Meaning-based Translation Mildred L. Larson,1984 Meaning Based Translation is designed for training beginning translators and organized chapter by chapter as drill material for the textbook Meaning Based Translation

Meaning-Based Translation Mildred L. Larson,1998 This textbook has been designed to emphasize the differences between languages and how this affects the translation of a text from one language into another It is based upon the principle that the translator must first know the meaning of the source text before he can translate it into the receptor language Meaning is presented as a structure which stands behind any text Meaning based rather than form based translation is the goal of the textbook

Concepts of Conversion Lars Kirkhusmo Pharo,2017-12-18 There has not been conducted much research in religious studies and linguistic anthropology analysing Protestant missionary linguistic translations Contemporary Protestant missionary linguists employ grammars dictionaries literacy campaigns and translations of the Bible in particular the New Testament in order to convert local cultures The North American institutions SIL and Wycliffe Bible Translators WBT are one of the greatest scientific evangelical missionary enterprises in the world The ultimate objective is to translate the Bible to every language The author has undertaken systematic research employing comparative linguistic methodology and field interviews for a history of ideas religions and epistemologies explication of translated SIL missionary linguistic New Testaments and its premeditated impact upon religions languages sociopolitical institutions and cultures In addition to taking into account the history of missionary linguistics in America and theological principles of SIL WBT the author has examined the intended cultural transformative effects of Bible translations upon cognitive and linguistic systems A theoretical analytic model of conversion and translation has been put forward for comparative research of religion ideology and knowledge systems professionals who wish to gain a wider and up to date understanding of translation A Handbook for African Mother-Tongue Bible Translators Isaac Boaheng,2022-03-22 A Handbook for African Mother Tongue Bible Translators examines key theoretical and practical issues to equip readers with the basic skills required to translate the Bible naturally accurately faithfully and clearly into their mother tongues Since accurate translation enhances the interpretation and application of Scripture the book will also improve the hermeneutical ability of the reader The book is divided into two parts the first part deals with theoretical issues related to Bible translation in general with the African context in focus and the second focuses on the key practical matters in translation This text will appeal to undergraduate and graduate seminary students and students of translation studies at private and public universities in Africa and beyond Bible translators and consultants will also find the text useful Translation Mildred L. Larson,1991-01-01 This book is a collection of articles which highlight the fact that good translation theory is based on information gained from practice At the same time good practice is based on carefully worked out theory The two are interdependent The authors who have contributed are persons who know the importance of both theory and practice and the tension between the two They are not only translators but also have long experience in training others The articles cover a wide variety of topics grouped in five sections The first presents four graphic descriptions of what happens when one translates The second looks at aspects of the application of theory from the backgrounds of European and Asian translation practices The third has excellent articles which apply theory to the fields of poetry opera drama and humor The fourth section provides four ways of putting theory into practice The fifth gives language specific examples and the last section deals with the application of theory and practice to teaching in an academic context For the Love of Language Kate Burridge,Tonya N. Stebbins,2015-10-16 Language is essential to human life both as a basic social necessity and also as a powerful and complex social resource For the Love of Language An Introduction to Linguistics offers a comprehensive introduction to the workings of language and the role of linguistics in investigating its fundamental design This thorough and engaging investigation into language and linguistics covers topics including strategies for learning about how language works using linguistics to address real world problems the structure and meaning of words the systems that organise language changes to language over time how language is used in written and spoken communication the links between language the mind and the world Written by authors with extensive academic experience in the field of linguistics and including examples from Australia New Zealand and around the world to engage the reader For the Love of Language is a lively yet comprehensive resource for undergraduate students in foundation linguistics

