Animals and their roles in the medieval society of Sicily from Byzantines to Arabs and from Arabs to Norman/Aragonese (7th-14th c. AD) Veronica Aniceti, 2022-12-30 The work presented in this book opens a new window on the history and archaeology of medieval Sicily by focusing on the development of human animal relationships from Byzantine times to the later Middle Ages This large scale study of animal bones and teeth relies on the analysis of material from old and recent excavations as well as on a comprehensive review of data available from the literature The results shed light on two major lines of investigation on Arab and Norman Aragonese Sicily the influence of different dominations on dietary practices most notably the extent to which the taboo on pork consumption spread in the island under the Arab administration and the longer term changes in animal husbandry as a consequence of the technological developments and novel approaches to landscape exploitation introduced by the Arabs
