the books Myers's 101 A to Z entries offer concise analytical discussion on all topics and include generous citations from primary and secondary sources. Each entry concludes with a selected bibliography on such subjects as segregation, Malcolm X, urbanism, writing, metafiction, drugs, and alcohol, slavery, and the Vietnam War. Appendices offer a timeline of historical events in Myers's writings and forty topics for group or individual projects, oral analysis, background material, and theme development. A map of Harlem, where many of the stories are set, genealogical diagrams for characters, and an author chronology contribute to a comprehensive presentation. Around the World with Historical Fiction and Folktales Beth Bartleson Zarian, 2004-06-28 As more school districts undergo the painstaking task of curriculum integration, resources that offer children an opportunity to live vicariously in times and places they cannot experience any other way become increasingly necessary. Whether two teachers are covering the same topic in separate classes, e.g., English and history, or designing a thematic unit with the school librarian, this book will assist all parties in the selection of high-quality literature. In this handy guide to nearly 800 award-winning historical fiction for Kindergarten through 8th grade, Beth Zarian literally spans the globe. Entries are first divided into three sections: American history, world history, and myths and folklore, then chronologically from prehistoric times to present day, and finally by grade level. Each entry is accompanied by a short annotation. For anyone wishing to teach historical facts in an entertaining way, Around the World with Historical Fiction and Folktales is the only way to travel. The Writer's Guide to Crafting Stories for Children Nancy Lamb, 2001-09-20 Create Unforgettable Stories for Kids You dream of writing stories that children respond to the kind they come back to again and again. Nancy Lamb can help you achieve that dream. She mixes insightful advice for mastering storytelling with dozens of examples that illustrate a variety of plot-building techniques. Nancy's instruction covers everything from format and content to setting and characterization. She also draws from a range of children's classics, including Where the Wild Things Are, Charlotte's Web, and Bridge to Terabithia, to explore and illuminate the unique nature of children's literature. Nancy also shares writing tips and tricks accumulated through years of successful storytelling, invaluable advice for crafting fiction that resonates with children of all ages from 4 to 14 and beyond. Literature Connections to American History K6 Lynda G. Adamson, 1997-09-15 Identifying thousands of historical fiction novels, biographies, history trade books, CD-ROMs, and videotapes, this book helps you locate resources on American history for students. Each book presents information in two sections. In the first part, titles are listed according to grade levels, within eras, and further organized according to product type. The books cover American history from North America Before 1600 and The American Colonies 1600-1774 to The Mid-Twentieth Century 1946-1975 and Since 1975. The second section has annotated bibliographies that describe each title and includes publication information and awards won. The focus is on books published since 1990, and all have received at least one favorable review. Some books with more illustration than text will be valuable for enticing slow or reticent readers. An index helps users find resources by author, title, or biographical subject. Understanding Diversity Through Novels and

Picture Books Liz Knowles, Martha Smith, 2007-05-30 Understanding Diversity Through Novels and Picture Books goes beyond the usual multicultural lists and looks at the wide expanse of the diversity of cultures and lifestyles impacting children's lives in America today and identifies good books to have in library collections for them to read Included are annotated titles with discussion questions from all of the identified cultures and subcultures and annotated teacher librarian resources print and Web based as well as an excellent list of topical annotated journal articles Grades 4-8 Knowles and Smith examine current research on diversity and multiculturalism They move away from the traditional aspects of multicultural education food fashion folktales festivals and famous people to a focus on novels and picture books and realistic fiction to show children with diversity issues that there are others in similar positions The issue of authenticity whether the author of the book should be of that culture or merely familiar with the culture is discussed Topics include Ethnicities Asian Latino Hispanic African Black Native American White European Bi Multiracial Exceptionalities Ageism Socioeconomic Status Sexual Orientation Gender and Religion The authors provide this valuable resource for libraries schools and communities that wish to utilize literature to help diverse students walk in the shoes of others and to match books to children and young adults to heighten understanding and acceptance Grades 4-8 Walter Dean Myers Amy Sickels, 2013-11
