The Shaping of Somali Society Lee V. Haviser, Kevin C MacDonald, 2016-07 An exploration of the archaeology of the African diaspora Rethinking Resistance

Jon Abbink, Klaas van Walraven, Mirjam de Bruijn, 2003-01-01 Revolts and violence have always been features of African history but questions frequently still remain as to what and who the targets of resistance were This volume reviews the subject of resistance in the light of current scholarly thought Were political forms of resistance directed at the imposition or ending of colonial rule or at African elites profiting from the onset of capitalist relations of production Or did they have purely sociological or religious roots With contributions from historians anthropologists and political scientists Rethinking Resistance analyzes the concepts of resistance violence and ideological imagination and has chapters on uprisings and revolts in nineteenth century pre colonial societies and early colonial Africa post colonial rebellions and more recent and contemporary conflicts Rights in Exile Guglielmo Verdirame, Barbara E. Harrell-Bond, 2005 Of the estimated 12 million refugees in the world more than 7 million have been confined to camps effectively warehoused in some cases for 10 years or more Holding refugees in camps was anathema to the founders of the refugee protection regime Today with most refugees encamped in the less developed parts of the world the humanitarian apparatus has been transformed into a custodial regime for innocent people Based on rich ethnographic data Rights in Exile exposes the gap between human rights norms and the mandates of international organisations on the one hand and the reality on the ground on the other It will be of wide interest to social scientists and to human rights and international law scholars Policy makers donor governments and humanitarian organizations especially those adopting a rights based approach will also find it an invaluable resource But it is the refugees themselves who could benefit the most if these actors absorb its lessons and apply them Guglielmo Verdirame is a Lecturer in Law at the University of Cambridge and a Fellow of Corpus Christi College He is also the author of a forthcoming book on the accountability of the United Nations Barbara Harrell Bond Founding director of the Refugee Studies Centre University of Oxford has after retirement been Visiting Professor at Makerere University and at the American University in Cairo In 1996 she received the Distinguished Service Award of the American Anthropological Association She is the author of Imposing Aid Oxford 1986 Love and Liberation Lauren Carruth, 2021-10-15 Lauren Carruth's Love and Liberation tells a new kind of humanitarian story The protagonists are not volunteers from afar but rather Somali locals caring for each other nurses aid workers policymakers drivers community health workers and bureaucrats The contributions of locals are often taken for granted and the competencies aspirations and effectiveness of local staffers frequently remain muted or absent from the planning and evaluation of humanitarian interventions structured by outsiders Relief work is traditionally imagined as politically neutral and impartial and interventions are planned as temporary extraordinary and distant Carruth provides an alternative vision of what humanitarian response means in practice not driven by International Humanitarian Law the missions of Western relief organizations or trends in the aid industry or academia but instead by what Somalis call samafal Samafal is structured by the cultivation of lasting relationships of care interdependence kinship and ethnic solidarity Samafal is also explicitly political and potentially emancipatory humanitarian responses present opportunities for Somalis to begin to redress histories of colonial partitions and to make the most out of their political and economic marginalization By centering Love and Liberation around Somalis understanding and enactments of samafal Carruth offers a new perspective on politics and intervention in Africa Adapting the United Nations to a Post-Modern Era W. Knight,2001-03-28 This volume addresses the central theme of adjusting the United Nations system in light of firstly the broadening definition of security secondly a perceived shift from modernity to post modernity and finally the contemporary debate about reform adaptation and institutional learning in multilateral institutions during transnational periods The UN has not been successful in learning appropriate lessons that could facilitate requisite changes to its structure and operations Thus the authors in this study focus on the lessons learned from the organizations recent performance in collective security preventative diplomacy preventative deployment peacekeeping peacemaking peace maintenance and international legal environmental and trade regulation
