The Bressonians Codruța Morari, 2017-07-01 How should we understand film authorship in an era when the idea of the solitary and sovereign auteur has come under attack with critics proclaiming the death of the author and the end of cinema The Bressonians provides an answer in the form of a strikingly original study of Bresson and his influence on the work of filmmakers Jean Eustache and Maurice Pialat Extending the discourse of authorship beyond the idea of a singular visionary it explores how the imperatives of excellence function within cinema's pluralistic community Bresson's example offered both an artistic legacy and a creative burden within which filmmakers reckoned in different often arduous and altogether compelling ways

Projections of Memory Richard I. Suchenski, 2016-06-30 Projections of Memory is an exploration of a body of innovative cinematic works that utilize their extraordinary scope to construct monuments to the imagination that promise profound transformations of vision selfhood and experience This form of cinema acts as a nexus through which currents from the other arts can interpenetrate By examining the strategies of these projects in relation to one another and to the larger historical forces that shape them tracing the shifts and permutations of their forms and aspirations Projections of Memory remaps film history around some of its most ambitious achievements and helps to clarify the stakes of cinema as a twentieth century art form

Martin, 2014-11-04 Styles of filmmaking have changed greatly from classical Hollywood through to our digital era So too have the ways in which film critics and scholars have analysed these transformations in film style This book explores two central style concepts mise en scène and dispositif to illuminate a wide range of film and new media examples selection of scanned working documents The scripts and essays collected in this volume trace the historical significance of a complex cinematic project that brought feminist semiotic and psychoanalytic concerns together with formal devices and strategies The book includes original contributions from Nora M Alter Kodwo Eshun Nicolas Helm Grovas Esther Leslie Laura Mulvey Volker Pantenburg Griselda Pollock B Ruby Rich and Sukhdev Sandhu Narrative Mortality Catherine Russell, 1995 Analyzes New Wave cinema from a postmodern perspective What seems like closure might be something more as Catherine Russell shows us in this book about death in narrative cinema since the 1950s Analyzing the structural importance of death in narrative endings as well as the thematics of loss and redemption Russell identifies mortality as a valuable critical tool for understanding the cinema of the second half of the twentieth century Her work includes close textual readings of films by Fritz Lang Wim Wenders Oshima Nagisa Jean Luc Godard and Robert Altman among others In these analyses Russell reveals an uneasy relationship between death and closure which she traces to anxieties about identity gender and national cultural myths as well as to the persistence of desire Drawing on the work of Walter Benjamin she shows us death as a fundamentally allegorical structure in cinema and as a potential sign of historical difference with crucial implications for theories of film narrative and spectatorship Narrative Mortality provides fresh insight into the dynamics of postmodern cinema as it emerged from the modernist preoccupation with existential mortality By tracing the role of death from a work that precedes the Brechtian cinema of the 1960s Beyond a Reasonable Doubt to several that succeed it Nashville The State of Things the book expands the narrative project of New Wave cinema and ushers it onto a broader historical plane assessment of the prolific and resilient life and vision of one of cinema's greatest auteurs Curtains of Light George Toles, 2021-07-01 George Toles's Curtains of Light explores the ways in which various kinds of theatrical space in film engage with the film reality adjacent to them and alter our understanding of the cinematic real. Film art is a dialogue between the world created for a film narrative and theatre spaces that confront it across the shadowline. This book provides a new way of thinking about film's relation to theatre and challenges old conceptions of how cinema needs to escape the theatrical or rise above it. Toles offers elegantly written and jargon-free readings of a rich variety of films spanning the distance from D.W. Griffith's True Heart Susie up to David Lynch's Mulholland Dr. and Ang Lee's Lust for Caution. The methodology is predominantly aesthetic but informed by Toles's decades of experience as a professional theatre director. Among the many topics covered are audition scenes, stage deaths on film, the close-up and theatrical aloneness in film, eloquent objects and characters who alternate between directing and playacting for each other with tragic consequences. Curtains of Light would be an extremely useful introductory text for university students studying the relationship of cinema to theatre Narration in the Fiction

