Low City High City:

Low City, High City Edward Seidensticker, 1983 Sacred High City, Sacred Low City Steven Heine, 2012 The author argues that lived religion in Japan functions as an integral part of daily life any apparent lack of interest masks a fundamental commitment to participating regularly in diverse though diffused religious practices The book uses case studies of religious sites at two representative but contrasting Tokyo neighborhoods as a basis for reflecting on this apparently contradictory quality Low City, High City Edward Seidensticker, 1970-12-12 The Japanese City Pradyumna P. Karan, Kristin Stapleton, 2014-10-17 Japan is one of the most crowded countries on earth with three fourths of its population now living in cities Tokyo is easily the most populous city on the planet And yet though closely packed its citizens dwell together in relative peace In America inner city violence often attributed in part to overcrowding is frequently emphasized as one of the great social problems of the day What might we learn from Japan's situation that could be applied to our own as we approach the twenty first century In this collection an interdisciplinary group of international scholars seek to understand and explain the process and characteristics shaping the modern Japanese city With frequent comparisons to the American city they consider such topics as urban landscapes the quality of life in the suburbs spatial mixing of social classes in the city land use planning and control environmental pollution and images of the city in Japanese literature The only book on the subject The Japanese City surveys the important literature and highlights the current issues in urban studies The numerous photographs maps tables and graphs combined with the high quality of the contributions offer a comprehensive look at the contemporary Japanese city Contributors William Burton David L. Callies Roman Cybriwsky Kuniko Fujita Theodore J. Gilman Richard Child Hill P. P. Karan Robert Kidder Cotton Mather and Kohei Okamoto The City as Subject Jeffrey E. Hanes, 2002-05-10 After three years of advanced study in Europe at the turn of the twentieth century during which he engaged Marxism and later steeped himself in the exciting new field of social economics Seki was transformed into a progressive BOOK JACKET Remaking the Chinese City Joseph W. Esherick, 2001-10-31 In China today skyscrapers tower over ancient temples freeways deliver lines of cars and tour buses to imperial palaces cinema houses compete with old theaters featuring Peking Opera The disparity evidenced in the contemporary Chinese cityscape can be traced to the early decades of the twentieth century when government elites sought to transform cities into a new world that would be at once modern and distinctly Chinese Remaking the Chinese City aims to capture the full diversity of recent Chinese urbanism by examining the modernist transformations of China's cities in the first half of the twentieth century Collecting in one place some of the most interesting and exciting new work on Chinese urban history this volume presents thirteen essays discussing ten Chinese cities the commercial and industrial center of Shanghai the old capital Beijing the southern coastal city of Canton the interior's Chengdu the tourist city of Hangzhou the utopian New Capital built in Manchuria during the Japanese occupation the treaty port of Tianjin the Nationalists capital in Nanjing and temporary wartime capitals of Wuhan and

Chongqing Unlike past treatments of early twentieth century China which characterize the period as one of failure and decay the contributors to this volume describe an exciting world in constant and fundamental change During this time the Chinese city was remade to accommodate parks and police paved roads and public spaces Rickshaws trolleys and buses allowed the growth of new downtowns Department stores theaters newspapers and modern advertising nourished a new urban identity Sanitary regulations and traffic laws were enforced and modern media and transport permitted unprecedented freedoms Yet despite their fondness for things Western and modern early urban planners envisioned cities that would lead the Chinese nation and preserve Chinese tradition The very desire for modernity led to the construction of a visible and accessible national past and the imagining of a distinctive national future In their investigation of the national capitals of the period the essays show how cities were reshaped to represent and serve the nation To promote tourism traditions were invented and recycled for the pleasure and edification of new middle class and foreign consumers of culture Abundantly illustrated with maps and photographs Remaking the Chinese City presents the best and most current scholarship on modern Chinese cities Its thoroughness and detailed scholarship will appeal to the specialist while its clarity and scope will engage the general reader Contributors Michael Tsin on Canton Ruth Rogaski and Brett Sheehan on Tianjin David Buck on Changchun Kristin Stapleton on Chengdu Liping Wang on Hangzhou Madeleine Dong on Beijing Charles Musgrove on Nanjing Stephen MacKinnon on Wuhan Lee MacIsaac on Chongqing and Jeffrey Wasserstrom and David Strand with concluding essays

A Sense of the City Gala Maria Follaco, 2017-10-17 In A Sense of the City Gala Maria Follaco examines Nagai Kaf's 1879-1959 literary construction of urban spatialities from late Meiji through the early Showa period She argues that Kaf's urban critique was based on his awareness of the cultural sedimentation of the cityscape and of the complex relationship that it bore with the historical framework of modern Japan With the overall aim to define Kaf's position within pre-war Japanese literature Follaco touches upon key issues such as memory class difference and language ideologies draws connections between his sojourn abroad and strategies of mapping the city of Tokyo in his literature and takes into account works previously understudied including his biography of Washizu Kid and his photographs

