The Light Inside David H. Brown, 2019-08-15 Originally published in 2003 The Light Inside is a ground breaking study of an Afro Cuban secret society its sacred arts and their role in modern Cuban cultural history Enslaved Africans and creoles developed the Abaku Society a system of men s fraternal lodges in urban Cuba beginnings in 1836 Drawing on years of fieldwork in the country the book s novel approach builds on close readings of dazzling Abaku altars chalk drawn signs and hooded masquerades It looks at the art history of Abaku altars not only tracing changing styles but also how they evolve through cycles of tradition and renovation The Light Inside reflects the essence of the artists creativity and experience through adornment altars project the powerful spirituality of Abaku practice an aesthetic strategy The book also traces a biography of Abaku objects their shifting forms and meanings as they participated in successive periods of Cuban cultural history The book constructs close rhetorical and visual analyses of changing representations of the Abaku spanning nineteenth century arts and letters modern ethnographic texts museum displays paintings and late twentieth century commercial kitsch This interdisciplinary work combines art history African Diaspora cultural studies and cultural anthropology with Latin American Lessons in Likeness Estill Curtis Pennington, 2011 Between 1802 when the young Kentucky artist William Edward West began to paint portraits while on a downriver journey and 1920 when the last of Frank Duveneck s students worked in Louisville a large number of notable portrait artists were active in Kentucky and the Ohio River Valley In Lessons in Likeness Portrait Painters in Kentucky and the Ohio River Valley 1802 1920 Estill Curtis Pennington charts the course of those artists as they painted a variety of sitters drawn from both urban and rural society The work is illustrated when possible from The Filson Historical Society collection of some four hundred portraits representing one of the most extensive holdings available for study in the region Portraiture involves artists and subjects known as sitters and is an art that combines elements of biography aesthetics and cultural history Private portraits often attract an oral history that enlivens the more colorful aspects of local tradition and culture Public portraits of towering figures such as George Washington Henry Clay and Abraham Lincoln were often reproduced in printed format to satisfy popular demand and subsequently attained an iconic timeless status Lessons in Likeness is organized in two parts Part One the cultural chronology serves as a backdrop to the biographies of the portrait artists This section identifies stylistic sources and significant historical moments that influenced the artists and their milieus Rather than working in isolation portrait artists were connected to the world around them and influenced by prevailing trends in their trade Early in the nineteenth century for instance Matthew Jouett journeyed to Boston for study with Gilbert Stuart and upon his return to Kentucky painted in a style that subsequently influenced an entire generation Later artists notably Oliver Frazer and William Edward West studied the lessons of Thomas Sully in Philadelphia Sully popularized the lush warmly colored and highly flattering style of portraiture practiced by many of the itinerant artists whose careers were facilitated by the introduction of steam and rail travel The Civil War provoked a dramatic shift in the cultural terrain further augmented by the rise of photography and the emergence of academic art centers Painters who had previously worked with a master painter or learned on their own were now able to study at established schools especially in Cincinnati which became one of the leading centers for the teaching of art in late nineteenth century America Several of the teachers there Frank Duveneck and Thomas Satterwhite Noble in particular had firsthand experience with avant garde European styles notably the realism and naturalism practiced in Munich and Paris in the last quarter of the nineteenth century and then taught in the art schools of New York and Philadelphia Part Two profiles the artists from this area and period who have appeared in previous art historical literature and have an identifiable body of work represented in public and private collections Individual biographies provide details of the artists lives sources for further study and locations of works in public collections The Dutch-American Farm David S.

Cohen,1993-08 A rich and readable source of information and interpretation New York History Cohen presents a detailed description of the everyday life of early Dutch settlers in New York and New Jersey He gives special attention to the rise of the Dutch Reformed Church in these areas and particularly the denomination's transformation into a subculture that could truly be considered American Bookman's Weekly An impressive study of material culture Choice Pictured in My Mind
