Lotman and Cultural Studies Andreas Schonle,2007-01-01 One of the most widely read and translated theorists of the former Soviet Union Yuri Lotman was a daring and imaginative thinker A cofounder of the Tartu Moscow school of semiotics he analyzed a broad range of cultural phenomena from the opposition between Russia and the West to the symbolic construction of space from cinema to card playing from the impact of theater on painting to the impact of landscape design on poetry His insights have been particularly important in conceptualizing the creation of meaning and understanding the function of art and literature in society and they have enriched the work of such diverse figures as Paul Ricoeur Stephen Greenblatt Umberto Eco Wolfgang Iser Julia Kristeva and Frederic Jameson In this volume edited by Andreas Sch nle contributors extend Lotman s theories to a number of fields Focusing on his less frequently studied later period Lotman and

Cultural Studies engages with such ideas as the semiosphere the fluid dynamic semiotic environment out of which meaning emerges auto communication the way in which people create narratives about themselves that in turn shape their self identity change as both gradual evolution and an abrupt unpredictable explosion power law and mercy Russia and the West center and periphery As William Mills Todd observes in his afterword the contributors to this volume test Lotman s legacy in a new context Their research agendas Iranian and American politics contemporary Russian and Czech politics sexuality and the body are distant from Lotman s own but his concepts and awareness yield invariably illuminating results CD-ROMs in Print ,1998

Global Shakespeare and Social Injustice Chris Thurman,Sandra Young,2023-05-04 The chapters in this book constitute a timely response to an important moment for early modern cultural studies the academy has been called to attend to questions of social justice It requires a revision of the critical lexicon to be able to probe the relationship between Shakespeare studies and the intractable forms of social injustice that infuse cultural political and economic life This volume helps us to imagine what radical and transformative pedagogy theatre making and scholarship might look like The contributors both invoke and invert the paradigm of Global Shakespeare building on the vital contributions of this scholarly field over the past few decades but also suggesting ways in which it cannot quite accommodate the various global Shakespeares presented in these pages A focus on social justice and on the many forms of social injustice that demand our attention leads to a consideration of the North South constructions that have tended to shape Global Shakespeare conceptually in the same way the material histories of North and South have shaped global injustice as we recognise it today Such a focus invites us to consider the creative ways in which Shakespeare s imagination has been taken up by theatre makers and scholars alike and marshalled in pursuit of a more just world

Cinema as Therapy John Izod,Joanna Dovalis,2014-12-17 Loss is an inescapable reality of life and individuals need to develop a capacity to grieve in order to mature and live life to the full Yet most western movie audiences live in cultures that do not value this necessary process and filmgoers finding themselves deeply moved by a particular film are often left wondering why In Cinema as Therapy John Izod and Joanna Dovalis set out to fill a gap in work on the conjunction of grief therapy and cinema Looking at films including Million Dollar Baby The Son s Room Birth and The Tree of Life Cinema as Therapy offers an understanding of how deeply emotional life can be stirred at the movies Izod and Dovalis note that cinema is a medium which engages people in a virtual dialogue with their own and their culture s unconscious more deeply than is commonly thought By analysing the meaning of each film and the root cause of the particular losses featured the authors demonstrate how our experiences in the movie theatre create an opportunity to prepare psychologically for the inevitable losses we must all eventually face In recognising that the movie theatre shares symbolic features with both the church and the therapy room the reader sees how it becomes a sacred space where people can encounter the archetypal and ease personal suffering through laughter or tears without inhibition or fear to reach a deeper understanding of themselves Cinema as Therapy will be essential reading for therapists students and academics working in film studies and looking to engage with psychological studies in depth as well as filmgoers who want to explore their relationship with the screen The book includes a glossary of Jungian and Freudian terms which enhances the clarity of the text and the understanding of the reader