Tokyo Evelyn Schulz, Barbara E. Thornbury, 2017-10-17 Tokyo Memory Imagination and the City is a collection of eight essays that explore Tokyo urban space from the perspective of memory in works of the imagination novels short stories poetry essays and films Written by scholars of Japanese studies based in England Germany Japan and the United States the book focuses on texts produced in Japan since the 1980s The closing years of the Showa period 1926-1989 were a watershed decade of spatial transformation in Tokyo It was also a time in Japan as elsewhere when conversations about the nature of memory historical cultural collective and individual intensified The contributors to the volume share the view that works of the imagination are constitutive elements of how cities are experienced and perceived Each of the essays responds to the growing interest in studies on Tokyo with a literary cultural orientation Reflections in a Glass Door Marvin Marcus, 2009-07-15 Much has been written about Natsume Soseki 1867-1916 one of Japan's most celebrated writers. Known primarily for his novels, he also published a large and diverse body of short personal writings (shohin) that have long lived in the shadow of his fictional works. The essays which appeared in the Asahi Shinbun between 1907 and 1915 comprise a fascinating autobiographical mosaic while capturing the spirit of the Meiji era and the birth of modern Japan. In Reflections in a Glass Door, Marvin Marcus introduces readers to a rich sampling of Soseki's shohin. The writer revisits his Tokyo childhood, recalling family friends and colleagues and musing wistfully on the transformation of his city and its old neighborhoods. He painfully recounts his two years in London where he immersed himself in literary research even as he struggled with severe depression. A chronic stomach ailment causes Soseki to reflect on his own mortality and what he saw as the spiritual afflictions of modern Japanese: rampant egocentrism and materialism. Throughout, he adopts a number of narrative voices and poses the peevish husband, the harried novelist, the convalescent, the seeker of wisdom. Marcus identifies memory and melancholy as key themes in Soseki's personal writings and highlights their relevance in his fiction. He balances Soseki's account of his Tokyo household with that of his wife Natsume Kyoko, who left a straightforward record of life with her celebrated husband. Soseki crafted a moving and convincing voice in his shohin which can now be pondered and enjoyed for their penetrating observation and honesty as well as the fresh perspective they offer on one of Japan's literary giants.

Cities of Power G•ran Therborn, 2021-10-12 Why are cities centers of power? A sociological analysis of urban politics. In this brilliant, very original survey of the politics and meanings of urban landscapes, leading sociologist G•ran Therborn offers a tour of the world's major capital cities, showing how they have been shaped by national, popular, and global forces. Their stories begin with the emergence of various kinds of nation-state, each with its own special capital city problematic. In turn, radical shifts of power have impacted on these cities' development in popular urban reforms or movements of protest and resistance, in the rise and fall of fascism and military dictatorships, and the coming and going of Communism. Therborn also analyzes global moments of urban formation: of historical globalized nationalism as well as the cities of current global image, capitalism, and their variations of skyscraping, gating, and displays of novelty. Through a global historical lens and with a thematic range extending from the mutations of modernist architecture to the contemporary return of urban revolutions, Therborn questions received assumptions about the source, manifestations, and reach of urban power, combining perspectives on politics, sociology, urban planning, architecture, and urban iconography. He argues that at a time when they seem to be moving apart, there is a strong link between the city and the nation-state, and that the current globalization of cities is largely driven by the global aspirations of politicians as well as those of national and local capital. With its unique systematic overview from Washington D.C. and revolutionary Paris to the flamboyant twenty-first century capital Astana in Kazakhstan, its wealth of urban observations from all the populated continents, and its sharp and multi-faceted analyses, Cities of Power forces us to rethink our urban future as well as our historically shaped present Isami's House Gail Lee Bernstein, 2005-10-07 There simply is no other book like this No other family history presents such a range of insights into the ways in which individuals women as well as men have had to cope with changes wrought by the social modernization of Japanese family culture James L McClain author of Japan A Modern History Isami's House is the chronicle of a remarkable family neither aristocratic nor famous whose rise and decline seem to parallel Japan's It makes absorbing reading affording a panoramic view of a rural family's rise to local prominence at the dawn of the modern Japanese nation state the expansion of its presence to Tokyo and then the empire its experience in war and defeat and finally its postwar reconfiguration as a dispersed urban family Norma Field author of In the Realm of a Dying Emperor A Portrait of Japan at Century's End