Film David Bordwell, 2013-09-27 First Published in 1987 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an informa company

The Rise of the French Novel Martin Turnell, 1978 Martin Turnell's The Rise of the French Novel is a successor to his highly praised earlier books The Novel in France 1951 and The Art of French Fiction 1959. His aim now, however, is somewhat different, as can be seen from the title. It is well known that the reputations of many writers, novelists especially, diminish for a period following their deaths. Although in the eighteenth century Marivaux, Crillon, and Rousseau all enjoyed a great deal of popularity during their lifetimes, it is only recently that they have been subject to truly searching studies. Yet they remain little read in English-speaking countries. Turnell emphasizes that, in spite of the hostility of French critics and the fact that the novel did not reach its supremacy even in France until the nineteenth century, the beginning of its great rise was indeed with such writers as these. Their strong influence led such nineteenth-century novelists as Stendhal and Flaubert to all kinds of changes related to style, the enormous increase in the range of subject matter, and the marked development of language. Flaubert is the most striking example. It was pointed out some time ago by Eisenstein that Madame Bovary anticipates cinematic technique. One of Turnell's most interesting chapters explores the connections between the novel and film in general and Madame Bovary in particular. In our own time, two of the most popular French novelists in both the United States and England are Alain Fournier and Radiguet. They are given enthusiastic appreciations in Turnell's thoughtful book.

Mysteries of Cinema Adrian Martin, 2025-10-01 The major essays of the distinguished and prolific Australian-born film critic Adrian Martin have long been difficult to access, so this anthology, which collects highlights of his work in one volume, will be welcomed throughout film studies. Martin offers in-depth analysis of many genres of films while providing a broad understanding of the history of cinema and the history of film criticism and culture. These vibrant, highly personal essays, written between 1982 and 2016, balance breadth across cinema theory with almost encyclopedic detail ranging between aesthetics cinephilia film genre criticism philosophy and cultural politics

Mysteries of Cinema circumscribes a special cultural period that began with the dream of critique as a form of poetic writing and today arrives at collaborative experiments in audiovisual essays Throughout these essays Martin pursues a particular vision of what cinema has been what it is and what it still could be

The Altering Eye Robert Phillip Kolker, 2009 The Altering Eye covers a golden age of international cinema from the end of WWII through to the New German Cinema of the 1970s Combining historical political and textual analysis the author develops a pattern of cinematic invention and experimentation from neorealism through the modernist interventions of Jean Luc Godard and Rainer Maria Fassbinder focusing along the way on such major figures as Luis Bu uel Joseph Losey the Brazilian director Glauber Rocha and the work of major Cuban filmmakers Kolker s book has become a much quoted classic in the field of film studies providing essential reading for anybody interested in understanding the history of European and international cinema This new and revised edition includes a substantive new Preface by the author and an updated Bibliography

Cinematic Encounters 2 Jonathan Rosenbaum, 2019-05-30 Eschewing the idea of film reviewer as solitary expert Jonathan Rosenbaum continues to advance his belief that a critic s ideal role is to mediate and facilitate our public discussion of cinema Portraits and Polemics presents debate as an important form of cinematic encounter whether one argues with filmmakers themselves on behalf of their work or with one s self Rosenbaum takes on filmmakers like Chantal Akerman Richard Linklater Manoel De Oliveira Mark Rappaport Elaine May and B la Tarr He also engages implicitly and explicitly with other writers arguing with Pauline Kael and Wikipedia over Jacques Demy with the Hollywood Reporter and Variety reviewers of Jarmusch s The Limits of Control with David Thomson about James L Brooks and with many American and English film critics about misrepresented figures from Jerry Lewis to Yasujiro Ozu to Orson Welles Throughout Rosenbaum mines insights pursues pet notions and invites readers to join the fray
