intelligence of Place offers a unique point of entry into the contemporary thinking of place into its topographies and poetics providing new insights into a concept crucial to understanding our world and ourselves Who Guards the Guardians? Peter Raine, 2003

This book attempts to link ecology philosophy and theology through an exploration of a new model of intercultural dialogue Case studies provide practical and theoretical applications which lead to a deeper understanding of not only environmental guardianships but also the fundamental relationship between human beings and nature s being The Wiley-Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies Anthony M. Orum, 2019-04-15 Provides comprehensive coverage of major topics in urban and regional studies Under the guidance of Editor in Chief Anthony Orum this definitive reference work covers central and emergent topics in the field through an examination of urban and regional conditions and variation across the world It also provides authoritative entries on the main conceptual tools used by anthropologists sociologists geographers and political scientists in the study of cities and regions Among such concepts are those of place and space geographical regions the nature of power and politics in cities urban culture and many others The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies captures the character of complex urban and regional dynamics across the globe including timely entries on Latin America Africa India and China At the same time it contains illuminating entries on some of the current concepts that seek to grasp the essence of the global world today such as those of Friedmann and Sassen on global cities It also includes discussions of recent economic writings on cities and regions such as those of Richard Florida Comprised of over 450 entries on the most important topics and from a range of theoretical perspectives Features authoritative entries on topics ranging from gender and the city to biographical profiles of figures like Frank Lloyd Wright Takes a global perspective with entries providing coverage of Latin America and Africa India and China and the US and Europe Includes biographies of central figures in urban and regional studies such as Doreen Massey Peter Hall Neil Smith and Henri Lefebvre The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies is an indispensable reference for students and researchers in urban and regional studies urban sociology urban geography and urban anthropology

The Feeling of Space Christopher Bardt, 2024-12-31 A richly illustrated exploration of humanity's drive to shape life as a spatial project from Plato's time to the digital era Place is something real but space is generally conceived as abstract and immaterial In The Feeling of Space Christopher Bardt explores this damaging modern binary and traces the contradictory impulses that have dematerialized our sense of space through history fear and wonder a yearning for the infinite and intimate and the need for autonomy and belonging Using rich illustrations and examinations of art technology and philosophy Bardt argues that if we can get back to first feeling space then we can treat space as the substance that gives agency to our intersubjectivity the exchange of conscious and unconscious thoughts we have with others Expertly connecting ideas with clear examples from lived experiences Bardt's revolutionary framework will appeal to a broad readership particularly those who are interested in the theoretical and philosophical aspects of spaces In an age where digital media has dissolved instead of increased our sense of connection The Feeling of Space shows that when we learn to experience space as a medium as real as a place we not only see ourselves as inherently spatialized beings but we can also rebuild the bonds that tie us together

The Blue Sapphire of the Mind Douglas E. Christie, 2013 In The Blue Sapphire of the Mind Douglas E. Scribes of Space Matthew Boyd Goldie, 2019-03-15 Scribes of Space posits that the conception of space the everyday physical areas we perceive and through which we move underwent critical transformations between the thirteenth and fifteenth centuries Matthew Boyd Goldie examines how natural philosophers theologians poets and other thinkers in late medieval Britain altered the ideas about geographical space they inherited from the ancient world In tracing the causes and nature of these developments and how geographical space was consequently understood Goldie focuses on the intersection of medieval science theology and literature deftly bringing a wide range of writings scientific works by Nicole Oresme Jean Buridan the Merton School of Oxford Calculators and Thomas Bradwardine spiritual poetic and travel writings by John Lydgate Robert Henryson Margery Kempe the Mandeville author and Geoffrey Chaucer into conversation This pairing of physics and literature uncovers how the understanding of spatial boundaries locality elevation motion and proximity shifted across time signaling the emergence of a new spatial imagination during this era
