Meanings of Multiethnicity Ah-Eng Lai,1992 Government Policies and Ethnic Relations in Asia and the Pacific

Michael E. Brown,Sumit Ganguly,1997-10-20 Efforts to contend with tensions inherent in multiethnic societies case studies of India Pakistan Sri Lanka Burma Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia the Philippines China Australia New Zealand Papua New Guinea Fiji Vanuatu and the Federated States of Micronesia Ethnic conflict one of the most serious and widespread problems in the world today can undermine efforts to promote political and economic development as well as political economic and social justice It can also lead to violence and open warfare producing horrifying levels of death and destruction Although government policies on ethnic issues often have profound effects on a country the subject has been neglected by most scholars and analysts This volume analyzes different policies governments have pursued in their efforts to contend with the tensions inherent in multiethnic societies The book focuses on Asia and the Pacific the most populous and economically vibrant part of the world The heart of the book is a set of case studies of government policies in sixteen countries India Pakistan Sri Lanka Burma Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia the Philippines China Australia New Zealand Papua New Guinea Fiji Vanuatu and the Federated States of Micronesia The studies consider a wide range of political economic educational linguistic and cultural policies and how these policies have evolved over time Using a broad comparative perspective to assess the effectiveness of different governmental approaches the authors offer policy recommendations that cut across individual countries and regions Race, Ethnicity, and the State in Malaysia and Singapore Kwen Fee

Lian,2006-07-01 Because Malaysia and Singapore share a common colonial migration and political history the racial ethnic composition of the two societies are unsurprisingly similar However since 1965 state nation formation has taken separate trajectories and this has had a differential impact on the processes of racialization and ethnicization in the two countries The contributions in this volume examine how various groups namely the Chinese Malays Tamils Eurasian and Orang Asli have accommodated or resisted the dominant influence of the state in incorporating and subordinating them Students and scholars of race and ethnicity will be interested in this work as it is the first attempt to bring together the work of several writers in documenting the consequences of state policies on ethnic formation in the region and raises theoretical issues relevant to this Dance of Life Craig Lockard,1998-04-01 The rock era is over according to one pop music expert Another laments that rock music is metamorphosed into the musical wallpaper of ten thousand lifts hotel foyers shopping centers airport lounges and television advertisements that await us in the 1990s Whatever its current role and significance in Anglo American society popular music has been and remains a tremendous social and cultural force in many parts of the world This book explores the connections between popular music genres and politics in Southeast Asia with particular emphasis on Indonesia the Philippines Thailand Malaysia and Singapore Singapore in the New Millennium Derek da Cunha,2002 Grew out of a one day conference organized by the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies in August 1999 Eight papers were presented at that conference of which seven were selected revised in 2001 and now appear as chapters in this book together with three more and also reflecting on the significance of the 2001 general election Pref Dissent and Cultural

Resistance in Asia's Cities Melissa Butcher, Selvaraj Velayutham, 2009-03-23 This book documents urban experiences of dissent and emergent resistance against disjunctive global and local capital technology and labour flows that converge and intersect in some of Asia's fastest growing cities Rather than constructing occupants of the city as simply passive victims of globalisation or urbanisation it presents ways in which people are using everyday strategies embedded in cultural practice to challenge dominant socio economic and political forces impacting on urban space Taking the city as a site of contestation and a stage where social conflicts are played out the book highlights the connections between urban power and dissent the nature and impact of resistance how the spatiality and built environment of the city generates conflict and conversely how protagonists use the cityscape to stage their everyday and public dissent The contributors explore the conditions strategies and outcomes of such dissent and forms of cultural resistance and explore the following themes the impact of urban development gentrification and ghettoisation urban counter narratives and the reimagining of city spaces the role of grassroots activism and social movements cultural resistance in the creation of neighbourhoods and communities the impact of gender class and the politics of identity on forms of dissent the formation of transgressive spaces Railway Heritage and Tourism Michael V. Conlin, Geoffrey R. Bird, 2014-05-08 This is the first book of its kind to examine railway heritage in the context of tourism in a comprehensive internationally relevant manner It explores the challenges faced by developers and operators of railway heritage destinations including financial legal and managerial sustainability in the modern tourism industry These themes are exemplified by a variety of case studies of railway heritage in tourism from regions around the world including North Central and South America the Caribbean Europe and Australasia The volume will be of particular interest to scholars of cultural tourism as well as researchers and practitioners of industrial heritage tourism along with graduate and senior undergraduate students Education for Intercultural Citizenship Geof Alred, Michael