Translating Nephesh in the Psalms into Chinese Hui Er Yu,2018-08-31 This interdisciplinary study tackles the controversy of translating nephesh by using an intergenerational translation team to deepen our understanding of this term and providing a more valuable translation in Chinese especially for use in specialist Children s Bibles Traditionally nephesh is often translated in the Bible as soul but despite the limitations of this popular rendering it has led Christians in Chinese contexts to falsely understand views regarding the nature of human beings as a trichotomy Dr Hui Er Yu's study offers different options for translating nephesh using the context of where the word appears in Scripture as well as in reference to linguistic and cultural meanings in Chinese contexts The findings in this book will help to remove anthropological misunderstandings among many Chinese Christians related to nephesh as a result of historic translation decisions Dr Yu takes a unique approach to translation by using an intergenerational Bible translation team ranging from seven to fifty one years of age which not only demonstrates the importance of intergenerational ministry but also presents a way to fulfill the growing need for well translated Children's Bibles in China for thousands of young believers This book provides important lessons for the many translation projects working towards Children's Bibles but also for how translation of biblical terms can be better reached through this intergenerational process

New Horizons in Qur'anic Linguistics Hussein Abdul-Raof, 2017-08-09 New Horizons in Qur'anic Linguistics provides a panoramic insight into the Qur'anic landscape fenced by innate syntactic semantic and stylistic landmarks where context and meaning have closed ranks to impact morphological form in order to achieve variegated illocutionary forces It provides a comprehensive account of the recurrent syntactic stylistic morphological lexical cultural and phonological voids that are an iceberg looming in the horizon of Qur'anic genre It is an invaluable resource for contrastive linguistics translation studies and corpus linguistics Among the linguistic topics are syntactic structures ellipsis synonymy polysemy semantic redundancy incongruity and contrastiveness selection restriction rule componential features collocation cyclical modification foregrounding backgrounding pragmatic functions and categories of shift pragmatic distinction between verbal and nominal sentences morpho semantic features of lexical items context sensitive word and phrase order vowel points and phonetic variation The value of European theoretical linguistics to the analysis of the Qur'anic text at a macro level has been overlooked in the academic literature to date and this book addresses this research gap providing a key resource for students and scholars of linguistics and specifically working in Arabic or Qur'anic Studies

One Bible, Many Versions Dave Brunn, 2013-03-04 Dave Brunn has been an international Bible translator for many years Here he divulges the inner workings of translation practice to help us sort out the many competing claims for superiority among English Bible translations His professional assessments and conclusions will be a great help to all seeking truth in translation

Translations in Korea Wook-Dong Kim, 2019-03-28 This book explores practical and theoretical approaches to translation in Korea from the 16th century onwards examining a variety of translations done in Korea from a diachronic perspective Offering a discussion of the methodology for translating the Xiaoxue Lesser or Elementary Learning a primary textbook for Confucianism in China and other East Asian countries the book considers the problems involving Korean Bible translation in general and the Term Question in particular It examines James Scarth Gale an early Canadian Protestant missionary to Korea as one of the language's remarkable translators The book additionally compares three English versions of the Korean Declaration of Independence of 1919 arguing that the significant differences between them are due both to the translators political vision for an independent Korea as well as to their careers and Weltanschauungen The book concludes with a detailed analysis of Deborah Smith's English translation of The Vegetarian by Han Kang which won the 2016 Man Booker International Prize for Fiction

EQ-5D concepts and methods: Paul Kind, Richard Brooks, Rosalind Rabin, 2006-01-16 Science today makes progress through the imaginative harvesting of knowledge generated by the many rather than as the result of the isolated endeavours of the lone researcher Innovations in the physical sciences from the development of nuclear technologies to the laser have involved research teams working collectively Collaboration is the rule rather than the exception In the social sciences this model is all but reversed Here it is not uncommon to encounter the solitary enthusiast relishing an independence of spirit and pursuing their own private research agenda All the more surprising then that a group of researchers from several different disciplines should have come together in the late 1980s with nothing more substantial on the agenda than that they share their thoughts on the topic of measuring the value of health or more specifically on the way that the value of health might vary across different countries Few scientific enterprises can have begun as cautiously or uncertainly Few can have developed a cohesion and dynamism that lasted decades and continues to drive ahead after long years of scientific endeavour Such is the good fortune that befell those of us who came together to form what was later to be known as the Euro QoL Group The Group's creation is principally due to the shared professional association of its members with one man an economist by training and a visionary academic by inclination and temperament Alan Williams

