Low Cost Gardening Garden Matters:

Why Gardens Matter Joanna Geyer-Kordesch, Donald Smith, 2020-11-25 So many gardening books tell you what to plant and where and when But how often do they tell you to just sit and enjoy them And when you do you can find yourself thinking of things in a different way With an exceptional academic career in natural history and medicine writer Joanna Geyer Kordesch found reflection consolation and healing in the soothing healing powers of gardens after suffering from a major stroke Sharing profound reflections on how gardening has helped her regenerate Why Gardens Matter is as enlightening as it is inspirational With contributions from Donald Smith this is a powerful plea for us to reflect on our gardens and to acknowledge the life affirming values of our green spaces

The Poem and the Garden in Early Modern England Deborah Solomon, 2022-12-30 This book draws attention to the pervasive artistic rivalry between Elizabethan poetry and gardens in order to illustrate the benefits of a trans media approach to the literary culture of the period In its blending of textual studies with discussions of specific historical patches of earth The Poem and the Garden demonstrates how the fashions that drove poetic invention were as likely to be influenced by a popular print convention or a particular garden experience as they were by the formal genres of the classical poets By moving beyond a strictly verbal approach in its analysis of creative imitation this volume offers new ways of appreciating the kinds of comparative and competitive methods that shaped early modern poetics Noting shared patterns both conceptual and material in these two areas not only helps explain the persistence of botanical metaphors in sixteenth century books of poetry but also offers a new perspective on the types of contrastive illusions that distinguish the Elizabethan aesthetic With its interdisciplinary approach The Poem and the Garden is of interest to all students and scholars who study early modern poetics book history and garden studies The Agricultural Economist and Horticultural Review, 1910

A Philosophy of Gardens David E. Cooper, 2006-02-02 Why do gardens matter so much and mean so much to people That is the intriguing question to which David Cooper seeks an answer in this book Given the enthusiasm for gardens in human civilization ancient and modern Eastern and Western it is surprising that the question has been so long neglected by modern philosophy Now at last there is a philosophy of gardens Not only is this a fascinating subject in its own right it also provides a reminder that the subject matter of aesthetics is broader than the fine arts that ethics is not just about moral issues but about the good life and that environmental philosophy should not focus only on wilderness to the exclusion of the humanly shaped environment David Cooper identifies garden appreciation as a special human phenomenon distinct from both from the appreciation of art and the appreciation of nature He explores the importance of various garden practices and shows how not only gardening itself but activities to which the garden especially lends itself including social and meditative activities contribute to the good life And he distinguishes the many kinds of meanings that gardens may have from representation of nature to emotional expression from historical significance to symbolization of a spiritual relationship to the world Building on the familiar observation that among human beings creations the garden is peculiarly dependent on the co operation of nature Cooper argues that the garden matters as an epiphany of an intimate co dependence between human creative activity in the world and the mystery that allows there to be a world for them at all A Philosophy of Gardens will open up this subject to students and scholars of aesthetics ethics and cultural and environmental studies and to anyone with a reflective interest in things horticultural The Mercantile navy list. 1848 [4 issues], 49 [2 issues], 50-53,57-61,64-71,80,81,92-1939 Trade Board of,1859 Vegetables and Fruits: A Guide to Heirloom Varieties and Community-Based Stewardship.
