Shared Lives:

Shared Lives Roy McConkey, John Dunne, Nick Blitz, 2009-01-01 Written by three authors who combine a wealth of expertise as researchers, clinicians and practitioners, this challenging book presents a renewed vision for the support of people with intellectual disabilities. Its primary focus is the positive contributions that people with an intellectual disability can make to the lives of others and to their wider communities if given the opportunity. Many real-life examples are given. Central to this is the nurturing of mutual relationships between people and their supporters, be they paid workers, community volunteers or family members. Also explored is how people can come together in supportive communities that enrich and extend their experiences of life. The building of alliances and the creation of partnership working across different organisations are essential to this. The emphasis is on the role of the paid supporter, which is still critical in the lives of many people, but smaller community-based networks of support with a shared vision of inclusive societies are seen to be the hallmark of modern service systems. This book is refreshingly different and has a remarkable feel-good quality. It is essential reading for those striving to build person-centred services.

Shared Housing, Shared Lives Sue Heath, Katherine Davies, Gemma Edwards, Rachael Scicluna, 2017-10-25 With a growing population, rising housing costs and housing providers struggling to meet demand for affordable accommodation, more and more people in the UK find themselves sharing their living spaces with people from outside of their families at some point in their lives. Focusing on sharers in a wide variety of contexts and at all stages of the life course, Shared Housing, Shared Lives demonstrates how personal relationships are the key to whether shared living arrangements falter or flourish. Indeed, this book demonstrates how issues such as finances, domestic space and daily routines are all factors which can impact upon personal relationships and wider understandings of the home and privacy. By directing attention towards people and relationships rather than bricks and mortar, Shared Housing, Shared Lives is essential reading for students and researchers in fields such as sociology, housing studies, social policy, cultural anthropology and demography, as well as for researchers and practitioners working in these areas.

Shared Lives of Humans and Animals Tuomas Räsänen, Taina Syrjämaa, 2017-04-21 Animals are conscious beings that form their own perspective regarding the lifeworlds in which they exist and according to which they act in relation to their species and other animals. In recent decades, a thorough transformation in societal research has taken place as many groups that were previously perceived as being passive or subjugated objects have become active subjects. This fundamental reassessment, first promoted by feminist and radical studies, has subsequently been followed by spatial and material turns that have brought non-human agency to the fore. In human-animal relations, despite a power imbalance, animals are not mere objects but act as agents. They shape our material world and our encounters with them influence the way we think about the world and ourselves. This book focuses on animal agency and interactions between humans and animals. It explores the reciprocity of human-animal relations and the capacity of animals to act and shape human societies. The chapters draw on examples from the Global North to explore how human life in modernity has been and is shaped by the sentience autonomy and physicality of various animals particularly in landscapes where communities and wild animals exist in close proximity It offers a timely contribution to animal studies environmental geography environmental history and social science and humanities studies of the environment more broadly Foreign Echoes: Exploring New Worlds and Shared Lives Pasquale De Marco,2025-07-17 Foreign Echoes Exploring New Worlds and Shared Lives is a poignant and inspiring narrative that delves into the transformative experiences of immigrants as they navigate the complexities of a new world Through their stories we witness the resilience of the human spirit as they confront challenges embrace opportunities and forge new identities in their adopted homeland From the moment they set foot on unfamiliar soil immigrants embark on a quest for a better life driven by dreams of opportunity and the promise of a brighter future They leave behind familiar surroundings loved ones and cultural traditions venturing into the unknown with hope in their hearts and determination in their spirits As they settle into their new surroundings immigrants face a multitude of obstacles Language barriers cultural differences and discrimination test their resolve while economic hardships threaten to derail their aspirations Yet they persevere fueled by an unwavering belief in their own abilities and the boundless possibilities that lie ahead With resilience and determination immigrants overcome adversity pursuing education embarking on new career paths and leaving an indelible mark on their adopted communities They become integral members of the social fabric contributing to the vibrancy and diversity of their new home Foreign Echoes is a celebration of the immigrant experience a testament to the strength of the human spirit Through the eyes of those who have embarked on this extraordinary journey we gain a deeper understanding of the challenges and triumphs that shape the lives of immigrants Their stories remind us that the American dream is not simply a destination but an ongoing journey one that is enriched by the contributions of those who dare to leave everything behind in search of a better life This book is a powerful reminder of the resilience and determination that immigrants bring to their new communities It is a celebration of the diversity that makes our nation strong and a call for understanding and empathy in a world that is increasingly interconnected If you like this book write a review Supported living services for mental health

Global Aging and Its Challenge to Families Vern L. Bengtson, Ariela Lowenstein, The recent explosion in population aging across the globe represents one of the most remarkable demographic changes in human history There is much concern about population aging and its consequences for nations for governments and for individuals It has often been noted that population aging will inevitably affect the economic stability of most countries and the policies of most state governments What is less obvious but equally important is that population aging will profoundly affect families Who will care for the growing numbers of tomorrow s very old members of societies Will it be state governments The aged themselves Their families The purpose of this volume is to examine consequences of global aging for families and intergenerational support and for nations as they plan for the future Four remarkable social changes during the past fifty years are highlighted

- 1 Extension of the life course A generation has been added to the average span of life over the past century
- 2 Changes in the age structures of nations Most nations today have many more elders and many fewer children than fifty years ago
- 3 Changes in family structures and relationships Some of these differences are the result of trends in family structure notably higher divorce rates and the higher incidence of childbearing to single parents
- 4 Changes in governmental responsibilities In the last decade governmental responsibility appears to have slowed or reversed as states reduce welfare expenditures How will families respond to twenty first century problems associated with population aging Will families indeed be important in the twenty first century or will kinship and the obligations across generations become increasingly irrelevant replaced by personal communities This volume goes a considerable distance to answer these critical issues for the twenty first century

Vern L Bengtson is an AARP University Chair in Gerontology and Professor of Sociology University of Southern California Ariela Lowenstein is associate professor and head Department of Aging Studies University of Haifa Israel

The Five Health Frontiers Christopher Thomas, 2022-01-20 A brilliant expos Danny Dorling Covid 19 has exposed the limits of a neoliberal public health orthodoxy But instead of imagining radical change the left is stuck in a rearguard action focused on defending the NHS from the wrecking ball of privatisation Public health expert Christopher Thomas argues that we must emerge from Covid 19 on the offensive with a bold new vision for our health and care He maps out five new frontiers for public health and imagines how we can move beyond safeguarding what we have to a radical expansion of the principles put forward by Aneurin Bevan the founder of the NHS over 70 years ago Beyond recalibrating our approach to healthcare services his blueprint includes a fundamental redesign of our economy through Public Health Net Zero a bold new universal public health service fit to address the real causes of ill health and a major recalibration in the efforts against the epidemiological reality of an era of pandemics