Translating Cultures David Katan, 2014-06-03 As the 21st century gets into stride so does the call for a discipline combining culture and translation This second edition of Translating Cultures retains its original aim of putting some rigour and coherence into these fashionable words and lays the foundation for such a discipline This edition has not only been thoroughly revised but it has also been expanded In particular a new chapter has been added which focuses specifically on training translators for translational and intercultural competencies The core of the book provides a model for teaching culture to translators interpreters and other mediators It introduces the reader to current understanding about culture and aims to raise awareness of the fundamental role of culture in constructing perceiving and translating reality Culture is perceived throughout as a system for orienting experience and a basic presupposition is that the organization of experience is not reality but rather a simplified model and a distortion which varies from culture to culture Each culture acts as a frame within which external signs or reality are interpreted The approach is interdisciplinary taking ideas from contemporary translation theory anthropology Bateson s logical typing and metamessage theories Bandler and Grinder s NLP meta model theory and Hallidayan functional grammar Authentic texts and translations are offered to illustrate the various strategies that a cultural mediator can adopt in order to make the different cultural frames he or she is mediating between more explicit The Changing World Religion Map Stanley D.

Brunn,2015-02-03 This extensive work explores the changing world of religions faiths and practices It discusses a broad range of issues and phenomena that are related to religion including nature ethics secularization gender and identity Broadening the context it studies the interrelation between religion and other fields including education business economics and law The book presents a vast array of examples to illustrate the changes that have taken place and have led to a new world map of religions Beginning with an introduction of the concept of the changing world religion map the book first focuses on nature ethics and the environment It examines humankind s eternal search for the sacred and discusses the emergence of green religion as a theme that cuts across many faiths Next the book turns to the theme of the pilgrimage illustrated by many examples from all parts of the world In its discussion of the interrelation between religion and education it looks at the role of missionary movements It explains the relationship between religion business economics and law by means of a discussion of legal and moral frameworks and the financial and business issues of religious organizations The next part of the book explores the many new faces that are part of the religious landscape and culture of the Global North Europe Russia Australia and New Zealand the U S and Canada and the Global South Latin America Africa and Asia It does so by looking at specific population movements diasporas and the impact of globalization The volume next turns to secularization as both a phenomenon occurring in the Global religious North and as an emerging and distinguishing feature in the metropolitan cosmopolitan and gateway cities and regions in the Global South The final part of the book explores the changing world of religion in regards to gender and identity issues the political religious nexus and the new worlds associated with the virtual technologies and visual media Translating Picturebooks Riitta Oittinen,Anne Ketola,Melissa

Garavini,2017-10-10 Translating Picturebooks examines the role of illustration in the translation process of picturebooks and how the word image interplay inherent in the medium can have an impact both on translation practice and the reading process itself The book draws on a wide range of picturebooks published and translated in a number of languages to demonstrate the myriad ways in which information and meaning is conveyed in the translation of multimodal material and in turn the impact of these interactions on the readers experiences of these books The volume also analyzes strategies translators employ in translating picturebooks including issues surrounding culturally specific references and visual and verbal gaps and features a chapter with excerpts from translators diaries written during the process Highlighting the complex dynamics at work in the translation process of picturebooks and their implications for research on translation studies and multimodal material this book is an indispensable resource for students and researchers in translation studies multimodality and children s literature

Key Debates in the Translation of Advertising Material Beverly

Adab,Cristina Valdes,2016-04-01 Much has been written about the marketing aspects of promotional material in general and several scholars particularly in linguistics have addressed questions relating to the structure and function of advertisements focusing on images rhetorical structure semiotic functions discourse features and audio visual media amongst other aspects of the genre Not much on the other hand has been written within translation studies about the complexities involved in the transfer of an advertising message Contributors to this volume explore various interdependent aspects of the interlingual and intercultural transfer of an advertising message They emphasize features of culture specificity of multi medial semiotic interaction of values and stereotypes and most importantly they recommend strategies and approaches to assist translators Topics covered include a critique of the Western based approach to advertising in the context of the Far East different perceptions of the concept of cleanliness in advertising texts in Italy Russia and the UK the Walls Cornetto strategy of internationalization of product appeal followed by localization the role of the translator in recreating appeal in different lingua cultural contexts what constitutes Italianness in advertisements for British consumers and strategies for repackaging France as a tourist destination