Byram, 2006-01-01 Uses country and international case studies to examine citizenship education from the perspective of interculturality Religious Diversity in Singapore Lai Ah Eng, 2008 Religious and ethno religious issues are inherent in many multiethnic and multi religious societies Singapore society is no exception It has long been multiethnic multicultural and multi religious being at the crossroads of many major and minor civilizations cultures and traditions and its religious diversity continues to develop in the current contexts of growing religiosity religious change and conflict often in the name of religion Despite this background there is lack of in depth knowledge nuanced understanding and regular dialogue about religions and the meanings of living in a multi religious world This volume covering major themes of Singapore's religious landscape religion in schools and among the young religion in the media religious involvement in social services and interfaith issues and interaction fills important gaps in the knowledge and understanding of Singapore's religious diversity and complexity A collective effort of researchers and practitioners it is a timely and useful reference for scholars decision makers leaders and practitioners as well as for concerned citizens and followers

Multicultural Challenges and Redefining Identity in East Asia Nam-Kook Kim, 2016-04-15 Globalization and increased migration have brought both new opportunities and new tensions to traditional East Asian societies Multicultural Challenges and Redefining Identity in East Asia draws together a wide range of distinguished local scholars to discuss multiculturalism and the changing nature of social identity in East Asia Regional specialists review specific events and situations in China Korea Japan Thailand Vietnam Singapore Taiwan Malaysia Indonesia and the Philippines to provide a focus on life as it is lived at the local level whilst also tracing macro discourses on the national issues affected by multiculturalism and identity The contributors look at the uneven multicultural development across these different countries and how to bridge the gap between locality and universality They examine how ethnic majorities and minorities can achieve individual rights exert civic responsibility and explain how to construct a deliberative framework to make sustainable democracy possible This book considers the emergence of a new cross national network designed to address multicultural challenges and imagines an East Asian community with shared values of individual dignity and multicultural diversity With strong empirical support it puts forward a regulative ideal by which a new paradigm for multicultural coexistence and regional cooperation can be realized

The Binding Tie Kristina Göransson, 2009-01-01 Since gaining independence in 1965 Singapore has become the most trade intensive economy in the world and the richest country in Southeast Asia This transformation has been accompanied by the emergence of a deep generational divide More complex than simple disparities of education or changes in income and consumption patterns this growing gulf encompasses language religion and social memory The Binding Tie explores how expectations and obligations between generations are being challenged reworked and reaffirmed in the face of far reaching societal change The family remains a pivotal feature of

Singaporean society and the primary unit of support The author focuses on the middle generation caught between elderly parents who grew up speaking dialect and their own children who speak English and Mandarin In analyzing the forces that bind these generations together she deploys the idea of an intergenerational contract which serves as a metaphor for customary obligations and expectations She convincingly examines the many different levels at which the contract operates within Singaporean families and offers striking examples of the meaningful ways in which intergenerational support and transactions are performed resisted and renegotiated Her rich material drawn from ethnographic fieldwork among middle class Chinese provides insights into the complex interplay of fragmenting and integrating forces The Binding Tie makes a critical contribution to the study of intergenerational relations in modern rapidly changing societies and conveys a vivid and nuanced picture of the challenges Singaporean families face in today's hypermodern world It will be of interest to researchers and students in a range of fields including anthropology sociology Asian studies demography development studies and family studies

Communitarian Politics in Asia Beng Huat Chua, 2004-07-31 With the collapse of European socialism in the late 1980s ascendancy of the liberal capitalist democracy and individual self interest became prevalent in the West In contrast many polities in Asia both by tradition and choice have explicitly adopted communitarianism as a national ideology for example Confucianism in Korea Hong Kong and Japan Islam in Malaysia and the Panca Sila in Indonesia Here communitarianism arguably informs public policies and political practices and the concept of the social in terms of responsibilities and collective welfare is preserved Communitarian Politics in Asia examines instances in southeast and east Asian countries where communitarianism is both articulated as national ideology and embedded as the ethos of social life and assesses the relative merits of a set of practices in their respective local political context The book not only augments existing international debate on liberalism and communitarianism but also provides empirical examples of communitarian political practices that will substantiate and or refute conceptual points such as redistributive justice and costs to individuals in this ongoing debate

Responding to Globalization Selvaraj Velayutham, 2007 Investigates the Singapore Government's approach to the construction of national identity This book focuses on the global national nexus the tensions between the necessity to embrace the global to ensure economic survival yet needing a committed population to support the perpetuation of the nation state and its economic success
